MS 974.31 St81

Note: The records from which these transcriptions were made are in poor condition. Some of the pages are torn, so some information is simply missing. Some of the writing is extremely faint and difficult-to-impossible to read.

All information was transcribed as written, except that punctuation is added for clarity; only proper nouns (current usage) have been capitalized. Missing information has been italicized and included in brackets when the correct information seems obvious. Information in brackets but not italicized is the transcriber's interpretation. – Robert M. Murphy, transcriber, September 2016
