FOREWORD

*Look for a lovely thing and you will find it,
It is not far—
It never will be far.*

SARA TEASDALE

Yes, that is what we, the class of 1950, shall try to do. Lovely things never have been hard to find here in our beautiful Vermont, so in order to save these for later years, we have gathered some lovely things of Nature in Vermont to put in our year-book. In this way we shall always have a collection of memories for remembrance in the future.

Nature should and does play an important part in the molding of our characters so we should never lose contact with the lovelier things of life. Maybe "Our Echo" of 1950 will help us to remember Nature's role in our lives.

SOME

The advice of Mr. Taylor and the personal concern that he has given us have helped many here at Spaulding when we were uncertain which path to take. Always interested in improvements, both athletic and academic, he has contributed much to our advancement. We are all grateful to him for what he has done to improve the character of Spaulding students.

As Mount Mansfield rises high above Vermont as a beacon, so has Mr. Mayo been a beacon to the class of '50 at Spaulding. He has shown us the way during our four years here. The road has been rough, but he has given us the support and courage to go on. Every group needs a capable leader, which he is. We appreciate his leadership.

SOME

When we study Social Studies we learn the history, geography, and economy of our country. These subjects give us a background and make us realize how great our country is. We learn how our country was first established and under what conditions. No matter where we go or what we do we'll be better citizens after studying history, geography, or problems of America.

Talking is a means of conveying a person's thoughts, but who ever thought of trying to speak Latin. Latin is a subject to translate for enjoyment and knowledge. In Spanish and French class we learn to read, write, and speak the popular language. English, our most important language, is always interesting because there is always something new to learn. Languages are becoming more important every day.

GUIDE

Many students at Spaulding are taking the commercial course in preparation for a business career after high school. Such subjects as Book-keeping, Shorthand, Typing, Transcription, Secretarial Office Practice, and Law are offered. These subjects give a good background for further training at a business school if a student continues. We are proud of the success of our graduates.

All the mathematics and science classes at Spaulding are full. General Science for freshmen, Biology for sophomores, Physics for juniors, and Chemistry for seniors are the four sciences taught. Students preparing for college are able to take Mathematics four years, from Algebra to Solid Geometry and Trigonometry. Those not planning to go to college take General Mathematics in their freshman year.

YOUR WORLD

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE GRADUATING CLASS:

For the past twelve years you have been citizens of a school society, whose objective was learning of such a nature and kind as would best fit you for the business of life or for more education.

On the day you graduate you will become members of a different society one in which the competition for jobs, positions, or advanced learning is highly competitive. However, education either formal or informal, never ceases unless you are content to remain in the small world that immediately surrounds you. Remember, your world is as big as you make it. Everyone of you can expand it for himself. Finding out new facts, and learning new truths can open doors to new opportunities.

In our own State of Vermont, many and varied educational opportunities are open to you by way of diversified schools and colleges. Science, agriculture, medicine, engineering, teaching, nursing, business, and many other professions are yours without leaving the State.

The more you learn and the more you are willing to understand, the wider grows your personal world. By working, listening, talking, reading, and studying you will find it possible to enlarge your world.

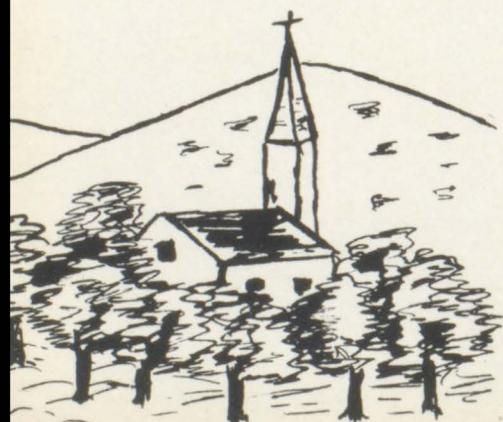

Make up your mind to do your part. Find a job or make one. A democratic society expects every person to support himself as long as he is able.

There is so much to be learned, and there are so many things to do that it is surprising how much time is wasted on things that do not matter. That is one of the lessons to be learned as early in life as possible. I believe, that the worth of knowledge is measured by its usefulness to us day by day.

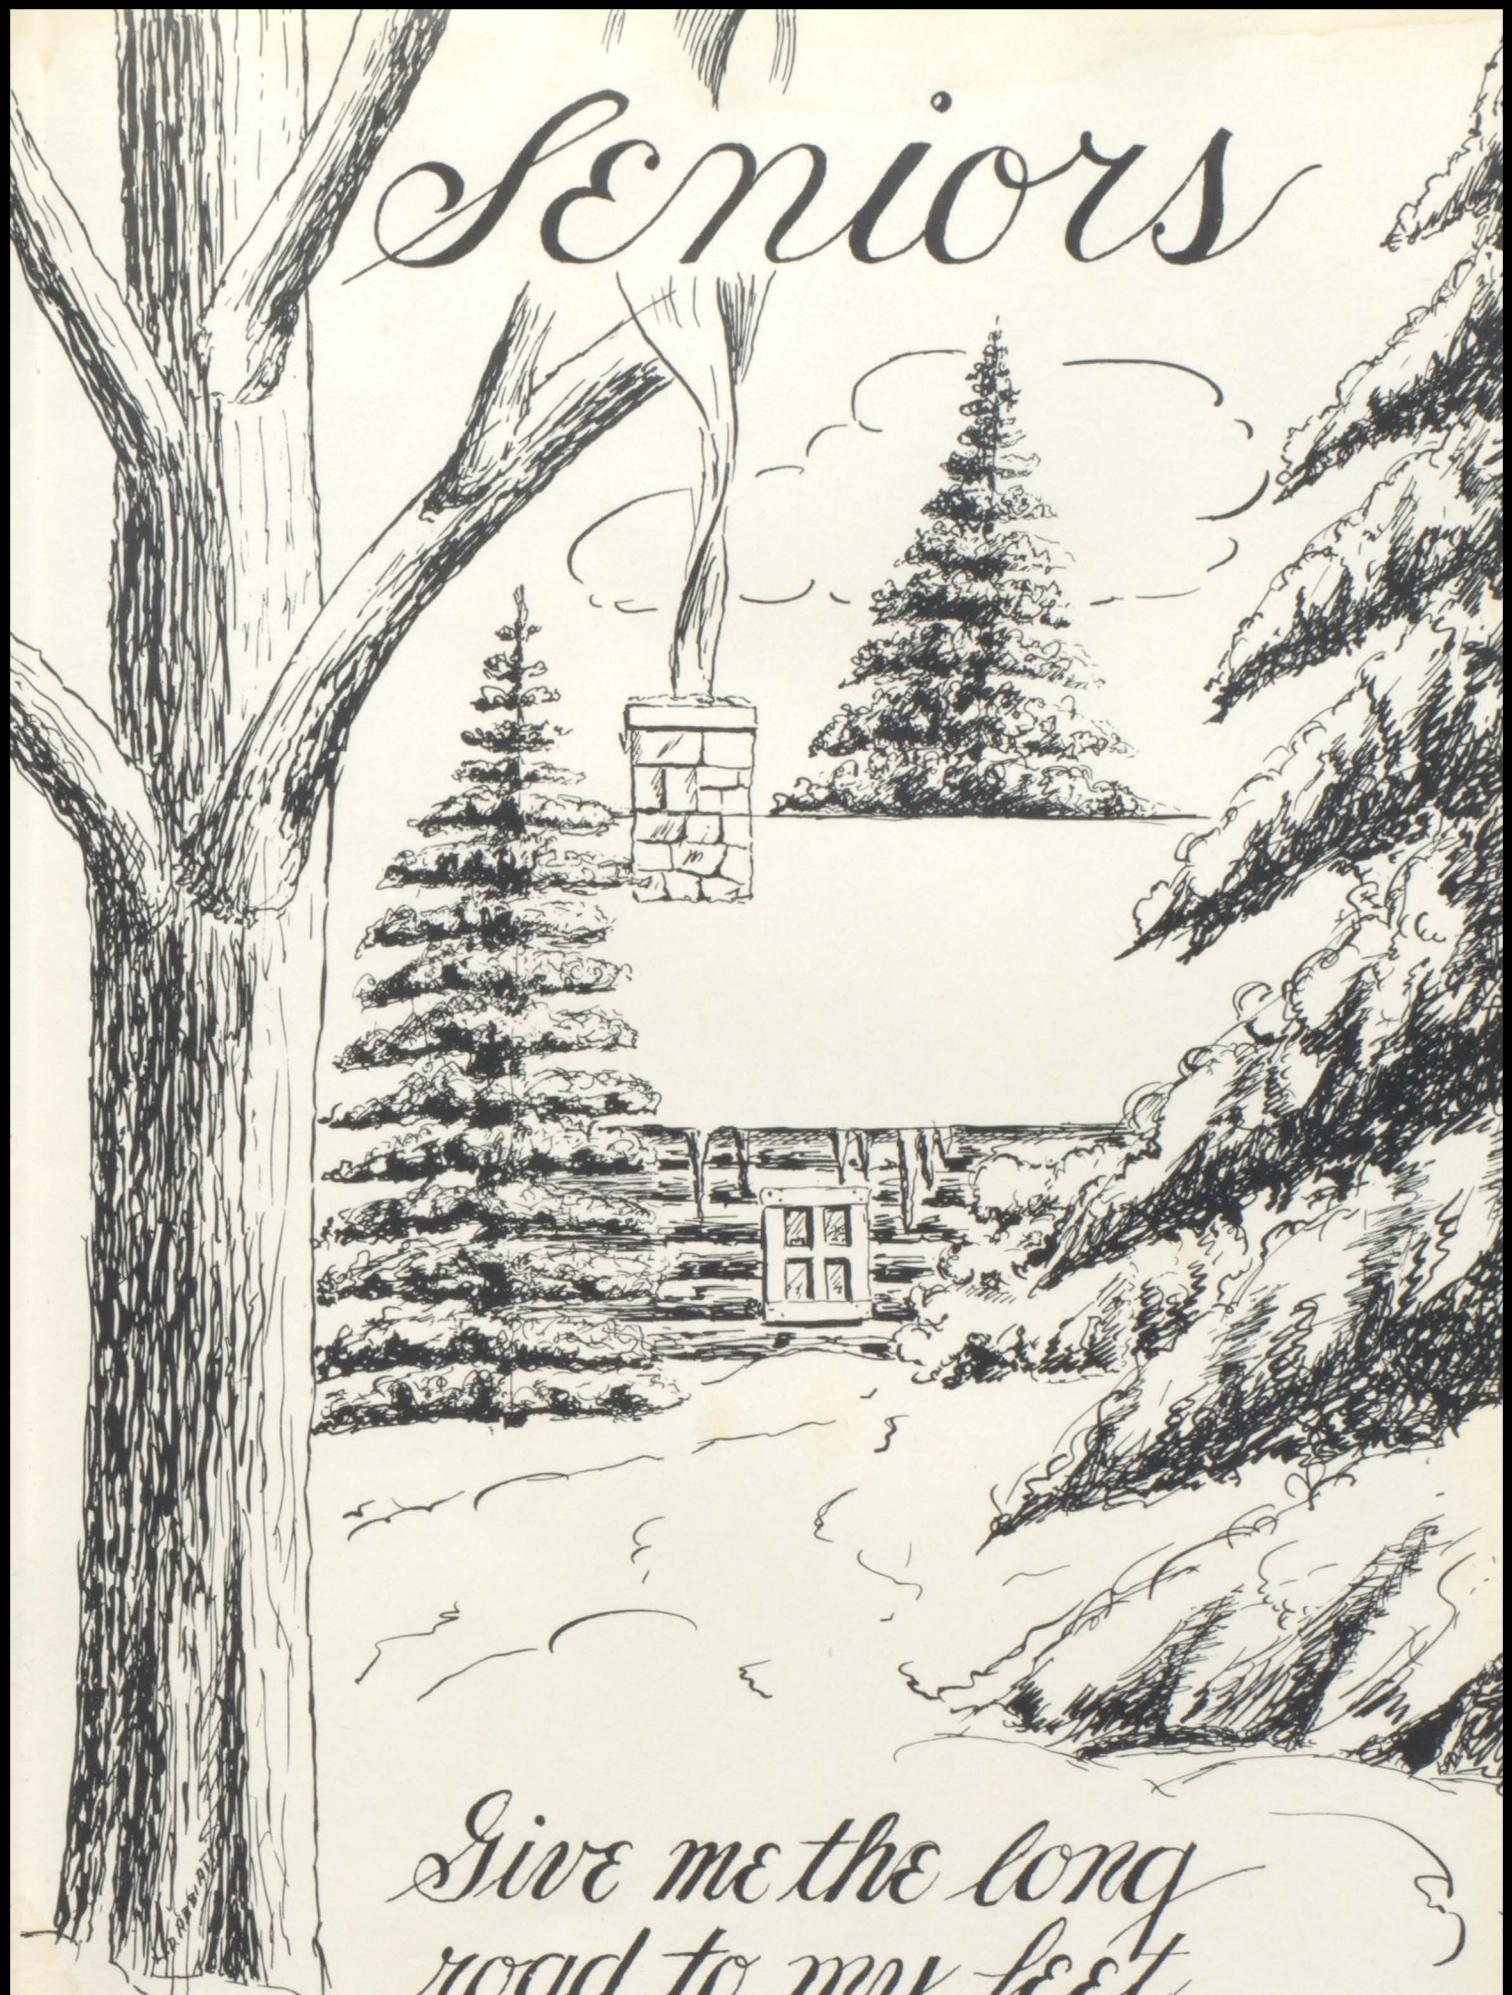

Everywhere America is opening its eyes, ears, and mind to what may be opportunities.

So open up all your facilities to learn, and make your world a better and a bigger place in which to live.

FRANK W. MAYO

Give me the long road to my feet.

Charters of the Course

Our first day of high school! It was easy to tell we were Freshies green. But, not for long, as we were soon in the swing and ably led by the following class officers: President Charles Calcagni, Vice-President Charlotte Vercoe, Treasurer Benoit Trottier, and Secretary Arlene Marcott. The highlight of the year was the Freshman reception, but we'll never forget our Tuesday Freshman Chorus. We felt so smug about missing first period classes.

How sophisticated we felt with our Freshman days behind us! Our capable class officers were: President Arlene Marcott, Vice-President Benoit Trottier, Treasurer Patricia Cella, Secretary Charles Calcagni. Choosing our class rings was an important event as was also the Sophomore Autumn dance. That was an evening to remember!

Upper classmen at last! It was our privilege to win the class play award that year. How proud we were of our play cast. And what a success our Junior Prom proved to be! Held on Friday the 13th, the dance had for a theme black cats, ladders, and anything at all the least bit superstitious. Class officers were: Catherine Dwyer, Benoit Trottier, Pauline Tomasini and Eugene Beaupre, and they certainly did a fine job.

Dignified Seniors now! What a busy year too! Planning money-raising projects, and working like beavers on our "Echo," really getting down to business with our studying, and wondering about our futures. Our Senior officers, George Tougas, Catherine Dwyer, Charles Calcagni, and Pauline Tomasini, did a super job, and the year passed all too quickly.

AND HERE'S OUR GOAL

We, the class of '50, have incorporated into our yearbook new ideas which we hope you like.

The credit for new ideas goes to Mrs. McGill, our advisor, and those members of the staff who attended the yearbook conference at Columbia University in New York.

For our theme we chose an idea which we believe is close to all Vermonters, the Vermont hills and scenery. The staff has enjoyed working out this theme.

Something radically different in the ways of earning money for our Echo were our rummage sale, the selling of school banners, and other projects. They were all grand successes, and the results were turned over to the Echo fund.

Our thanks to Mrs. McGill for managing the Echo and also to Miss O'Leary for lending a helping hand to the business staff.

We can truthfully say we have enjoyed working on our Echo.

The Sentinel has quite a reputation throughout New England. In its class it was rated first and third in 1948 and 1949, respectively. Under the careful guidance of its advisor, Luther W. Allison, the Sentinel has been winning many awards.

The first page is under the supervision of Pat Cella, news editor. It is well planned and has been regarded highly by the critics. Page two, the editorial page of the paper is under the supervision of the editor-in-chief, Gene Beaupre. Lois

Senior Class Has Successful Sale

Money, money, money—that's what the senior class was out to get and it's what they got. The seniors have been finding out this year that it takes a lot of money to produce and publish Echo and for graduation. Seeing the ends weren't going to meet, the class staged a food sale under the direction of Miss White, Miss Dix, and Miss Ayers.

Saturday morning, January 14, (incidentally, the same day as the city-wide food sale) found the interior of the Barre Gas Company smelling of freshly-baked pies, cakes, cookies, fudge and other goodies. Card tables with the food on them were set up in the room. Seniors were scurrying around at 9 o'clock, bringing the promised goods and then buying some, too.

Pauline Tomasini, Marilyn Fielder, Cathy Dwyer, Arlene Drown, and Patricia Calcagni, the girls on hand to sell the food, found out that most people shopped at around ten o'clock in the morning but then continued at a reasonable pace until 1:30. For baked goods there was mostaccioli, beans, and soup with special pint and quart car-

Student Council Has No Decision

To be or not to be—a winter carnival, that is. The Spauldingites who remember last year's mid-winter fun are wondering if the Student Council will again stage the carnival or not. Last year was the first year such an event was ever held at SHS.

Some of the activities included an inter-class basketball tourney, won by that year's seniors, a snow-sculpting contest, tied by the juniors and seniors, a ski contest with individual honors, and a crowning king and queen dance sponsored by the Sentinel. This was a vacation week and gave the added gaiety for a pleasant time.

This year we seem to be out of vacations, or they don't fall when the snow does. At any rate, the Student Council hasn't much to offer for plans for any events as yet, but they have a committee trying to work out some plans. We'd like to have another one after having such a good time last year, wouldn't you?

Seniors Present Play 'Years Ago'

The senior class play has performed its opening night! As we go to press, we don't know the results of the cast's and Mr. Yandow's hard work, but we have a pretty big hunch that things have paid off. If you didn't see the play last night, then tonight's a must.

You'll love Steve Martin and Mary McKnight as Mama and Papa. Fran Davis is their daughter, and Fran's two sidekicks, Joy Arioli "Anna" and Bev Geake "Kathryn," add a down-to-earth touch. Cathy Dwyer makes a perfect phy. ed. instructor. We mustn't forget Tom Spooner, who adds the romantic element to the play, or Charlie Calcagni, who delivers the messages. Gene Braupre rounds out the cast, and we'll have to see the play to find out who he is.

The late practice hours and hard work of the cast haven't been mentioned yet, and what would it have been without Mr. Yandow's expert direction? Barb Taylor, stage manager, Ann Boylston and Bonnie Abair...

At Boys' and Girls' States, young men and women from all over the state participated in self-government functions.

THE MUSIC IN MY

The 1949-1950 Spaulding Glee Club began the year on Monday, September 26 with a membership of about one hundred voices. The vacancies left by last year's seniors were filled by forty-three new members. At this first meeting the following officers were elected: president, Leo Peduzzi; vice-president, Catherine Dwyer; secretary, Barbara Taylor; and treasurer, Patricia Cella.

The annual Christmas concert for the students of Spaulding was presented in the form of a double assembly. In addition to the beautiful carols, the highlights of the program were the singing by the newly formed girls sextet and the presentation of one of the carols in French, Spanish, and Latin, with a humming accompaniment by the Glee Club. The student body was invited to sing the last number "Adestes Fideles," with the club.

HEART I BORE

The Spring Concert for the public was presented on March 24 in the city auditorium. It took the form of a trip to the British Isles and home again. Folk songs characteristic of each country were sung by the Glee Club. Variety was obtained by the use of vocal quartets, trios, duets, and solos, as well as instrumental selections on the clarinet and saxophone. The program closed with "One World," by O'Hara, leaving the audience with a feeling of a united world.

Eight members of the club were sent to represent Spaulding in the All-State Chorus at the Vermont Music Festival on May 4, 5, and 6. Also, our girls' sextet was heard in an audition program on the evening of May 4.

The senior members of the Glee Club were well represented in the Class Day program. They also formed a nucleus for the large senior chorus which sang two selections and the "Spaulding Hymn" at the Graduation exercises.

WE KNOW WHAT THE SCORE IS

The band, under the direction of Mr. Mori, is usually seen at many of the home games, playing their cheering novelties, marches, and many other old time favorites, to provide entertainment and help cheer the team on. Each year, the band is auditioned at the Music Festival in Burlington and is judged along with other bands. We are proud to say Spaulding band has ranked high and is considered one of the finest in the State.

The orchestra also is very outstanding and is seen at the Class Plays, Senior Play, and other school activities, where music for entertainment is needed. Each year the band and the orchestra give a concert where one may hear a variety of songs, ranging from Beethoven and Tschaiowsky to Cole Porter and Gershwin. From these two clubs, special players are chosen annually to represent Spaulding in the All-State Band and Orchestra. This is not only a great privilege for a player, but also an excellent experience. The Spaulding Band and Orchestra, along with other musical organizations, help provide Spaulding with that love for music as well as school spirit.

French Club

The French Club has been busy this year. One of the main projects is the annual dance featuring French atmosphere.

Earlier in the year a broadcast was given over WSKI by the French Glee Club in which Christmas songs were sung. Later the club members went to see an all French movie which won the Academy award in Europe.

For an assembly, the French Club is planning to present the opera "Carmen" which is quite a project.

Home Economics Club

Home Economics Club, under the leadership of President Bonnie Abaire, Vice-President Mary Melvin, Secretary Jo Rossi, and Treasurer Claire Griffin, really had a good year. The club meets on the second or third Wednesday of every month. Its business meeting always precedes the entertainment. Then comes the best of all, refreshments! Once a year the girls hold a hobby show. This year's was a grand success. Home Ec. Club reported a large membership this year.

J. C. L.

The theme this year for the J.C.L. was based on the study of the well-known and more interesting cities of the old Roman Empire. Some of these cities include Genoa, Florence, Milan, and Rome.

All meetings are held at the home of the club's advisor, Miss Stella Brooks. Latin games are often played.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club got off to a quick start as it had elected its officers last spring.

The highlight of the year was a dance held at the Auditorium in honor of the football team and the cheerleaders. A new addition was the decorations consisting of colored footballs with the football players' names painted in silver in the middle. Goal posts were at the front and the back of the hall.

The regular meetings were enlivened with square dancing, the singing of Spanish songs and refreshments.

Future Teachers Club

The Future Teachers Club provides an opportunity for those who wish to become teachers to visit a grade school or classes in Spaulding.

At each meeting, reports are given on such topics as class discipline, the question of teacher's conduct both inside and outside of school, and proper punishment for unruly students. Reports are usually followed by lively discussions or debates.

At one meeting, a college professor gave an interesting talk to the club about becoming a teacher.

Speech And Dramatics

Although the Speech and Dramatic Arts Club was short-lived, Mr. Yandow's instruction and coaching in correct speech was very educational to the members, who presented a Christmas radio play in assembly and at Woman's Club.

WE TAKE THE CENTER OF THE STAGE

"Who is Punk? Come to the Senior Play and find out." When this notice appeared early in November, at least one person (the present reviewer) misunderstood its meaning. A poor ad, to suggest that any Spaulding actor could be "punk." But modern advertising is well known for its oddities. (The fact that "Punk" was capitalized meant nothing; that was laid to the vagaries of Spaulding spelling.)

Well, who was punk in "Years Ago?" Nobody, not even Punk, the fake cat. Didn't he make an impressive entrance at one point, when he flew through the air with the greatest of ease? He was photogenic, too. See his picture, looking at the birdie.

The cast did a fine job, justifying Mr. Yandow's judgment and training. The star performer was easily Frances Davis, whose portrayal of a stage-struck teen-ager was without a flaw. (A bit of real life there?) Several people spoke of her resemblance to another famous Davis—Bette. Honestly!

Cutting "Sailing" from the script saved Mary from blushing.

We'll never forget the night the girls decided Gene's hair needed curling—bobby pins might have worked wonders.

Marion put the finishing touches on Steve.

Since "Years Ago" is based on the early struggles of its author, Ruth Gordon, it would be interesting to know how Papa Jones would react to his double in the Spaulding version. Steve Martin emoted all over the stage and no doubt would have hit the ceiling—if there had been one. He was even-tempered, all right; he raved all the time. Or was he just "firm"? There is an element of tragedy in this part, though often obscured by the violence. Opinionated and irascible as Papa is, we have a real sympathy with his hatred of poverty and his fierce independence.

Mary McKnight did well with the difficult part of the mother, Annie Jones. It was some job to keep Daughter from "looking like an actress" and to check Father's frequent eruptions. Mary never stepped out of character as anxious wife and mother.

As admiring friends of the stage-struck heroine, Beverly Geake (Kitty) and Joy Arioli (Anna) were completely credible. Their fear of Papa Jones was dated, to be sure, but their plentiful "Oh's" and "Ah's" and girlish squeals are not peculiar to any historical period. Remember Bev's breathless comment on Papa's supposed reaction to his daughter's passion for the theater? "Why, he'd KILL her!"

Poor Tom Spooner as Fred, the rejected suitor! The audience knew, long before he did, that he didn't stand a chance. Too bad, too. That coonskin coat alone should have dazzled Ruth right into matrimony. Tom himself was quite a lad, gone all collegiate.

Charlie Calcagni, as "Mr. Sparrow, Who Owned a Wagon," provided one of the surprises of the play. When he hobbled on to "fetch" Ruth's trunk, his make-up, costume, and mannerisms were such a complete disguise that recognition dawned slowly. Was this Charlie? It was, past tense. But for the few minutes he was on stage he was definitely Mr. Sparrow.

The craze for Indian clubs and so-called physical culture, a craze prevalent "years ago," was cleverly satirized by two vigorous, bustling representatives of that cult. Gene Beaupre as Mr. Bagley and Cathy Dwyer as Miss Glavin made a brief but effective appearance. Their visit impressed Papa favorably but further complicated a plot already sufficiently snarled.

Old plays always included in their stage directions a reference to "Noise without." For "Years Ago" Ron MacDonald had that part. Just before the curtain rose on the dress rehearsal, there floated from behind the scenes the voice of Mac, "Hey, how can I run the curtain, the whistle, and the lights all at the same time?" Apparently he found out, for they ran according to cue.

The high schools in the northern part of the state enter the State One-Act play contest at which they vie for first place. The winners of the sectional contests then compete for top place in the state. Then the winners in all the New England states hold another contest in a large New England city to determine the final winner.

Athletics

How many have stopped to realize how our sports bring around the weather? We certainly shouldn't think of having Jack Frost bring football on the March wind, skiing! Our Vermont is a state bountiful in sports the year round. And how they differ!

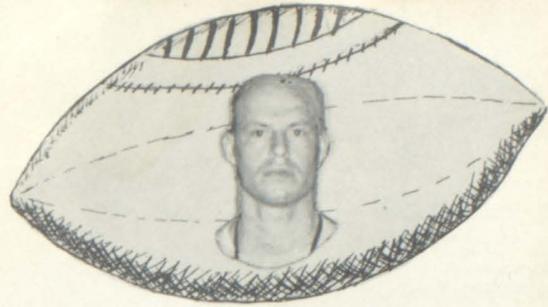

COACH DEEP COREY

As probably Spaulding's last team of the half century wouldn't be voted the greatest since 1900, it certainly wouldn't win the disdain of being the worst. The Red and Blue piled up five wins while being set back three times. Montpelier, the traditional rival, got the breaks as they held Spaulding to a tie. Spearheaded by nine seniors, the Crimson Tide retained the Northern League championship for the second year in a row. Fight and drive were the mottoes of the team of '50, and they never gave up when the going was rough. Hats off to the fightingest of fightingest!

OUR ALL AMERICAN

Out of 1,204 high school football players nominated throughout the whole country, "Tomas" was one of the 66 chosen to represent the East in an East-West All-Star Charity game played each August.

The class of '50 is proud of their stalwart football hero who has terrorized opposing backs for the last three years. We all wish him good luck on future gridirons.

Second row: M. Rouleau, L. Gregoire, G. Corey, B. Trottier, Q. Malmquist. First row: J. Cerasoli, L. Dindo, D. George, M. Sassi, T. Spooner, R. Tomasi, R. Guiduli.

At the Spanish Club dance in honor of the football team, Captain Dick Tomasi shakes hands in the reception line.

Scenes from Spaulding's annual classic with Montpelier. The Crimson show their power on defense as "down they go."

Time out for instructions as Coach Corey points out obvious mistakes during the half against Springfield. The Red and Blue were on top by three touchdowns at the time.

Crimson Takes State Title

The opening of the '49-'50 basketball season found Spaulding with plenty of material but lacking height for the most part. However, Coach Martin was not at a loss. He drilled the team on the fast break and spent many hours with them to develop their keen shooting eye. Practice brought its own reward as Spaulding rolled up win after win in the Northern League and other games.

The seniors whose play was outstanding were Bob Guiduli, Benny Trottier, and Steve Martin. Camire, Yett, and Rouleau also contributed much to the winning combination.

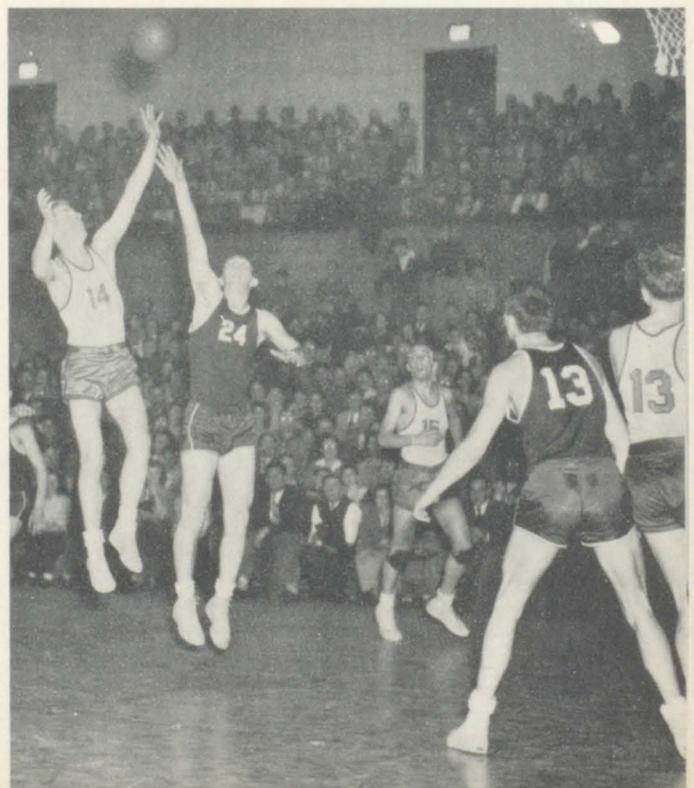

The only losses were suffered at the hands of B.F.A. and Burlington when for once the fast break did not seem to click.

With the Northern League title in the bag the team is now pointing for the State Championship.

Lefty Steve Martin tries one hand push shot as Harris Yett and Bob Camire rush in for rebound. Game was played before a jam-packed auditorium crowd against the Winooski Millers.

Harris Yett, although a junior, has added needed height to our team. Here he is showing that he really uses his height to great advantage when jumping center with John Bjorn.

Second row: Coach Martin, A. MacLam, R. Camire, H. Yett, W. Mann, R. Guiduli, R. Shuttle, L. Greg-

Trottier, B. Carcoba, G. Corey.

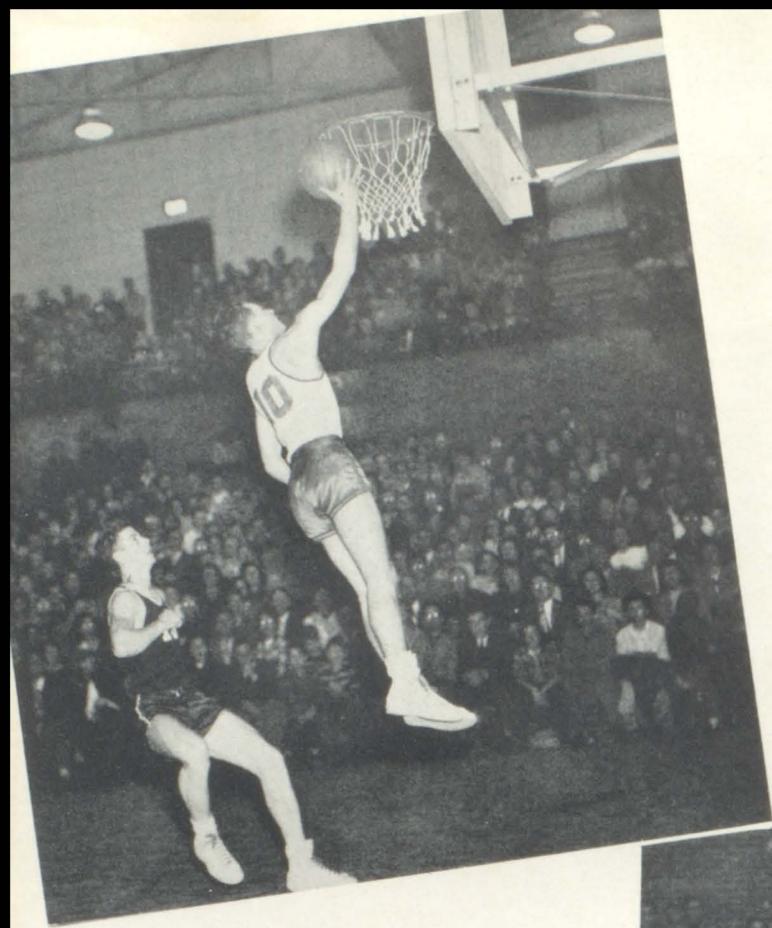

LaPointe gets excited as Trottier adds points against Montpelier.

SPAULDING

The morning after Christmas found the Spaulding team, their two coaches, and three managers on the road to Pennsylvania. They went down in private cars driven by Coach Martin, Coach Corey, and Skip Malmquist. Shippensburg was reached without any mishaps at 9:30 P.M. and they spent the night in the hotel there.

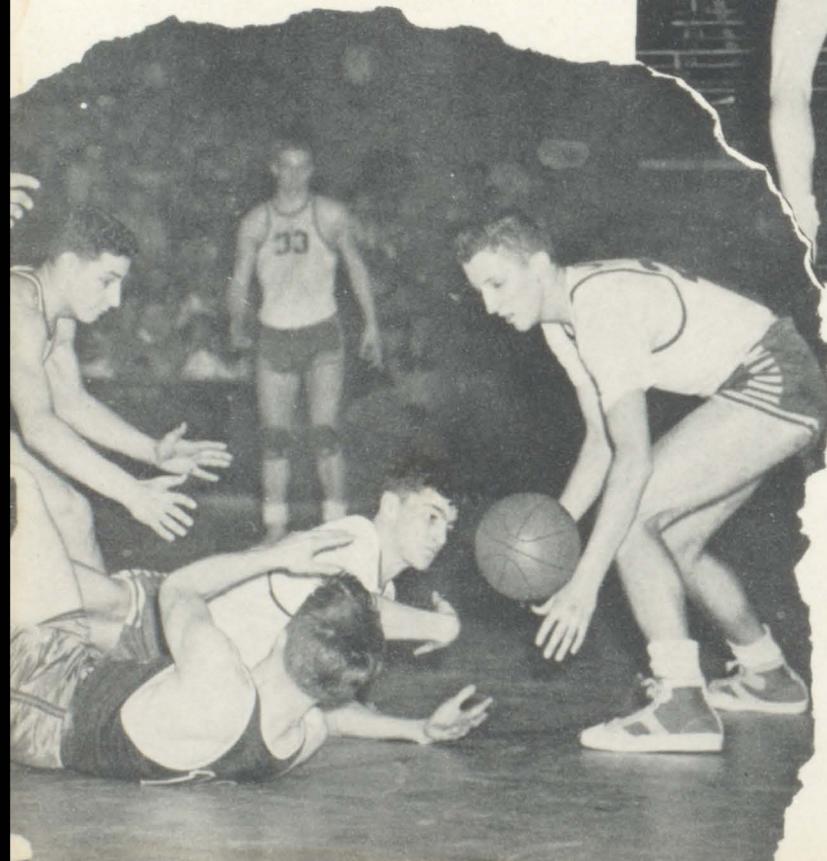

Most of Tuesday was spent resting up, except for light practice in the high gym and Marcy Rouleau, a sophomore who is holding down third place on the high scorers' list and one of our star spark plugs on defensive play, goes up for a lay-up.

Harris Yett and Steve Martin waiting under basket for rebound just in case the two points weren't made. They were made, however, and added to Spaulding's winning margin in the Cathedral game.

Steve Martin, one of our best set shot artists, is in there fighting whether we are losing or winning. Because of this we have not tasted many defeats.

INVADES PENNSYLVANIA

a tour of Shippensburg State Normal School. That night they met Carlisle and lost by a 39-30 score.

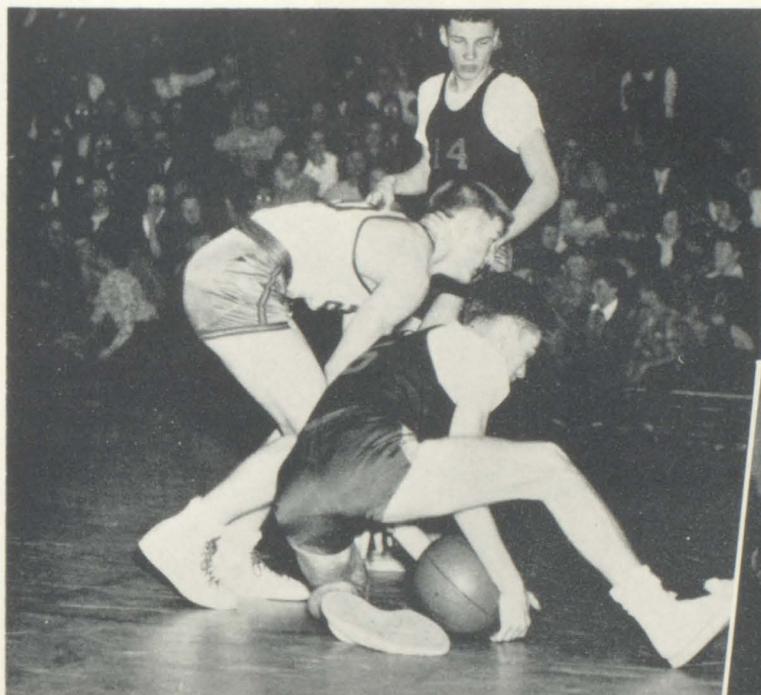

On Wednesday they were taken on a conducted tour of the most famous battlefield of the Civil War at Gettysburg. That night the team journeyed to McSherrytown, Pa., where they played Delone high school for a 60-46 victory.

Thursday was spent in touring the Hershey plant in Hershey.

Friday all did much as they pleased until Friday evening when they played Chambersburg and came out on the short end of a 47-34 score.

That being the last game, they left early Saturday morning and arrived in Barre at 8 P.M. in plenty of time to celebrate the New Year.

At left: Al MacLam, a newcomer to Spaulding in his junior year, is always in there fighting. Coming from Bradford where he played varsity ball his sophomore year, he added his ability to a much improved team this year.

Below: Bob Shuttle, because of his fast improvement was moved from junior varsity to varsity and is here showing he is capable of holding down this berth.

HOME ROOM CHAMPIONS

Led by Al McLam who displayed an array of shots, the Juniors 114B defeated a hard-fighting Sophomore quintet 104 in an overtime battle to become homeroom basketball champions. The score was 19 to 16. Up to this game the Junior team had easily defeated all opposition it had faced. But in the final game it was close all the way with neither team doing much scoring until the last quarter. Then Larry Gregoire and Jim Mooney dropped in a basket apiece to clinch the title for 114B.

The Coach Corey five is probably one of the best and most promising J.V. basketball teams that ever played for Spaulding High. The team is well-balanced and has height and speed to spare. The first string consists of Davey Deep and Bill Trueba for rebound men, Bob Shuttle and Rusty Camire for set-shot artists, and Art Solomon as play maker. This quintet is aided capably by a better than average second string. The two platoons, which are very aggressive, have lost only one of their games, which proves their ability to play basketball. This also shows that fans can expect good teams in the future.

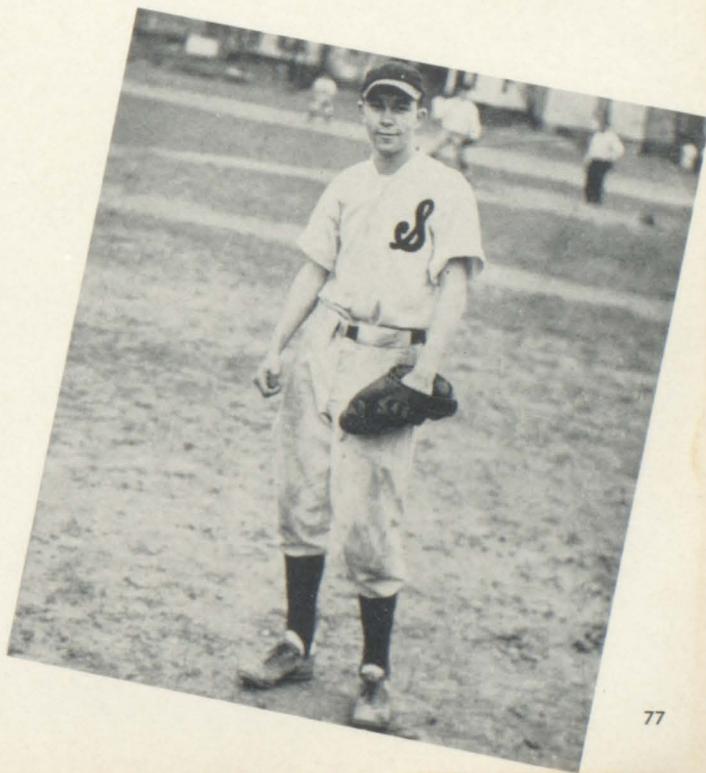

Second row: M. Maza, G. Sassi, D. Murray, Q. Malmquist, L. Gregoire, M. Rouleau, S. Levine, G. Giostra, R. Clouthier, D. Petell, H. Capagli, G. Corey, H. Yett, R. Shuttle, Coach Martin. First row: Coach Corey, E. Granai, L. Gingras, R. Stone, N. Sassi, F. Sancibrian, J. Atkins, T. Davis.

Don Murray, the Eddie Stanky of Spaulding, is a veteran varsity man and promises to be an invaluable player in the 1950 season.

Coach Bill Martin looks forward to a very successful baseball season as he has many veterans returning from last year's squad. The infield should turn out to be one of the best in the league, paced by little Don Murray, who incidentally, has been first string since his sophomore year. The outfield shapes up as follows: Larry Gregoire or Stu Levine in right, Pee Wee Capagli in center, and George Giostra and Richard Clouthier battling it out for left field. Skip Malmquist will be scheduled behind the plate. Pitching is only fair, but with experience, should come right along.

A SPORT FOR EVERY GIRL

"A girl for every sport and a sport for every girl," is the main theme of the Girls' Athletic Association. This organization was started this year for the purpose of giving every girl a chance to participate in at least one sport to her liking. The club is made up of the captains of each sport, coming together under one president, Maria Carcoba.

Girls' sports this year, more than in any other year, have expanded in all directions. New additions in girls' clubs have been the hiking club, ski teams, field days, and the beginning of soccer. Bowling, rifle, basketball, modern dance, softball, badminton, volleyball, and officiating classes, have gone on to become bigger and better than in any other year.

The new hiking club has gone on overnight hikes, supper hikes, and just plain hikes. A ski team under Miss Peggy Jones, our new Physical Education teacher, and Mr. John Rigby, got off Education teacher, and Mr. John Kigby, got off to a flying start in slalom, cross country, and even a little jumping. The field days with the Montpelier girls were exhilarating, as we competed in sports, ate a lot, and had a grand time.

Second left: J. Murphy, bowling

Second right: J. Rigby, J. Reed, bowling

Center: C. Caccivia, basketball

Center right: R. Alzaga, softball

Lower center: A Rouleau, M. Carcoba, basketball

Bottom right: J. Pasetto, volleyball

Rifle club girls are in the correct position for a bull's-eye. Marlene Dion, Marilyn Gibbs, are the girls who have the highest individual scoring.

Softball player, Ferni Gauthier, swings a mean bat as she waits for a home-run ball.

The rifle club has gone on to greater heights in shooting this year. We have had our first match, and much to our dismay, we lost to Northfield by only 61 points. The winners of last year's softball team was none other than the seniors, we, in other words. Our record was 4 won and none lost.

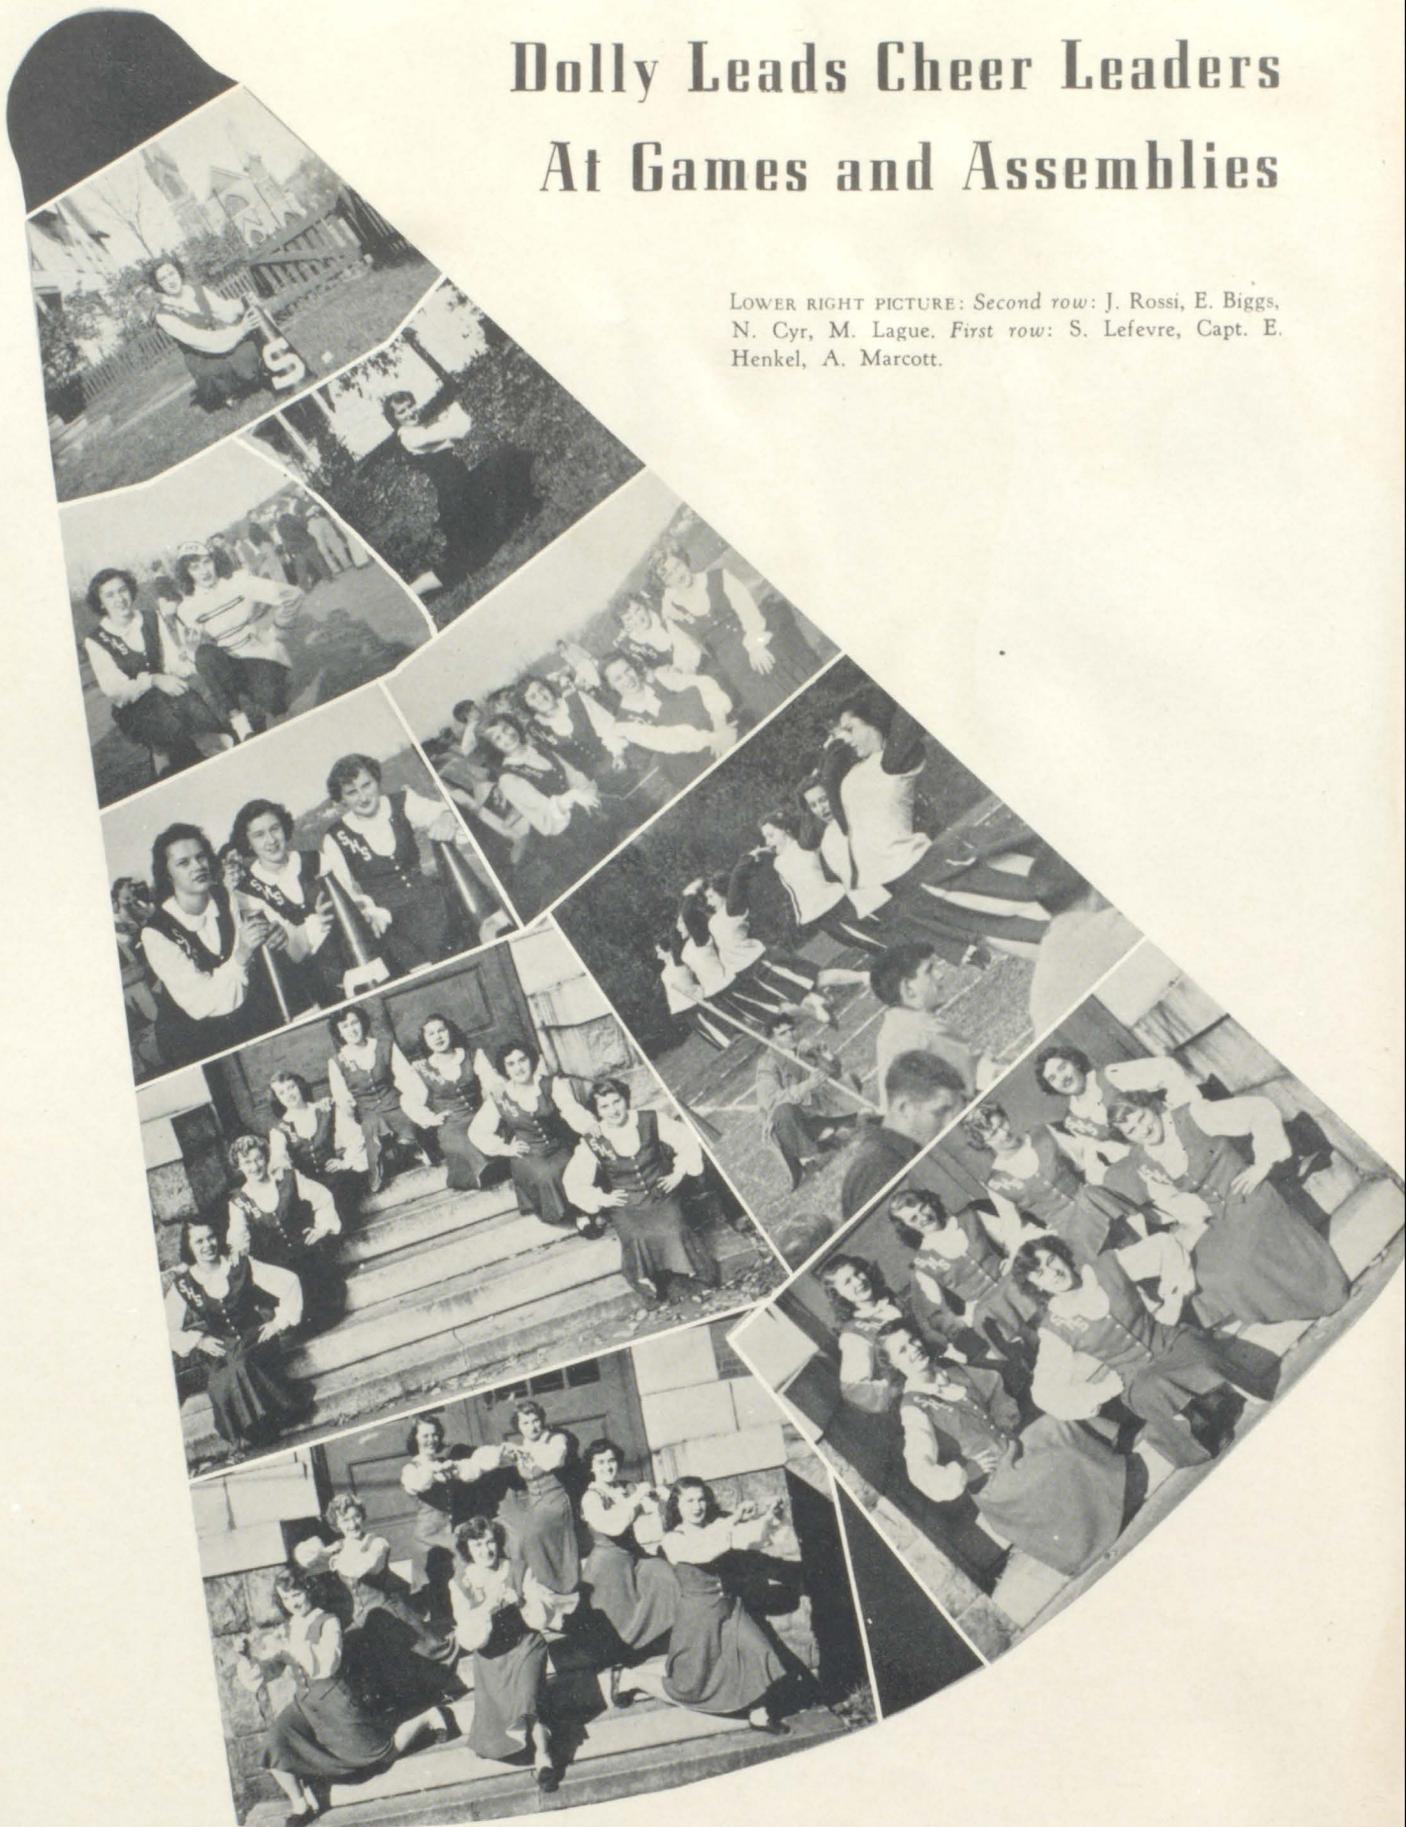

The ski team has had private lessons in skiing and attended a ski meet at Chelsea just to see how it was run off. An all-day skiing trip was held in Stowe with special instructions from a qualified instructor. We had plenty of time to enjoy skiing at its best. The team has been meeting every Friday afternoon, and has gone to South Barre to ski.

We don't know the results of the basketball tournament, but the hopes certainly do not look very bright for the seniors, as we are in last place. The juniors are again in first place and are the favored team. You may remember that they squeezed us out of the finals by a very close score last year.

Our four years have proved to us that we can have, and do have, as many, it not more sports than boys. Every girl who goes out for any sport, goes out on her own free time, and doesn't receive any points or letter to reward her. That is what the G.A.A. has been fighting for this year, and the results are rewarding.

Dolly Leads Cheer Leaders At Games and Assemblies

A roll of drums, and our high-stepping majorettes strut forward to do their stuff, whirling batons in rhythmic precision, with our band supplying background martial music. What a show! Those new uniforms sure are tops—white tunics with maroon trim, black slacks and jaunty soldier caps. We guarantee they can hold their own anywhere. Captained by M. Saliba, they include: C. Vercoe, M. O'Hagan, G. Malmquist, J. Scrizzi, A. Bigras, M. Sassone, and S. Brigham. No big game is complete until our majorettes appear to add to the color, and quicken our pulses. They certainly add that finishing touch to our football and basketball games and other special events.

Spaulding majorettes lead band to the auditorium field, prior to the Montpelier game.

MAJORETTES: Second row: G. Malmquist, M. Sassone, C. Vercoe, M. O'Hagan. First row: A. Bigras, Capt. M. Saliba, J. Scrizzi.

Catherine Vail, salutatorian of the class, comes from South Woodbury. She has taken college preparatory courses, showing a preference for languages in which she is very proficient.

Catherine's extra-curriculum activities have been many and varied, but her enjoyment of Modern Dance Club has helped her decide to study Modern Dance at either Barnard or Swarthmore.

Eugene Beaupre is valedictorian in a class of almost two hundred students. Besides carrying a heavy schedule in college preparatory training, Eugene has worked outside of school at Rogers' Boot Shop and for the Barre Times.

In addition to maintaining the highest grades in his class through four years, Eugene has been active in extra-curriculum activities. He hopes to attend Yale University.

IWO JIMA MEMORIAL . . . Beautiful . . . Inspiring
"They Counted Not Their Lives Dear Unto Themselves"

"In Reverent and Enduring Memory of All Americans Who Fought for a New World of Freedom and Peace"

One of the most beautiful and inspiring war memorials to be manufactured in Barre, in Pirie's Select Barre Granite, is the monument depicting the famous flag-raising scene on the Pacific Island of Iwo Jima. It was recently erected in Greater Johnstown, Pa., by the Marine Corps League of that community. One of the six marines portrayed in the flag-raising under shell fire was a native of Greater Johnstown, and the memorial was unveiled at a time that coincided with the recent return of his body from overseas.

Earth Is Enough

We men of Earth have here the stuff
Of Paradise — we have enough!
We need no other thing to build
The stairs into the unfulfilled —
No other ivory for the doors —
No other marble for the floors —
No other cedar for the beam
And dome of man's immortal dream.
Here on the paths of every day —
Here on the common human way
Is all the stuff the Gods would take
To build a Heaven, to mold and make
New Edens. Ours the stuff sublime
To build Eternity in Time!
