Foreword

As we look back over our Senior year, many events stand out in our minds. This book is a record of our reminiscences both for ourselves and for others who may be interested.

We remember, most important of all, our classmates with whom we have shared so many experiences. We shall never forget the games, dances, and extracurricular activities of Spaulding, but there are also more serious memories, our classroom work, practicing for concerts and plays, and finally our approaching graduation.

As we take you day by day through our last year in Spaulding, we shall try to give you a picture of our lives, both in school and in our leisure hours.

We Find One New, One

When we returned in the fall, the new superintendent of schools, Mr. Clyde B. Fussell, greeted us. Because he is ever watching, the 2100 students in six elementary schools have a well balanced course. Mr. Fussell received his A. B. and A. M. from Middlebury and his Ed. M. from U.N.H.

CLYDE G. FUSSELL, SUPERINTENDENT

One of the best definitions of common sense is given by Stowe, who says "It is the knack of seeing things as they are and doing things as they should be done." Most people who are credited with rare judgment have merely developed the gift of common sense. Practical common sense can be infinitely more valuable than a most elaborate university education. In fact every ounce of learning needs a pound of common sense to apply it.

May each member of the Class of '53 use this gift in future years.

Clyde G. Fussell

Familiar Administrator

Mr. Frank Mayo, principal of 868 students at Spaulding, received his B.S. from Massachusetts University and his M. Ed. at B.U. He has acted as a beacon, leading us through four years of high school, and we shall surely profit by his counseling and advice.

FRANK W. MAYO, PRINCIPAL
BARRE, VERMONT

Four years ago on the opening day of school I chanced to look out my office window toward the Robert Burns monument. There, coming up the walk from all directions, I saw several hundred eager young people returning for the new school year.

Many were reporting, not too confidently, I think, for the first time to become members of the freshman class. This group was you, the class of 1953. You were wondering, I am sure, just what the big, red brick building held for you and if you would survive the next four years here.

Today as you graduate, I am doing the wondering. I look into your faces as you sit on the stage above me and feel some curiosity as to how much you have improved your time and how much you have profited by your efforts.

Each class that graduates faces many of the same problems and opportunities. The road you travel is about the same, but the markers are different for each one of you.

You will have your chance to be successful in the many opportunities that can be found because this is America.

My best wishes and great hopes go with you today.

Sincerely,

Frank W. Mayo

Here at Spaulding we are given a wide variety of curricula from which to choose. These include commercial, trade industrial, college preparatory, and academic. Each student is interviewed by a competent staff of guidance counselors, headed by Mr. Frank Devine. Our counselors help us to make a wise choice of subject matter according to our abilities. Our language department offers elective courses in French, Spanish, and Latin along with a compulsory four-year English course. The commercial curriculum opens the way to a business career through courses in stenography, bookkeeping, office practice and law, and a sales and advertising course which goes along with a part-time job.

For the student interested in sciences, there are opportunities for study in general science, biology, physics, chemistry, and mathematics. These are made interesting by films and other modern methods. Physical education, a required course for the first two years, provides both recreation and exercise; the home economics electives are offered to girls interested in subjects pertaining to home-making skills. The trade school located in Spaulding teaches woodworking and mechanical drawing to boys interested in these vocations. Up on the hill is a staff ready to introduce the boys to mysteries of auto mechanics, drafting, electricity, and memorial art for three periods a day. It is easily observed that vocational training is not slighted in our school.

The Student Council Gets the Freshman off to a Good Start

Under the leadership of Robert Brault, President; Robert Watson, Vice President; Claire Dion, Recording Secretary; Norma Canales, corresponding Secretary; and Dann Sargent, Treasurer; the student council carried on a varied program of beneficial projects.

The Freshman Handbook, containing a map of the school, study guide, songs, cheers, qualifications for awards, and a wealth of other information helpful to incoming freshmen, was finally published under Council sponsorship, after we had labored four years and been faced by innumerable delays.

The Council also helped the Frosh to feel at home by sponsoring the Freshman Reception. Four delegates learned of the functions of other councils throughout the state at the State Convention of Student Councils at Hartford. In addition the Council worked on the problem of installing a pay phone and milk machine at S.H.S.

Relaxative Girls' State style.

"We are the high school girls from the Green Mountain State" was the theme song for the '52 Girl Staters. The week from June 22 to June 29 at V.J.C. was spent in studying our state government. The highlight of the week was the dance with the Boy Staters. Claire Laferriere honored us by being elected secretary of state. We, the sextet, will never forget that swell week.

Boys' and Girls' Staters Give

The American Legion, the sponsor of Green Mountain Boys State, has made it possible for high school boys to better their knowledge in governmental affairs.

Delegates from Spaulding were: 1st row: D. Campbell, sponsored by Square and Compass; D. Lawliss, Lions; L. Cummings, Rotary; P. Fisher, Knights of Columbus. 2nd row: R. Cecchini, Mutuo Soccorso; D. Sargent, Kiwanis; J. Mac Auley, Knights of Pythias; G. Karnedy, American Legion; (reclining) L. Casellini, Italian Pleasure Club. Absent from the picture were J. Black, Moose; J. Tash, Elks.

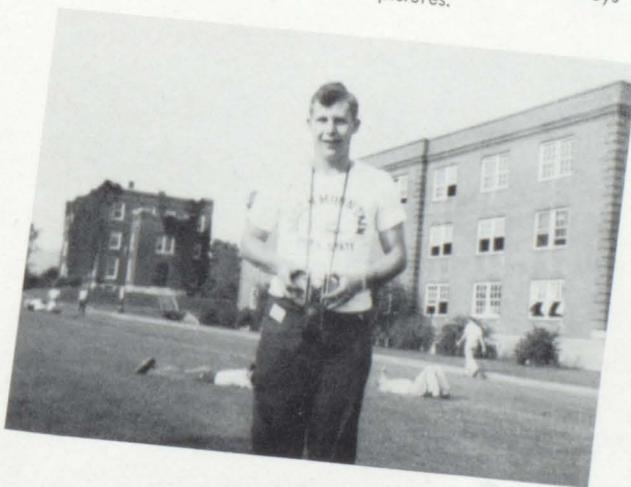

A combination of fun and a knowledge of our government was obtained by the boys who ventured to Norwich to attend Green Mountain Boys State. Although Spaulding sent a delegation of eleven boys, Dann Sargent was the only one bringing home the honor of holding a state office, secretary of the treasury. Nevertheless, every one of the delegates to Boys State took part in the governmental procedures and in all the activities.

Our Prizewinning Paper Hits the School.

The little room beside 203 is one of the busiest places in Spaulding. Any afternoon in this room, you will find writers, typists, proofreaders, circulation workers, and photographers, all working together to put out a current issue of the "Sentinel," our school newspaper.

Claire Laferriere, News Editor; Janet Pearlestein, Feature Editor; Donald La Rouche, Sports Editor; Claire Fournier, Business Manager; and the Circulation and Mailing Managers, Angela Caslani and Claire Dion, are doing a fine job this year under the direction of Mr. Luther M. Allison, their adviser. It takes a good many hours of work on the part of adviser and editors to publish this bi-weekly paper. They head a staff of about fifty hard-working boys and girls with everyone from home room agents to editorial writers pitching in, doing his share.

All their labors are rewarded, however, by the happy smiles of students enjoying the interesting reports and helpful articles in home rooms and study halls on the day the "Sentinel" is distributed.

Just thinking of all the honors, local and national, our very own newspaper has brought home to us in our years at Spaulding, makes us proud of all the hard work that everyone connected with its circulation does.

This year, for the first time, the staff has the assistance of a group of photographers who take and develop their own pictures. These boys are doing a good job, as we all can tell by looking at the many snapshots that appear in every issue.

Our fondest memories of our four years at Spaulding are recorded in the "Sentinel": Christmas Balls and Junior Proms, basketball tournaments and football victories, and never-to-be forgotten plays, concerts, and assemblies that we've all taken part in. In our "Sentinels" we have a lasting file of our happiest times in high school.

Major General E. Harmon Speaks On Armistice Day

These play pictures are a sample of the work of the SENTINEL photographers. They were taken by Tom Others who have been taking pictures are John Robichaud, Pat Yeager, in LaRoche, and Claire Laferriere. Room work has been done by these: Jack Dawson, Janet Pearlstein, and Angela Casiani.

Girls' Choir, Glee Club To Give Recitals

By Claire Laferriere

Attention! Members of "bar" server clubs and those who forget the date, December 14, 1952, will be glad to see the Spaulding High School Girls' Choir and Glee Club give their annual Christmas Fair for the benefit of the Vermont Children's Home.

Such numbers as "The Mountain" and "The Christmas Time" will be featured. When the girls sing, they will be accompanied by the orchestra.

As the girls are "shopper" and "shopper" Tash, Donald, and Tom, all members of the choir will present a few numbers.

Accompanists will be Patricia Calver, Carole Rizzi, and Kay Sabens.

Attention!! Students, parents, and friends! Save Sunday, December 14, for the Spaulding high school Christmas program at the Auditorium, beginning at 7:30 p. m. A combined chorus of over 250 voices and the high school band will present the "Christmas Story."

Jayvee Twirlers Number Eleven

Chosen to be our jayvee majorettes are eleven girls taken from the thirty who appeared at the tryouts during the week. Heading the twirlers are Elaine Howe, Lynn Atchison, and Cecile Petell.

The varsity cheerleaders hope to start cutting soon and results will be announced later. The varsity cheerleaders have helped the girls and tried to correct some of their faults. The varsity cheerleaders are divided into sections of Donald Lewis, and Thomas Marston, trombones, who also provide musical entertainment.

Bulletin—Just announced in time for this edition—Rosmary Anzalone, Mary Calcegni, Barbara Humel, Sandra Luquerre, and Norma Palmer are this year's jayvee cheerleaders. From these five girls will be chosen three who will replace the three seniors on the varsity squad at the end of this year.

Did You Vote, Mom And Dad?

By Vernon Dyke

This is a very grave yet lightly regarded question. Many people, when asked this question, would say, "Sure, I've voted in every national election since I was eligible." Too many people think voting is a freedom and do not take full advantage of their constitutional rights.

It seems that human characteristics play a great part in this question. Many people seem to think that they aren't needed in civic affairs unless our country is in grave danger. More than likely there will be a great percentage of voters this year. Why should this year be any different from 1948? Perhaps because of the grave danger we're in? If we had voted in 1948, we might not be in this danger.

Another characteristic playing a major part in the question is the tendency of people to take too much for granted that which has been handed down to us. I feel sure that if some of the men who died for us in the Revolution could see what a state we're in today, they would feel that they have wasted their lives for irresponsible people who don't realize what a heritage they have.

Freedom is the birthright of the American citizen but if we do not strive to protect and uphold it, it might be taken away. Taking an active interest in government and the type of men who hold office is one way of insuring freedom for future generations.

About Six Full Days Of Rehearsals Spent Producing Senior Class Play

Now that the senior class play, "Love Rides the Rails," is in the past, the cast and all those involved have given sighs of relief.

Unknown to the audience were many more who helped make the play a success. There were costumes to be located, many of which took much searching in attics and antique shops, and props to be built and painted. All this took many people whom the audience were not aware of except for

CAST, back-stage crew, make-up girls, costume workers, director, stage manager and assistants, singers, dancers, skit doers, and what have you, are all assembled here after their first two productions of "Love Rides the Rails," Thursday night, November 13, acclaimed in the Barre Daily Times as a play that "seems to be a new high in home talent plays in Barre for some time to come."

The SENTINEL daily appreciates the loan of the press camera from Mr. G. Milne making pictures like these possible. Even though handicapped by inadequate darkroom facilities, the photographic staff have come a long way in three months.

Believe New Record Set In Profits On Senior Play

What is believed to be a new record, or at least one of the peaks in the records, was set by the class of '53 again.

Besides reaching an all-time high in the profits of their Junior Prom, this year's seniors have come close to a new peak in the profits of their Senior Play. To date, $503.11 is the gross figure!

Thursday night's tickets were sold out with the exception of seven reserved seats and a few rush. Friday's performance left only three reserved seats empty and a small number of rush seats.

Nine Seniors Get the Tide

This year we had material for one of the greatest teams ever to come out of Spaulding, but because of severe injuries to five starting players the Crimson Tide was reduced in superiority.

The squad had nine seniors to start, but injuries to Bobby Brault and Paul Machia, two great halfbacks, along with a severe knee injury to Jon Riley cut the seniors to six. Winston Bashaw was one of the better linemen and was a fullback for the first three games. He and Wayne Mugford ably filled the tackles slot. At one guard was Charlie Thygesen a good man on defense. Bill Fraser was one of the better reserve guards. George Corey was a quarterback, switched to halfback after the injuries to the other halfbacks. Jiggs Cecchini, the last senior, was a first string guard who switched to fullback for the last five games.

Others injured were Bob Tomasi, a tackle, and Floreal Lavin, a back.

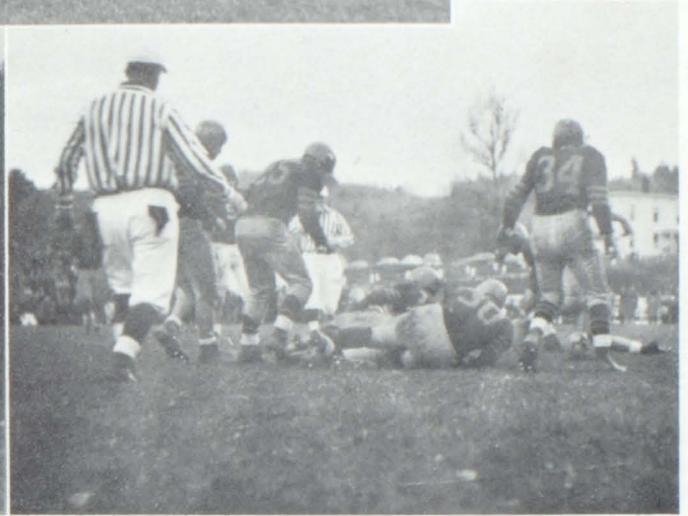

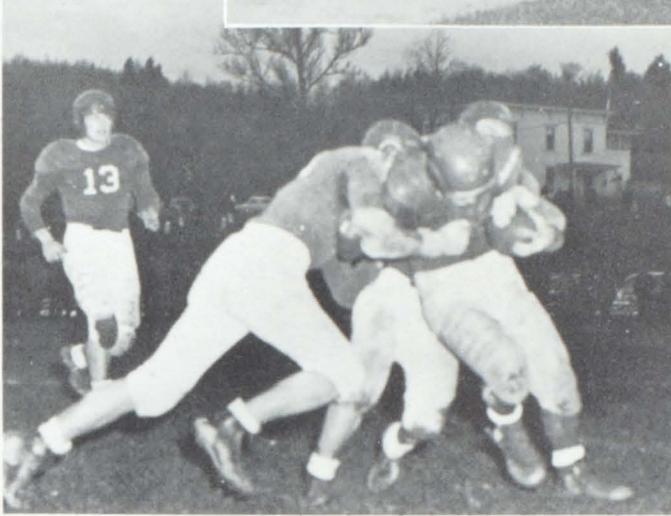

Butch Ford and Rolly Batcheldor alternated at the center position. Bob Waugh was the other starting end. Francis Tash did all the kicking.

Frank Corey and Gardner Corey also were capable starting backs.

Although we tried desperately, we finished winning three, losing four, and tying one.

Frank Corey picks up a first down against Montpelier.

Home Ec. Club

With Gisele Rouleau as president, the Home Ec. Club had a very successful year. At Christmas time we sold Christmas cards, and we ended the year with a big banquet. Each meeting was made up of business, a program, and refreshments made by the girls.

French Club

The French Club's goal this year was a trip to Quebec, and under the leadership of Claire Laferriere as president, we presented a successful dance and the French Follies to raise money. We all worked hard and long, but our exciting trip was worth the struggle.

We Visit Our Favorite Haunts

Where would you look for the gang on Wednesday, Friday, or Saturday nights? Why, at the "Lighthouse," of course!

We were fortunate in having a teen-age club started during our freshman year by civic-minded members of the student body who could see that there should be a place where we could meet our friends, talk over the latest social affairs, and have an evening snack. With the aid of parents and friends, such a club was soon formed, with a large membership.

It now plays a large part in the life of most Spauldingites, and all of us will long remember the grand evenings we've spent at our own Lighthouse.

of Which the Lighthouse Ranks at the Top.

Faith Linsley, ex-Spaulling

Well, well, I never expected to see on the Spaulding stage "The Perils of Pauline," that hoary old serial in which each Saturday the heroine is about to drop off a cliff and hangs there until the next week "same place, same time." With only minor variations that was the plot of the senior play presented in the high school auditorium on November 13 and 14. Given the Widowed Mother, Beauteous Daughter, Stalwart Hero, Dastardly Villain, Mortgaged Home, and Assorted Extras, the reader can make up the plot for himself. So let's have a few random notes from One-on-the-Aisle.

The Symbolic scenery was very effective, especially the local Toonerville Trolley (otherwise the Barre — Montpelier — Graniteville). The delayed action of the train whistle, the repairs on the engine, and the rock (definitely the ROCK — Did somebody run up into the pasture for it?) was a bit of funny business much appreciated by the audience. Even Prudence's parasol missed its cue — or did it? The "villain music" (performed by Carole Rizzi) was an excellent running accompaniment, the stylized duels were pure farce, and the mustachios were fearful and wonderful adornments for teen-age faces. (Did your mother know you, Howard? Or did she want to know you?) If an occasional part was overacted, small wonder and small blame in this unfamiliar melodramatic hodgepodge. The surprise lay in the fact that most of the acting showed the proper restraint, a result which can no doubt be attributed to skillful direction by Spaulding's new dramatic coach Mr. Robert Pierce.

Our cast breathes a sigh of relief after giving a wonderful performance.

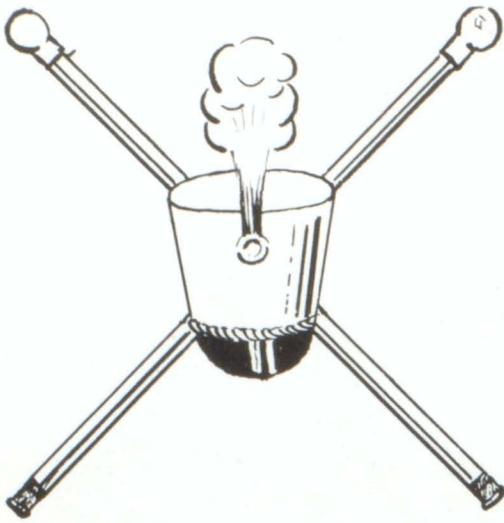

We Produce an Old-Fashioned "Mellerdrama."

Among the principal actors, Prudence Hopewell, the heroine, (Mary Lou Politi) should be highly commended; not once did she lose her poise or the audience, a truly remarkable feat of dead-pan for the effervescent Mary Lou. Mother Claire Laferriere and her rocking chair made a charming picture. Saucy Sandra Smith, as Fifi, twitched attractively through her part. George Karnedy, the noble hero, handled well a difficult role. Gail Aldrich and Ruth Anton, as two women "no better than they should be," were horrible but adequate examples of the old-fashioned Siren. And Ha! Ha! Yaeger!! For a dashing villain Pat is on the small side, but he blew in and out with such an outside snarl that the audience often forgot his normal dashing appearance in the Spaulding corridors.

Skits between the acts were suitably reminiscent of the old Ten-Twent'-Thirt' shows. However, some numbers were less suggestive of the South than of the East (East Barre). Isn't that right, Mister Richard Lafreniere?

Mary Lou is taking a hint from Mr. Pierce in acting on a particular scene.

Final Northern League Tournament Birth

Perfectly summing up the 1952-1953 hoop season, a fan remarked, after the heartbreaking tournament defeat to Burlington, "We came one game and a couple of lucky tap-ins away from the State Championship. Not bad for a team that wasn't supposed to win a league game."

At the season's outset we had only three substitutes returning from last year's squad. But with a lot of hard work and hustle, the first team of four Bobs and a Pete settled down to trounce Springfield and Rutland, avenge an early defeat at the hands of Berlin N.H., win six out of our first seven league games, and defeat the highly-vaunted Burlington Seahorses.

In the Northern Tournament we defeated a fast-breaking Hartford club at their own game by a margin of 66-53. In the final, after overcoming an early deficit, we led all the game until, with three minutes left to play, Burlington went ahead to win 41-36 by virtue of their superior height and a few lucky breaks.

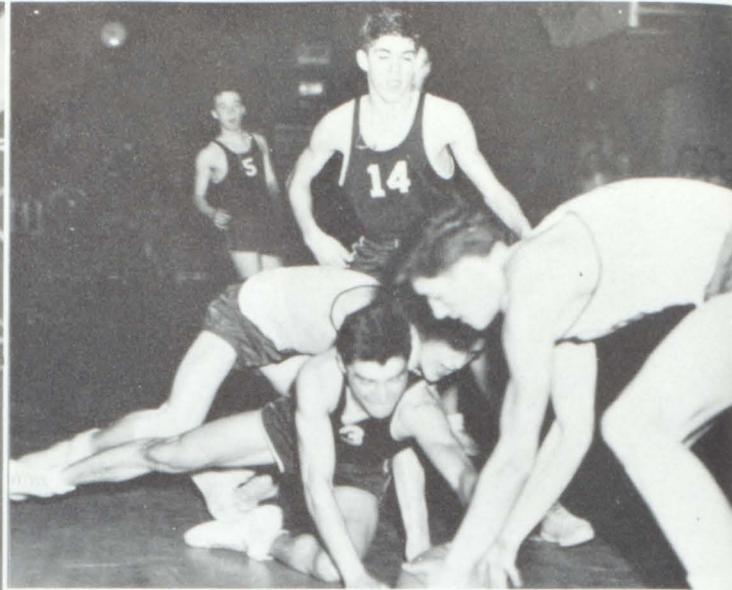

We finished the season with a 14-7 record. Pete Fisher and Bob Blow were All-Tourney choices, and Butch Ford was selected on the All-Northern quintet. Co-captains Bob Brault and Pete Fisher shared scoring honors in the Burlington game, a fitting climax to four years of hard work. Pride ran high at Spaulding in the magnificent performance of the Tide and in the great job handed down by Coach Wescott, certainly in our book, Coach of the Year.

Coach Richard Wescott, in his sophomore year at Spaulding, deserves a world of praise for moulding this year's green material into one of the smoothest quintets in the state.

Pete Fisher (14) hits for two against Cathedral as Butch Ford (11) gets set for the rebound.

Our Glee Club practices to perfect the program for the Christmas Concert.

The Glee Club met in September under the direction of Mr. Colin Gray. The officers elected were George Corey president, Frank Demell vice-president, and Edith Wheeler secretary.

On December 14 we presented an impressive Christmas program to the public, and on December 19 the same program was given at our Christmas assembly.

Mr. Gray resigned during vacation and moved to Burlington. We shall always appreciate what he did for the music groups here at Spaulding.

Lyric Lads and Melody Maidens

Our Girls' Choir presented a concert to the combined service clubs and added their feminine voices to our Glee Club Concert.

Over two hundred voices harmonize for our Spring Concert.

In January we started work on music for the Spring Concert, which was presented on April 9.

The Girls' Choir met and elected Nira Anderson president, Sandra Simpson vice-president and Claire Dion secretary.

Thirty-seven seniors were selected to go to the Winooski Valley Festival.

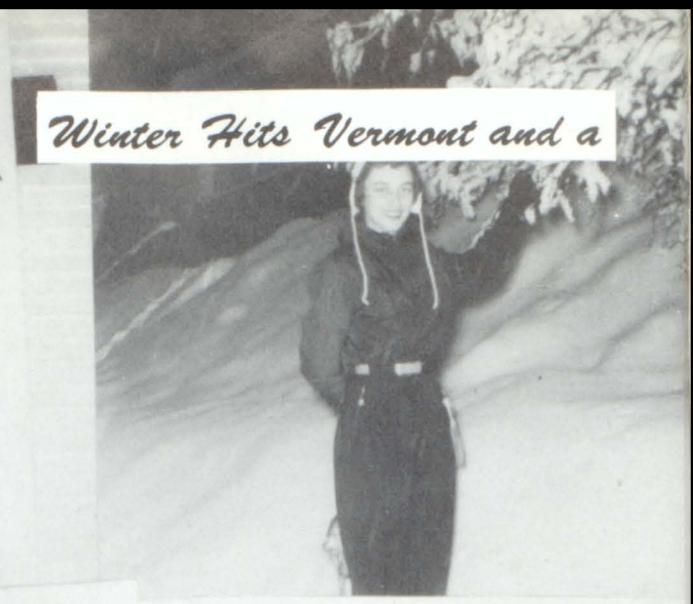

The Choral groups ended a successful year under the leadership of Mr. Mori.

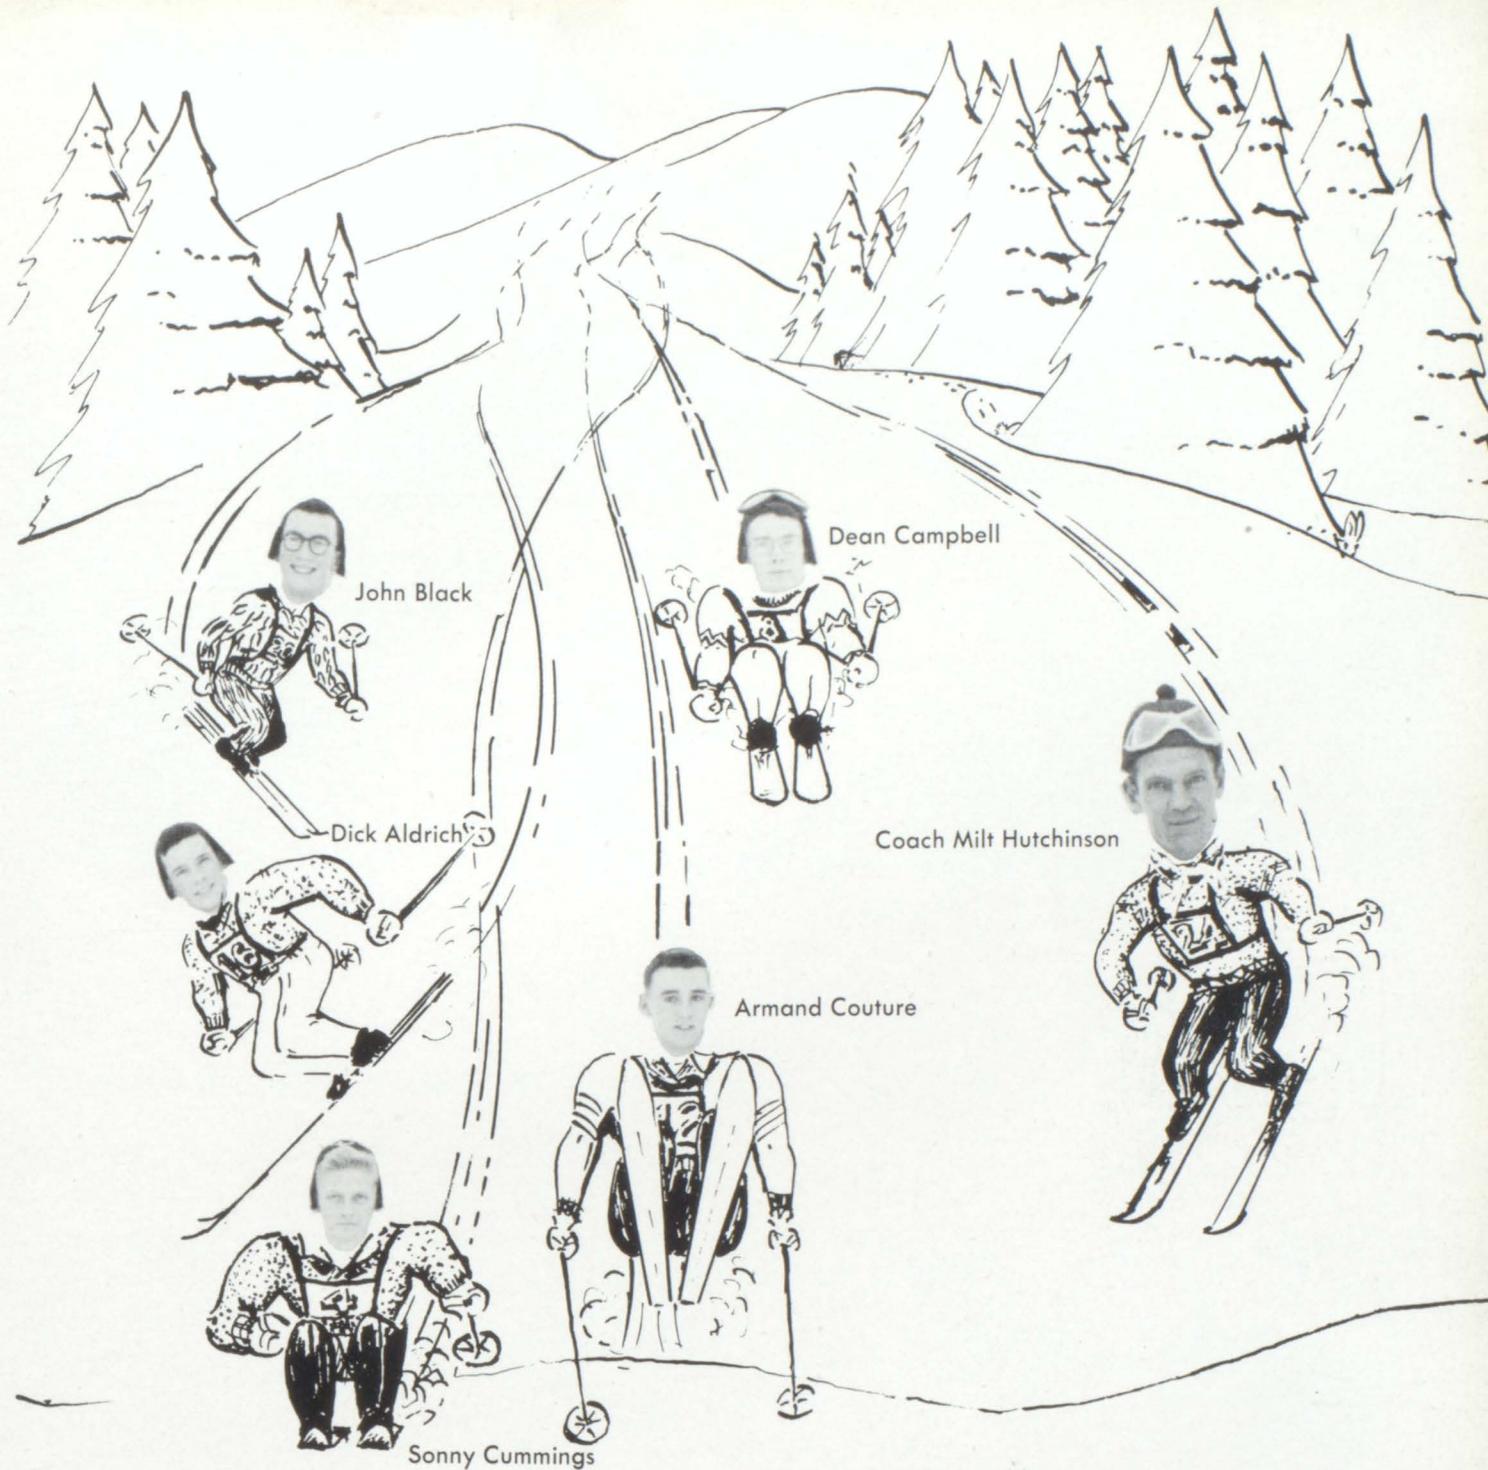

Present Their Spring Concert.

Winter Hits Vermont and a

Senior Laden Ski Team Enters its First Meet

The cold, white stuff that turns our beloved Green Mountains into a winter wonderland was, by no means, wasted this year. Our ski team had one of the most successful seasons in years. Not once did we fail to place, and in all the meets, we were the team to beat. Seniors Dean Campbell, Dick Aldrich, John Black, Sonny Cummings, and Armand Couture made up the backbone of a nine man squad. Juniors Andy Eastman and Roger Rivard, Sophomore Ricky Putnam, and Freshman Bob Sanguinetti completed the roster coached by Gus Pepin.

After almost every meet, Mr. Mayo was presented with a new trophy to add to our vast collection.

Besides just competitive skiing, we undertook an extremely worthwhile project. We helped organize and operate the new Granite City Ski Bowl. The new area has a good tow and jump and offers a good place to practice and hold ski meets.

The accidental death of Coach Milt Hutchinson during practice at the Ski Bowl robbed skiing of an ardent supporter. He helped originate the Ski Bowl and did a great coaching job.

Our version of the New York Philharmonic assembles for a dress rehearsal.

The Band and Orchestra Present

Our maestro rehearses the orchestra.

The orchestra put in many long hours of rehearsals this year, but it paid off in pleasing results. Our first program was presented at the Senior play. Next came the concert at Christmas. At that time we joined with the band to perform the "Christmas Story." After playing at the class plays, we settled down to work on the Vermont Music Festival, the Winooski Valley Festival, and our spring concert. At this, we entertained the public with "The Blue Tango" and "You'll Never Walk Alone." Our officers were Renald Lafaille president, Marlene Nelson vice-president, and Charlotte Philbrook secretary.

The Spaulding Band started the year with a trip to Rutland where we played at the football game. Afterwards we went out to eat. Of course, the biggest thrill was our annual trip to Burlington for the Music Festival. We loved every minute of it even though we did have sore feet at the end of the two-mile parade. The spring concert was a huge success with the band playing everything from "Three Little Pigs" to the finale of "God of Our Fathers." Our officers this year were Donald Lawliss president, Dean Campbell vice-president, and Charlotte Philbrook secretary.

C. Thygesen, L. Casellini, and P. Fisher discuss coming season during indoor workout.

Coach Richard T. Wescott starts his second season as coach of Tide nine.

Lefty Pete Fisher loosens up in Spring workout.

Again Highlighted at S H S.

Our national pastime holds an important place among springtime activities here at S.H.S. The 1952 version of the Tide compiled an enviable record, slugging its way into the play-offs only to lose to B.F.A. of St. Albans in the Northern League finals. We did, however, beat the champion B.F.A. nine two times during the regular season.

Pete Fisher and Rusty Camire with Bill Mann in relief handled the bulk of the pitching. In the hitting department, Joe Wark, Don Murray, Art Solomon, and Ronnie Thow paced the rest of the team. Bob Shuttle, Marcy Rouleau, and Marcy Laflamme played flawless defensive ball.

The May 9 game with Cathedral displayed vividly the Crimson power as we vanquished the Little Indians 15 to 1 behind a thirteen hit attack. Montpelier was twice swamped by the Tide; once by a 10 to 2 score.

Pete Fisher's five hit performance against B.F.A. was the best pitching show of the season.

The final tally was eight wins and five losses.

In 1953, we have nine seniors returning. Four-year veteran Pete Fisher and fellow-southpaw Ken Mason will form the backbone of the pitching staff. Don Murray, our most experienced outfielder, will lead the hitting parade. Not far behind will come Bob Brault, Charlie Thygesen, Marcy Laflamme, and Winnie Bashaw, George Corey, and Larry Casellini. Speed is the important factor this year.

We'll be fighting for that tournament berth and should get it. We're out to avenge last year's loss.

Our Life in These Hallowed Halls is Drawing to a Close

And Soon We Shall Leave Many Friendships Behind.

2nd row: V. Copping, E. Lawson, C. Quinlan, D. Flint, S. Canales, P. Burns, C. Wilson, J. Pearlstein. 1st row: J. Gray, J. Cerasoli, Miss Watson, S. Campbell, W. Hill.

Monitors Turn Over Jobs to Juniors While

To students having an interest in teaching, our Future Teachers of America Club gives a better understanding of the teaching profession. In 1947, our club was organized by Miss Linsley and last year was named The Faith Linsley Club in her honor. This year seniors have visited elementary schools to observe the teaching methods used there.

3rd row: E. McTaggart, J. Leach, L. Montague, A. Buttura. 2nd row: N. Atherton, C. Penrod, Miss MacDonald, A. Lonergan. 1st row: M. Cozzi, E. Wheeler.

Our Future Nurses of America Club was organized in 1951 by Mr. Devine. It is to help us girls, who are interested in nursing, to decide if we really want to follow this profession. All our meetings are held once a month at the Barre City Hospital under the capable supervision of Miss Doris MacDonald, R.N.

2nd row: G. Cory, F. Demell, H. Geake, D. Lawliss, D. Campbell. 1st row: E. Wheeler, P. Friberg, C. Dion, C. Lunde, S. Simpson, N. Anderson.

Music Council, F N A, F T A, Wind up Year's Work.

The Music Council is made up of officers of each music organization. As it is new, it hasn't taken much responsibility yet, but we have high hopes for it in the future.

Twenty-five members of the Monitors' defensive squad swear that they are in the roughest indoor sport ever invented. Any resemblance to actual football is darn foolish. They wear no pads and no All-State teams are picked. One of the deadliest attacks is that of a freshman whose object is to get past a Monitor on the wrong side without getting caught; while the Gang War type, about opponents line up around 117 and come with a combination single wing and split T. But, Mr. Mayo, put down that pink slip; we love it!

Let's reminisce about our four wonderful years at Spaulding. They were fun-packed years, full of friendships, excitement and exams. We will never forget our experiences and we hope to retell them with pride to the next generation.

This year Spaulding was a new experience for us. The building was a maze of confusing corridors filled with superior beings (upperclassmen). In spite of all our fears, the whole school warmly welcomed us at a highly successful Freshman Reception.

Our class officers were chosen soon after. Dann Sargent was our head officer with Pete Fisher as his vice-president; Pat Friberg was our secretary, and Jiggs Cecchini our treasurer. They proved to be a good combination and led our class well. The Lighthouse opened this year for the first time. Many of us had active parts in getting it ready.

We Commence Our High

Pete Fisher, Pat Friberg, Bob Cecchini, and Dann Sargent were the officers that helped start us on our high school career.

The varsity cheerleaders chose five J.V. cheerleaders from our Freshman girls. The honor fell to Judy McLeod, Elaine Henkel, Carole Ann Lunde, Elisa Canizo, and Marcelle Desmarais, all of whom performed well in their new positions.

At the Sentinel dance, Pauline Tomasini and Benny Trottier were voted the most popular in their class and were crowned King and Queen.

School Career, Scared Stiff

Our varsity basketball team was tops in the state, winning the state championship. The team, followed by many of us, went to the Boston Garden to compete in the New England tournament. We suffered a loss there.

Our class play was "The Ghost Story," in which Ann Bowen, Dann Sargent, and others did wonderful jobs.

We saw several new things at Spaulding this year. One was the installation of new courses: History and Appreciation of Music, and Drivers' Training.

Our wonderful Freshman year was ended, but we looked forward to three more full years at Spaulding and especially to being Seniors.

These young-looking freshmen were our class and home room officers.

With Peter Fisher as president, Charlie Calcagni as vice-president, Jane Gray as secretary, and John MacAulay as treasurer, we began a year that flew past.

Jiggs Cecchini, Roberta Bradbury, and Joe Tash inspected class rings.

The Sophomore Hop committee put on a crowd-getting dance. The theme was "Friday the Thirteenth," so black cats, cracked mirrors, 13's, and other symbols of bad luck were prominent everywhere. It held only good luck and a grand time for those who attended, however.

Those on the committee were Marie Rugo, Nira Anderson, Pat Friberg, John MacAulay, Larry Casellini, and Dann Sargent.

A Year's Experience Behind

An exciting football game held the interest of these fans.

Donald Lawliss thrilled many at the Barre Minstrel Show.

The Lighthouse was the center of all outside activities.

Sitting informally were these class officers: Pete Fisher, Jane Gray, John MacAulay, and Charlie Calcagni.

Descending from the Boston bus were these happy Spauldingites.

Us, We Begin to Loosen Up

"Antic Spring," our play, with Ann Bowen, Joe Tash, Lorraine Spencer, Mary Lou Politi, Dann Sargent, and Pat Yaeger, won first prize in the interclass contest.

The Lighthouse moved to our more capacious quarters behind the hotel.

Representing us on the cheering squad were Carole Lunde, Elaine Henkel, and Judy McLeod. Sheila Brigham was majorette mascot.

The clown band was seen and enjoyed at many basketball games.

Our only faculty losses were Miss Sargent, Mrs. Wescott, and Mr. Sheehan.

We ended the year looking forward to being upperclassmen.

A committee consisting of Roberta Bradbury, Elaine Henkel, Audrey Spooner, Charles Calcagni, Robert Cecchini, and Joe Tash chose our class ring from three having red stones. It featured different colored gold with our crest and numerals.

The sports activities can be summed up in one sentence. Our football team was runner-up in the Northern League; our basketball team represented our state in the New England tourney; and our J.V. basketball team took the Northern crown. The Sophomore girls' team won the hoop league.

The boys on the J. V. team were champs of the Northern League.

Caught unaware were John MacAulay, Claire Laferriere, Elaine Henkel, and Audrey Spooner, our officers.

Our chaperones had a wide view from their bench in the park.

Resting for a while were those that decorated so well.

The four Juniors who did such an outstanding job leading us through our Junior year were President John MacAulay, Vice-President Elaine Henkel, Secretary Audrey Spooner, and Treasurer Claire Laferriere.

We began the year anxiously awaiting the sports season. Many members of the class of '53 represented us on the football squad. We were proud of Winston Bashaw, who won a place as tackle on the All-State team.

Many big events occurred during 1952.

The "Carousel," a bazaar and dance, was held at the Auditorium to add to the scholarship fund. All the clubs in the school took part to make it a success.

Upperclassmen at Last,

Bob Brault, Pete Fisher, and Mike Ferguson were chosen for the varsity basketball squad. This year Spaulding took the Northern League crown for the third straight time. On March 15 we made our bid for state champs for our third straight year but went down in defeat at the hands of Rutland. Although it was a hard loss for all Spauldingites, we shall always remember the great team that did its best all season.

The Girls' Choir and Mixed Chorus were first organized by Mr. Colin Gray.

Monitors and Girls and Boys Staters were also chosen.

Pencils and programs were given to each couple.

Our band, the Green Collegians, provided popular music.

Nothing Can Phase Us Now

Winning second place in the state play contest was "The King of General Macias." Nira Anderson, Joe Tash, and Cris Acker were our representatives.

But the event which surpassed all others was our Junior Prom, called An Evening in Paris. Our band was the Green Collegians from Dartmouth. Our decorations, with our scene of Paris, our baskets of flowers, our rock garden, and our sidewalk cafe and tables were original and very attractive. The committee consisted of the officers and Pat Friberg, Bob Cecchini, Jane Gray, Claire Dion, John Black, and Donald LaRouche. We are proud to add we are the only class to have made such a profit on a Spaulding prom.

A group of girls held the graduation class colors in an arch on Class Day. This added greatly to the impressiveness of the ceremonies. Also, a number of Juniors acted as ushers at graduation. The commencement ceremonies made it manifest that our Senior year was just around the corner, and the sentiment displayed graduation night made us realize that our high school years were flying by.

Smooth music set a happy mood for the evening.

Our class officers were J. MacAulay, N. Anderson, C. Laferriere, and R. Cecchini.

Seniors! At last we were the demi-gods the under classmen put on a pedestal.

We elected Robert Cecchini to lead the way, John MacAulay as Veep, Nira Anderson to keep the records, and Claire Laferriere to keep the books.

In the whirlwind of affairs the Echo staff was working to produce a great yearbook. To pay for it, we held a successful food sale, sold name cards, and made a record profit on our Senior Play.

Seniors at Last

We Start the Journey

The football, basketball, and baseball clubs were good, all-around teams.

Never - to - be - forgotten were the many senior parties.

On Our Stepping Stones

To the Future

Our able Class Day committee got busy and put on an enjoyable program.

Winding up the wonderful year was the experience of being included in the Alumni Association.

The strains of the Spaulding March given to the seniors by the late Mrs. Josephine Perry, once a music supervisor at Spaulding, will be kept sacred in our memories.

The monitors squeeze in before the bell rings.

One of the most coveted awards a Spaulding student may receive is the Scholastic S. It is given for an all A average over a period of one year. The emblem consists of three maroon S's on a triangular piece of blue felt.

2nd row: E. Carle, J. LeBlanc, J. MacAulay, D. Sargent, P. Friberg. 1st row: A. Caslani, C. Fournier, A. Bowen, C. Laferriere, E. Beard.

LaFlamme, G. Corey. Missing from picture: W. Mugford, W. Fraser, P. Quinlan, R. Aldrich, K. Mason, C. Lunde.

A new aspect of the athletic program in 1949, the awarding of sweaters has become an anticipated event to all those who ski, lead cheers, or play football, basketball, and baseball. The sweaters and emblems, awarded by recommendation of the coach and with the approval of the Student Council, are the mark of ability, loyalty, and enthusiasm.

Proudly we add twenty-two of our classmates to this distinguished list of Spaulding athletes.

Having taken the college preparatory course, one of our editors, Dann Sargent, won the top honor in our class of nearly two hundred. He earned an enviable average to become valedictorian. Besides his scholastic ability he has been outstanding in school, church, and fraternal activities.

Claire Fournier, with an average close to Dann's, was chosen our salutatorian. She took the academic course for her four years but still found time to participate in clubs and to spend long hours working on our school newspaper as the business manager.

Credit Where Credit is Due

The Junior English prize of five dollars given for proficiency in English was awarded to Elinor Carle and Dann Sargent.

Claire Laferriere, a popular and friendly leader of our class, was chosen as the D.A.R. Good Citizenship Girl.

Carrying on the family tradition of graduating from Spaulding are these smiling Seniors. Five of these are offspring of two Spaulding grads.

We were unfortunate to lose Robert Payne during our sophomore year.

Mrs. McGill and our co-editors Dann Sargent and Patricia Friberg working out plans for our classbook.

Here we picked up many helpful ideas but failed to see a single narrative style book, proving the novelty of the idea. In the latter part of November, we conducted our advertising drive with the unique result that we actually obtained more advertisements than we could use. Immediately after school resumed session after Christmas vacation, we conducted a campaign to sell our two hundred and fifty books.

The Echo had no financial troubles this year because of the aid of almost all members of the class in various capacities. On March 30, we put the last few pages of the Echo to bed with the hope that you will enjoy reading it as much as we have enjoyed putting it together.

As We Leave Spaulding, We Take With Us Our Echo

Much of the work on the Echo was done during fifth period work-sessions.

Way back in September we started the wheels turning to produce the book you have before you now. Almost as soon as school opened we, the "Echo" staff, were in the midst of choosing a printer, a photographer, type of book, cover, and theme.

We decided on a revolutionary type of book never before attempted at S.H.S. or as far as we know in Vermont. We decided to have our book tell the story of our Senior year in proper sequence with the theme revolving around us, the Seniors. After almost a month of planning, we got down to business, laying out pages, writing biographies, scheduling Senior pictures, and doing all the thousand-and-one things that go into the preparation of a classbook. In October four members of the staff were fortunate enough to attend the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Yearbook Conference in New York.

L. Spencer and M. Walker (Bus. Mgr.) sold banners at games to help our Echo fund.

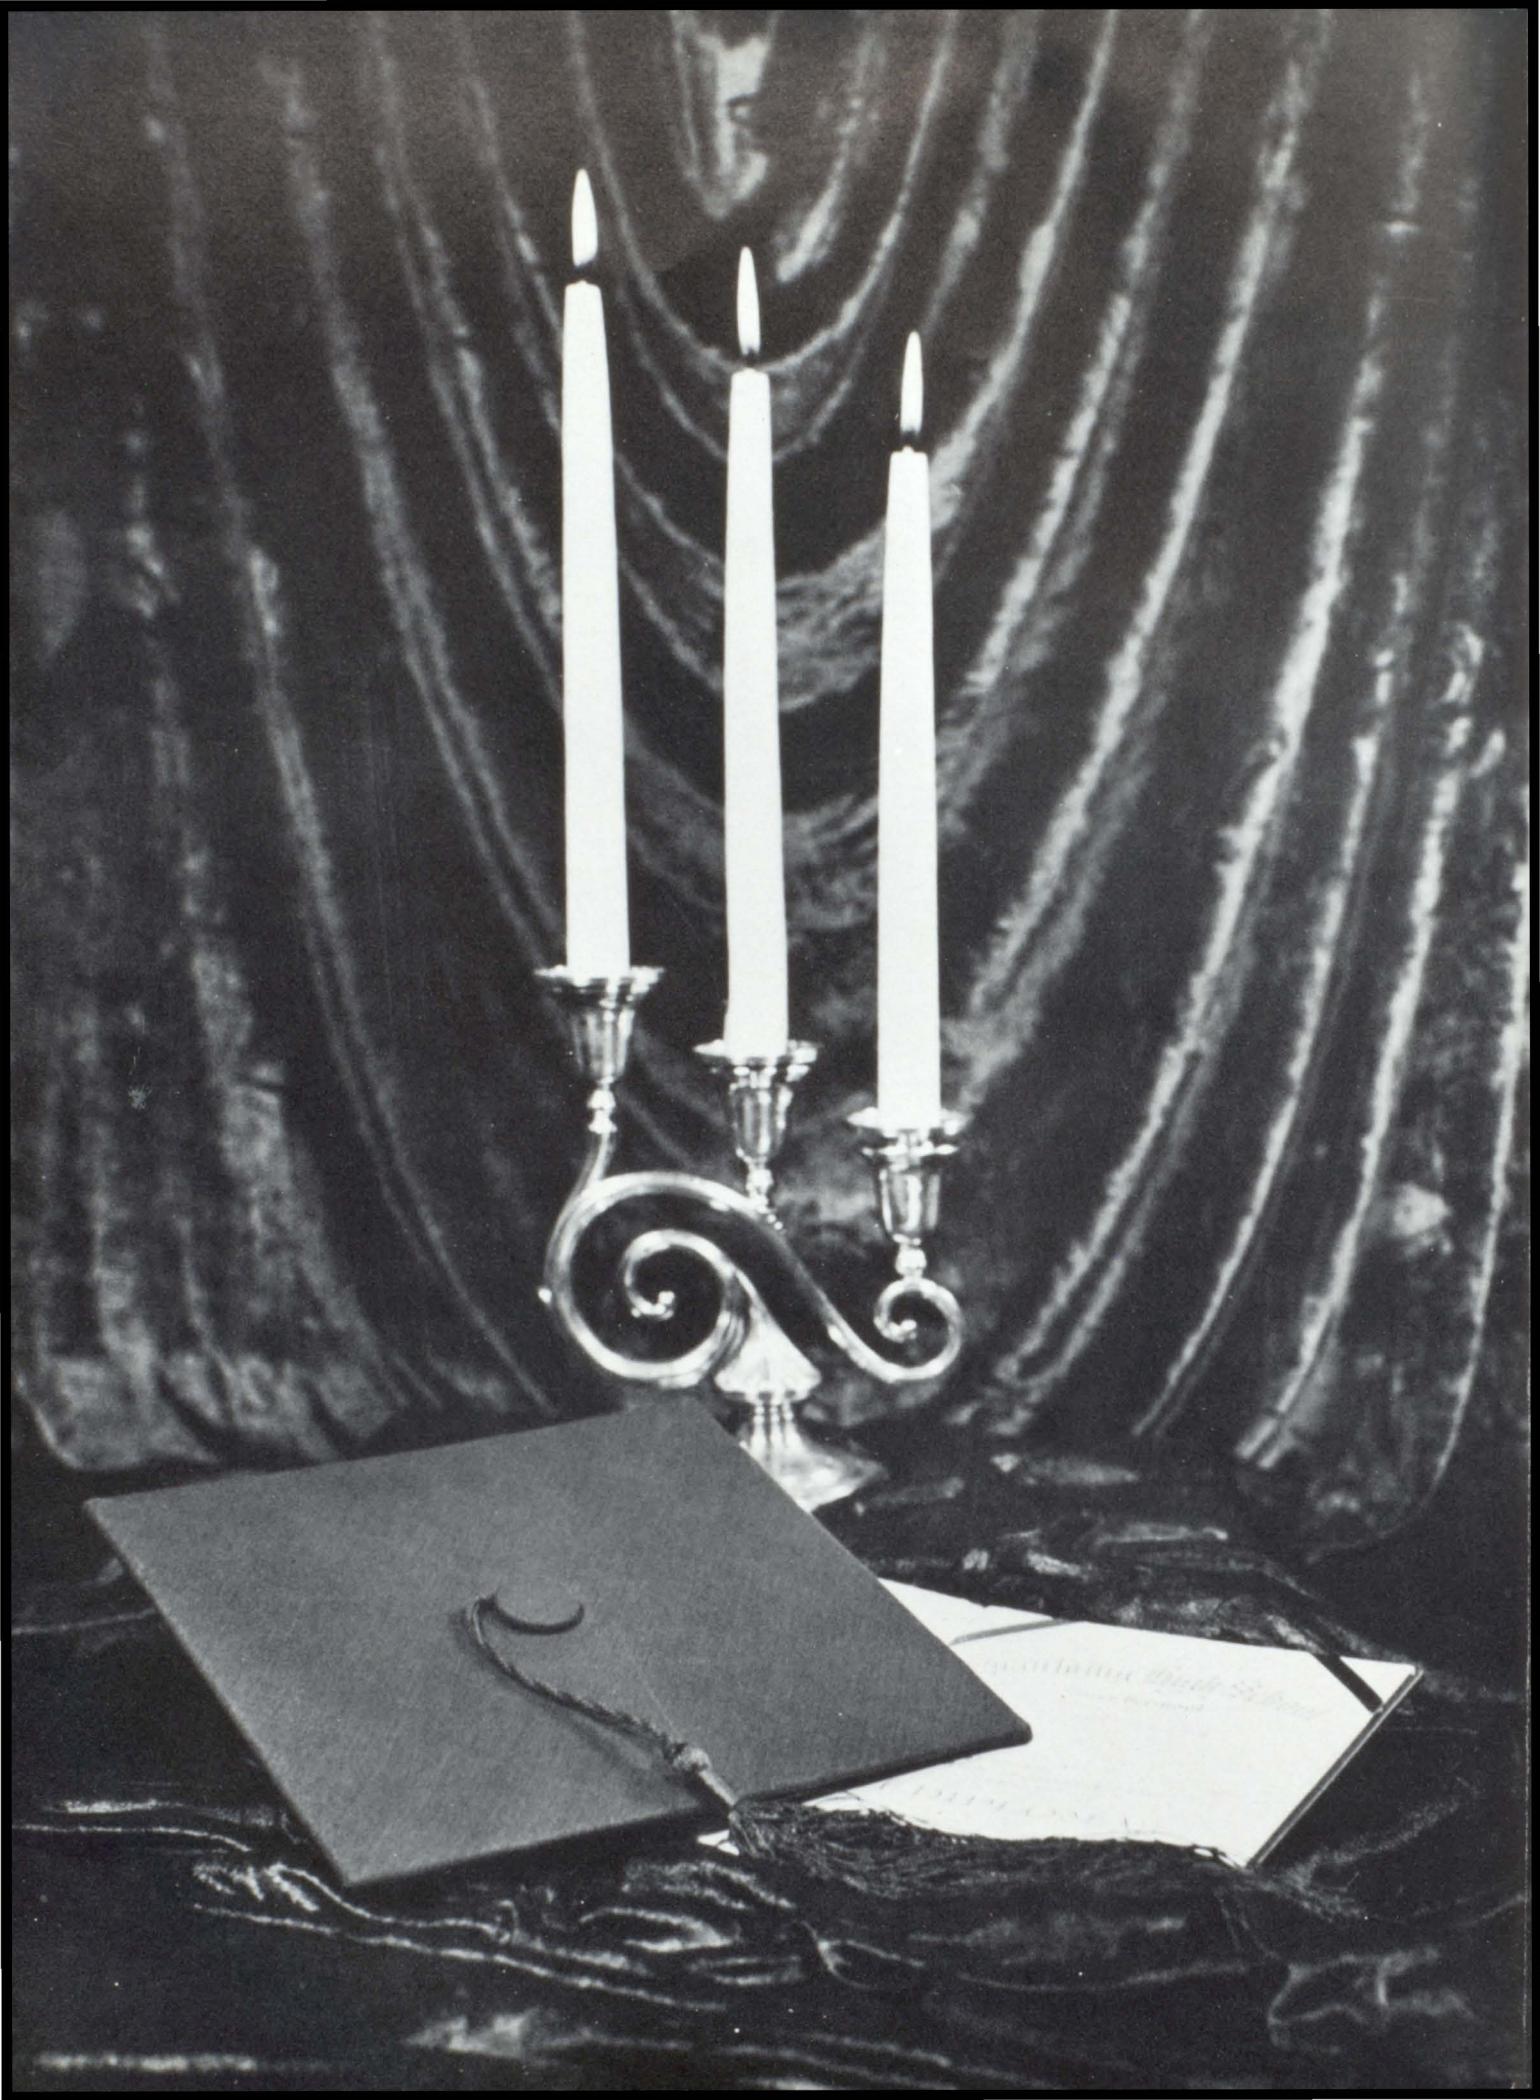

Those who helped in a business capacity were A. Lonergan, C. Wilson, S. Canales, and E. Beard (standing), M. Walker and C. Quinlan (seated).

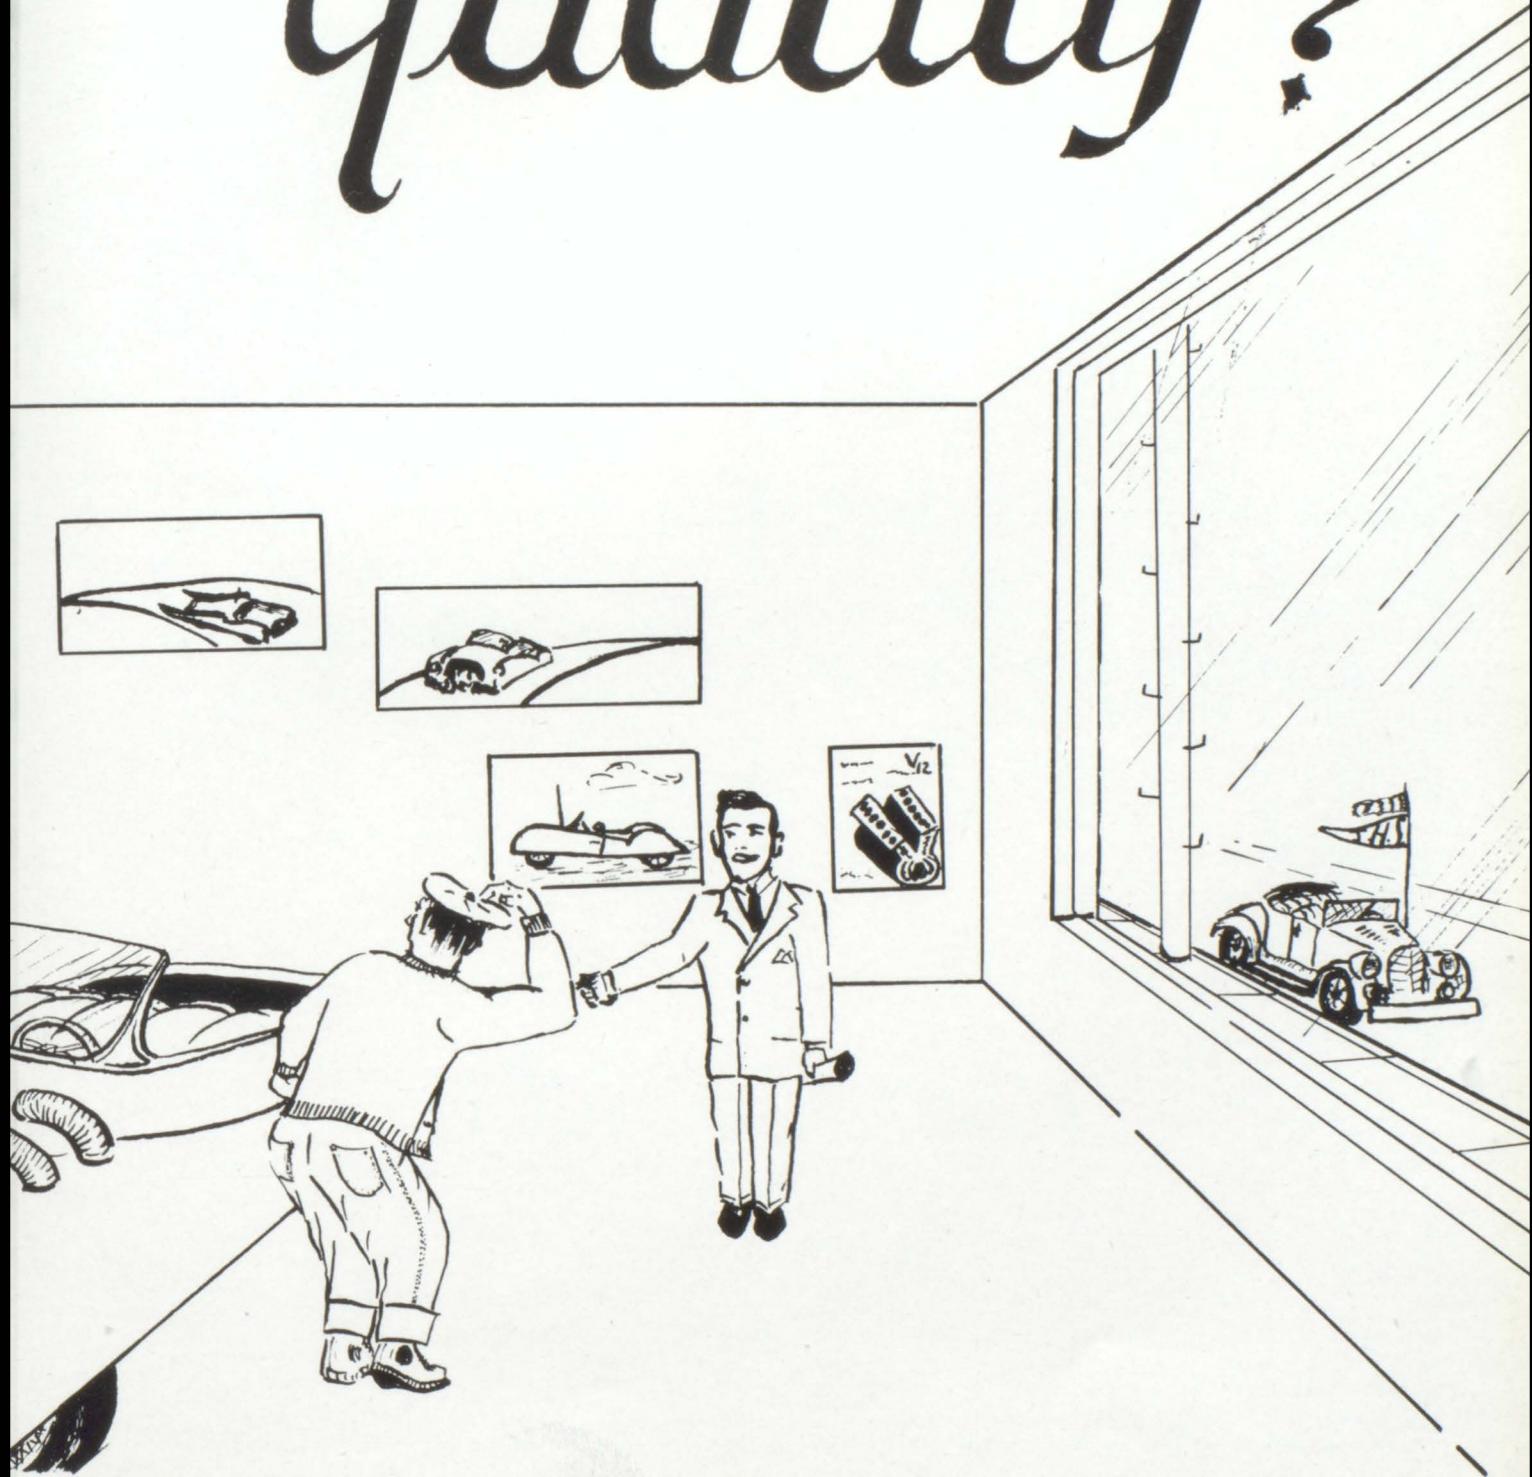

to Recall Four Memory-Packed Years at S.H.S.

3rd row: A. Rogers, P. Quinlan, P. Machia (artists); F. La Valley, R. Cecchini, L. Casellini (sports writers);
 2nd row: N. Anderson (Senior editor); J. Taupier (typist); L. Spencer, C. Lunde, A. Spooner, E. Carle (writers); E. Wheeler (club editor); 1st row: H. Geake, P. Friberg (co-editor); J. Tash, J. Gray (photographic
