

OUR ECHO 1955

FOREWORD

The Granite industry which is, without a doubt, the most important in central Vermont and which has the most influence on our daily lives represents our past, present, and perhaps our future.

All around, up and down our Main Street, we find evidence of the meaning of the industry to our community. The Youth Memorial, the Post Office, and Aldrich Public Library—each of these represents our friends, relatives, and neighbors who are connected with the industry.

Webster defines granite as being of unyielding firmness or endurance, meaning of course, that it will last forever. Similarly, the memories we will carry with us when we leave Spaulding will never be forgotten but will last our lifetime.

For this reason we have chosen it as the theme for Our Echo of 1955.

Miss Mary Stephen and Miss Barbara Frattini handle the work in the superintendent's office.

Our foremen act as Keystones

Clyde G. Fussell
A.B., A.M., Ed.M.

Mr. Fussell is the superintendent of the six elementary schools and Spaulding High School, and it is his responsibility to guide the 2,050 students under him. He is chief executive officer of the Board of School Commissioners, and some of his many duties include nominating teachers and supervisors, approving all of our study courses, and preparing the school budget. Mr. Fussell attended Middlebury College and the University of New Hampshire and is now working for his doctor's degree at the University of Connecticut. This is his third year of work as superintendent in the Barre City Schools, and we have all profited from his wise counsel and guidance.

Frank W. Mayo
B.S., Ed.M.

Our principal, Mr. Mayo, administers the rules and the regulations for the 850 students of Spaulding High School. He is responsible for the way our school is run. It is his job to supervise all activities of the school, organize and supervise our teachers and classes, make up our curriculum, make the schedule of classes, keep records of attendance, be administrator of the guidance department, supervise all athletics, and, of course, hand out discipline when it is necessary. Mr. Mayo attended the University of Massachusetts and Boston University. During his few years at Spaulding he has done much for the school and will continue to guide the future citizens of Spaulding as capably as he has guided us.

Mr. Frank Devine, our assistant principal, stands between Patricia Londry and Virginia Calevro our office girls.

Miss Margaret Monta, Typing, Shorthand; Miss Kathleen Jennings, Typing, Shorthand; Mrs. Flora Young, Shorthand, Bookkeeping; Mr. James Corbo, Gen. Math., Bookkeeping.

Four curricula are offered to students of Spaulding: commercial, trade and industrial, academic, and college preparatory. From the excellent instruction of our faculty we acquire the knowledge needed to further our education and careers.

The commercial department trains future stenographers and salesmen for a career immediately following high school. They help to develop the students' business technique by practical application of shorthand, typing, bookkeeping, and transcription.

English, a required subject, is taught by an excellent staff of teachers. Besides teaching us grammar and literature, three of these teachers have certain outside duties. Mrs. McGill is the adviser for Our Echo, Mrs. Worthington is Sentinel adviser, and Mr. Wiggin is dramatic coach.

The foreign language teachers encourage scholars through hours of endless instruction. Three or four years of a language are available. Each teacher is also an adviser for a language club.

Mr. Henry Drake, Mr. Melvin Hook, Mr. Emilio Politi,
Mr. Gerald Aubin, Vocational Education.

Three very capable teachers comprise our Math department by furnishing Algebra I and II, general math, plane geometry, trigonometry, and solid geometry. A college student is required to take at least two years of math.

The all important sciences: general science, biology, physics, and chemistry are managed by four men teachers. Anyone who survives all four subjects has acquired a great deal of scientific knowledge.

An excellent education in the fields of radio and electricity, auto mechanics, machines, and monumental design is provided for the boys on the hill. Spaulding boys are very fortunate in that the experience they receive in these subjects is considerably more than other high schools can furnish. Those taking this course spend three periods at Spaulding and three periods at the trade school acquiring personal experience.

Physical Education

as they draft our

Each of our coaches has a special class aside from coaching; Mr. Wescott, modern history; Mr. Corey, physical education for boys. Civics, a freshman year requirement, taught by Mr. Hamilton, gives a fundamental knowledge of city, state, and federal governments. Two years of physical education is also required for both girls and boys.

Driver education, an elective for juniors and seniors, includes classroom theory as well as practical experience in operating a car.

Our musical groups are under the supervision of a capable director, Mr. Mori, who also has classes in music appreciation. Special instrumental and vocal training are available as extra-curricular activities.

Shop and mechanical drawing courses during the freshman and sophomore years are held here at school to prepare boys for their last two years at the vocational school on the hill. There, during their junior and senior years, they become skilled for trade and industrial occupations.

Art classes are held one day a week for those wishing to participate.

course of study

United States History, a required subject, presents the necessary knowledge of the growth of our country and democratic principles. This subject is taken either the junior or senior year. American Problems, a senior subject, teaches the exact democratic form of government.

Four years of home economics are available to girls who learn the arts of homemaking by preparing food, making clothes, and studying nursing and nutrition. The two women teachers prepare the girls for future careers in home management, dressmaking, and nursing.

Our cafeteria staff serves well-planned meals for students through a system of two lunch periods.

The maintenance crew has a full-time job keeping the school shining and clean by daily sweeping and dusting.

As we leave the draftsmen of our future, we wish to thank them for their endless help, for their encouragement when we were discouraged, and for their wise counsel. They have guided many of us who wish to go on to further education. They put their after school hours at our disposal for our personal problems. We sincerely thank them.

We were all devout patrons of our teenage club, the Lighthouse.

Our first Class Day was a big event.

As apprentices we learn

Ted Edgecomb here in our prizewinning play, The Silver Backed Hairbrush, a mystery farce. Others in the cast were David Carpenter, Beverly Palmer, Mickey Canales, Robert Fugere, Donald Savard, Claire Taupier, George Mercier, and Joseph Mowatt.

As excited and enthusiastic freshmen we entered the halls of Spaulding, September 5, 1951. We were ready to embark upon our high school careers.

At the Freshman Reception, we felt very small, but we were full of thanks to the Student Council who sponsored it in our honor.

The J.V. cheerleaders were chosen next. Every girl was anxious to be chosen, but these were the lucky five: Marianna Saliba, Donna Marsha, Margaret Carpenter, Marie Deep, and Penny Sandison.

During the year the Singer Sewing Machine Company sponsored an apron making contest. Ann Puricelli and Lorna Martin were the winning seamstresses.

We were very proud of our class when we won the class play contest over the sophomores and juniors.

As the year closed we took part in the class exercises for the first time. We thought ahead to the day when we ourselves would be donning caps and gowns.

the trade—as freshmen . . .

Our class officers were Peter Lipman as president, Margaret Carpenter as secretary, Bob Watson as treasurer, and Gary Maclam as vice-president. Gary has since transferred to St. Johnsbury Academy.

"Beat 'em! Bust 'em! That's our custom!"
was our cry as sophomores.

On September 3, 1953, we returned to Spaulding as sophomores. Most of us felt very excited about this. We weren't just green freshmen, but we still had three wonderful years to look forward to.

"Congratulations, Sophs! An Exceptional Job." These were the words of the SENTINEL headline after our Sophomore Hop, the Football Hop. Home room officers and class officers were committee chairmen. Miss Jean Watson, Miss Christine Martin, and Mr. Paul Nutter, our class advisers, helped us plan our dance. The hall was decorated with banners, megaphones, and footballs. Ours was the best attended Sophomore Hop in several years.

Our ring committee was made up of class officers and home room presidents. Our class ring committee was made up of the following: Robert Croteau, Richard Pinard, Norma Canales, Nancy Agosta, Valerie Buttura, Sylvia Emslie, Doreen Mekkelsen, and Robert Watson.

During home room period on October 7, we elected as class officers the following: Nancy Agosta for treasurer, Norma Canales for secretary, Richard Pinard for vice-president, and Robert Croteau for president. It was especially important for us to select good officers this year because we had two main activities, the Sophomore Hop and the selection of our class rings.

The Time: A Few Years Ago

On February 5 and 6, we presented "The Happy Journey" by Thornton Wilder. The part of the stage manager was unique as he had to overcome the absence of scenery by indicating the necessary props to the audience.

Our Sophomore year ended with many anticipations of another wonderful year beginning in the fall.

Again as juniors we won the annual inter-class play contest. The play, a comedy, "I'm a Fool" hinges around George, a former stable boy, who for the first time attends the horse races as a spectator. His mother and sister disapproved of his doings. While arguing with him, they refer to the Dude, who they think is the ideal type.

Later he meets Wilbur, Lucy, and Elinor, whom he impresses by using the name of a rich horse owner. George falls in love with Lucy who promises to write to him when she leaves. Because he realizes he'll never receive her letter, the play ends with his saying, "I'm a Fool."

Our class officers spent many afternoons planning for the prom.

The afternoon of the prom and we're still decorating the auditorium.

The Mardi Gras theme was chosen and developed for our Junior Prom by the committee and our class officers, who were president, Richard Pinard; vice-president, Jimmy Matott; treasurer, Kay Sabens; and secretary, Doreen Meckelsen.

We had a lot of fun converting the auditorium into a New Orleans street scene.

Much credit should be given to our class advisers: Miss Jean Watson, Chairman, Miss Christine Martin, Miss Pamela James, and Mr. Paul Nutter. The chairmen of committees and many other hard-working juniors were responsible for the success of the prom.

We had an unusual attendance at this colorful affair.

Come to the Mardi Gras.

Mardi Gras!

Late in the afternoon we added the finishing touches.

The punch bowl looks good to the happy couples.

The French Club, the largest club in school, got off to a good start with the initiation of new members. As in other years, the members worked on their annual presentation, the French Follies.

The meetings of the Junior Classical League, were highlighted by programs concerning life in Roman times. At one special meeting Mrs. Blackmore showed slides which she took in Rome. Consul Jimmy Bisson presided over the monthly meetings.

The Spanish Club started the year with flying colors by initiating new members. Special events included the annual Christmas party and an illustrated lecture on Mexico by Mrs. Lipman.

The monthly meetings of Future Homemakers included speakers on good-grooming, sewing, and cooking. For their Christmas meeting, a guest came to show them the art of gift wrapping. The girls made and served their own refreshments.

The Future Nurses of America held meetings with speakers telling them about the different fields of nursing. At one meeting they went on a complete tour of the hospital.

The clubs at Spaulding offer the students interesting activities as well as helping them make new friends.

With other students from throughout the state, these girls organized and conducted a miniature state government of their own and learned the functions of their government by actual experiences.

Nancy was our only state officer; she was elected to fill the position of Secretary of State.

Boys State was again held at Norwich University. Here, during the six days we were there, we elected town, county, and state officials and set up a working government on all levels.

An active sports program was set up, and the Spauldingites were active participants.

All of the boys from Spaulding held two or three town or county offices, but Walter Rizzi brought Spaulding the most honor by being elected State Treasurer.

All enjoyed their stay at Boys State, and many of them wished that it had lasted longer.

Kay Sabens and Larry Aiken are awaiting the signal to play, while Daniel Eastman and Kimball Darling stand ready to replace them.

Three of our talented musicians, Richard Johnson, Nancy Agosta, and Walter Rizzi starred in our Band Concert. Dick's spectacular trumpet playing was in evidence at many functions. Nancy's sweet soprano voice, and Walt's wonderful trombone playing also helped to make our concerts more enjoyable.

Mr. Mori, our superb band director, was constantly busy training our music organizations.

Our band, once again sparkling in their new uniforms, provided us with a high calibre of music at the innumerable events in which they participated.

Our snappy band added zest to our pep rallies, football, and basketball games, and presented a fine concert in November.

Passing by Spaulding Assembly Hall any Monday afternoon one can hear Spaulding choristers madly rehearsing under the capable direction of Mr. Mori. Such performances as the Christmas concert or the annual spring concert are the result of much time and hard work. This year the Christmas concert was broadcast over the local radio station reaching many who otherwise could not have enjoyed it.

A special section of the Glee Club, the Girls' Choir, meets on Wednesdays. These junior and senior girls master beautiful and difficult music and also take part in the concerts.

Spaulding students have an opportunity to take part in two music festivals during the year. The first, Winooski Valley, comes in the fall with eleven schools participating. This year it was held in Barre and gave Spauldingites the chance to show off their school and city. Among the events featured were a parade in the afternoon and a concert in the evening. The other music festival is the Vermont All-State in Burlington in May. Eleven seniors have been chosen this year for the All-State chorus. Being chosen for All-State is a high honor and a satisfying reward for four years of hard work.

The Sentinel

One of the busiest rooms in Spaulding is the Sentinel Office, which is the small room beside 203. You can always find the editors, writers, photographers, and typists at work, either setting up or proof-reading our award-winning paper, The Sentinel.

This year's staff consists of News Editor, James Bisson; Associate News Editor, Margaret Mary Carpenter; Feature Editor, Donald Capra; Sports Editor, Theodore Edgecomb; Business Manager, Nancy Agosta; Advertising Manager, Sylvia Emalie; Circulation Manager, Valerie Buttura; and Exchange Editor, Doreen Mekkelsen.

Several underclassmen also make it possible for us to publish our paper. We are very fortunate to have as our adviser Mrs. Marjorie Worthington, who is always on hand to help us over the rough spots.

In the early part of this year eight students journeyed by car to Boston to represent Spaulding at the first annual fall convention of the New England Scholastic Press Association. It was at this conference that the Sentinel received its latest award.

Band To Rehearse 100th Anniversary Of John Phillip Sousa

Doreen

Have you noticed those real jazzy downbeats coming from the assembly hall on Thursday? Spaulding Band rehearsing for its concert to be held on Saturday, November 6, at the Municipal Auditorium in commemoration of John Phillip Sousa's 100th anniversary.

In answer to the request of the 1,200 persons who enjoyed the January Band Concert, there will be drawn up along the lines, but with entirely new tunes, the 55 piece band will be "a new boat" by Jerome Kern, "The Blue Danube" by Johann Strauss, "Three Blind Mice" by Felix Mendelssohn, and several of Sousa's famous marches. On the Spaulding Hit-Patrol, using hit tunes of the day, the band will perform. The concert will be conducted by the student-director and president of the band, Dick Johnson.

Forty-Eight Students In Fundamentals Of

Driver training classes are off to a good start this year under the capable direction of Mr. Johnson. So far there has been no driving, but the forty-eight students enrolled in the course have done considerable class work, becoming acquainted with the various parts of the automobile. The students and teacher alike hope to get out on the road for some actual driving experience before too long. We know that all the pupils will finish the course with driving ability to be proud of.

Of Junior-Senior Assembly Presentations

Tuesday, September 21, saw the beginning of the pay assemblies which are held four times during the year. This one was for the senior classes. Regular sessions are kept for the two lower

Donald

During a brief introduction, Principal Mayo announced the reception which was held on September 24, stressing that the seniors should go to this assembly as well as the freshmen. He also mentioned that Spaulding is already one game behind in the football schedule, and that there would be a game on Saturday. He then introduced Glen Morris, the guest of the assembly.

Mr. Morris commenced the assembly by stating that electricity is very interesting while being very interesting. He said that it is not to be handled intelligently. While talking about lightning, to the surprise of all, he pressed a switch on the present current to a lighting apparatus. He said that lightning can kill you in a second, while a lightning bolt is only one-eighth of a second. He then set a wheel, and the lights went white spots in motion. He caused two poles to send sparks between themselves. He stated that there were 120 parks per second and told the assembly how many counted. He then demonstrated the system of infra-red burglar alarms works. The next step was to show how merely the shadow of a body can set off one of the booby traps which are used in modern warfare.

Following this, when he asked for a volunteer from the audience to aid him in his "magic" Barbara Bond, a senior, stepped forward.

He demonstrated how a simple use of two bare wires can produce a shock. When Miss Bond stepped forward to and fro' while in the electric field, the bells rang. He asked her to hold the frame and connected it to electric current. A light bulb, suspended in the frame, placed in the current, was made to glow, without the use of wires, when the current was turned on.

Have you ever tried to compile an account for four active years of 174 busy students? This is the problem that confronted the 1955 "Our Echo" staff in September. After deciding on the type of book, cover, and theme, there followed many days of layout-planning, picture-taking, and writing biographies. A good share of these tasks was done each day during fifth period and every Wednesday afternoon.

In October, Mrs. McGill, co-editors Patricia Beers and Nancy Agosta, business manager Gloria Guiduli, and Valerie Buttura traveled to New York City to attend the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Convention. The girls came home with tips on how to assemble a prize-winning yearbook.

Many times we ran to Mrs. McGill for necessary advice on countless problems that only experience such as hers could have provided.

The business staff should be congratulated for the fine job they did in soliciting advertisements from our generous merchants.

We realize, also, that many thanks should go to numerous classmates who co-operated and did their utmost to make our yearbook a success.

Jean Hamilton, "Ham" to most of us, was an important addition to the Spaulding coaching staff. His line coaching was indispensable this year. The fundamentals he taught will be a big factor in making next year's team a championship team.

The class of 1955 wasn't represented by very many members on the football team this year, but it can be very proud of those who were on it.

Pete Lipman, Rick Putnam, and Art Desilets, playing good hard football, proved formidable to the opposition both on offense and defense.

Although small, Jack Savoia and Jim Matott more than proved the value of the scat-back.

Gardner Corey not only quarterbacked our team but was chosen captain and quarterback of the Vermont All-State team.

Bob Watson and George Gingras were injured before the season started. Bob broke his collarbone, and George reinjured his ankle. Bob returned to coach J. V.'s. His team had a one win-no loss record.

With eight lettermen coming back, Spaulding will be the team to watch next year.

The torch of

As Spaulding closes its 54-55 pre-tournament basketball season, we find that Coach Richard Wescott has pushed and pulled our team to a very good record of 18-2. Of course this is nothing new to our coach from the North, who has had a good team and record each of his three years at Spaulding.

Row 2: Coach Wescott, C. Aimi, R. Williamson, F. Putnam, R. Bancroft, R. Dwinall, R. Anderson, Mgr. B. Buckley. Row 1: Mgr. R. Yett, R. Pinard, G. Corey, F. Pinard, W. McKee, C. Pellegrini, D. Ordway.

Above we see a score for sure while above on the right Franny is good for another two. In the center we see little Gard pushing up a big swish, and below Chuck snap another one.

As usual the Crimson Tide has racked up another good season on the basketball court. As a result of their 18-2 record, Spaulding indisputably controlled second place in the Northern League. Incidentally the Tide was the only team in the state to knock off front-running Burlington.

Spaulding's versatile athlete, Gardner Corey, proved his worth as he continually drove the opposition wild by scoring baskets, stealing the ball, and snatching rebounds. Anyone reading his rebound record would swear that Gard was at least seven feet tall.

In the persons of Rick and Frank Pinard fans saw two very fine, fast, ball handlers. If either one of the brothers was near a loose ball or if one of the opposition happened to put the ball invitingly close to Rick or Franny, it was gone, and Spaulding was fast-breaking its way to another basket.

Along with the Pinard brothers, Charles "Muscles" Aimi proved himself a definite scoring threat. He was usually seen rebounding with and snagging the ball from the bigger boys in the state.

Speaking of big boys, big Rick Putnam at six feet four inches fills the bill nicely. Ricky developed into quite a ball player and was a big asset to the squad.

From the bench came Dwinell, McKee, and Williamson to help out in case of trouble. Also nicely filling in when the situation required were Pellegrini, Anderson, Bancroft, and Ordway.

The cause of it all

The 1952-53 edition of the Crimson Ripple was a team which the whole school could be proud of. With the good board work and steady scoring of Pete Lipman, Charlie Aimi, and Walt Rizzi; the speed, excellent ball handling, and shooting ability of the two high scorers, Rich and Francis Pinard; and the strong, dependable bench provided by Art Desilets, Jim Matott, Bruce Buckley, Bob Croteau, Ron Halsall, Charlie Pellegrini, and others, the team compiled the enviable record of nineteen wins and one loss.

The Ripple rolled over all opposition except in one game, the first league game of the season. In this one the Burlington Sea Ponies proved to be a little better conditioned and hung the only loss of the season on the Ripple. This, the Ripple avenged in their second meeting.

This team, capably coached by Deep Corey, sent up to the varsity the backbone of what we hope will be a state championship team.

This year promises to be a good one for the Tide's baseball squad, as many veteran lettermen and some promising under-classmen are preparing to play the spring game. To mention a few veterans, we find such names as Fran and Rich Pinard, Buckley, Jacobs, Matott, and Halsall. Pete Lipman was one of the League's top ten sluggers last year, and Gard Corey is a good ball hawk in the outfield and a very good hurler besides. He also can hit.

Some of the other boys who will be pushing for starting roles are Pellegrini, Dick Anderson, Dyke, Wester, and Plante. Bill Osha will also strengthen the pitching staff.

The majorettes made many snappy appearances this year. Their high stepping and precision twirling are a result of hard work and never-ending practice under the direction of Miss Diane Paquet. They certainly add that finishing touch to our football and basketball games and other special events. Wearing those smart uniforms this year are Katherine Aitchison, Jane Boudreau, Mickey Canales, Barbara Knutson, Ann Petell, Joan Vidoli, and Susan Yaeger.

A game isn't complete without those snappy cheerleaders whose pep and leadership have led us to victory in so many of our football and basketball games. During the football season the girls donned slacks, but during basketball games we saw them in skirts. Miss Jennings, a new teacher this year, was appointed adviser to the girls. Heading the cheerleaders is a senior, Menna Saliba. The rest of the squad include Rene Gray, Barbara Hamel, Louise Hotte, Sandra Laquerre, Donna Murray, and Norma Palmer.

And now we have reached the end of the long road. It will be hard to walk down past Bobby Burns for the last time. Spaulding and all it stands for will always remain among our fondest memories.

The hopes and encouragement given us by the faculty and administration will not be forgotten soon.

To you, Bobby Burns, we bid farewell. May you continue to greet incoming classes as you once did ours.
