*SPAULDING HIGH SCHOOL
BARRE, VERMONT*

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

TO THE 1969 GRADUATING CLASS
SPAULDING HIGH SCHOOL

This is a day when congratulations are in order not only to the graduates but to the parents, teachers, and administrators whose efforts have helped to make this achievement possible. I extend my heartiest congratulations to all of you.

At a time when there is much talk about the differences between the generations, I think it is useful to remark upon a similarity between your graduating class of 1969 and my graduating class of 1930.

Your high school years have been historic ones. When you entered high school, man was making his elementary steps into space. In your senior year, three brave Americans journeyed around the moon. When I graduated from high school, only three years had passed since a man flew for the first time across the Atlantic Ocean. Despite the obvious difference in years, we have this in common: we all know what it is to be young at the start of an age of adventure.

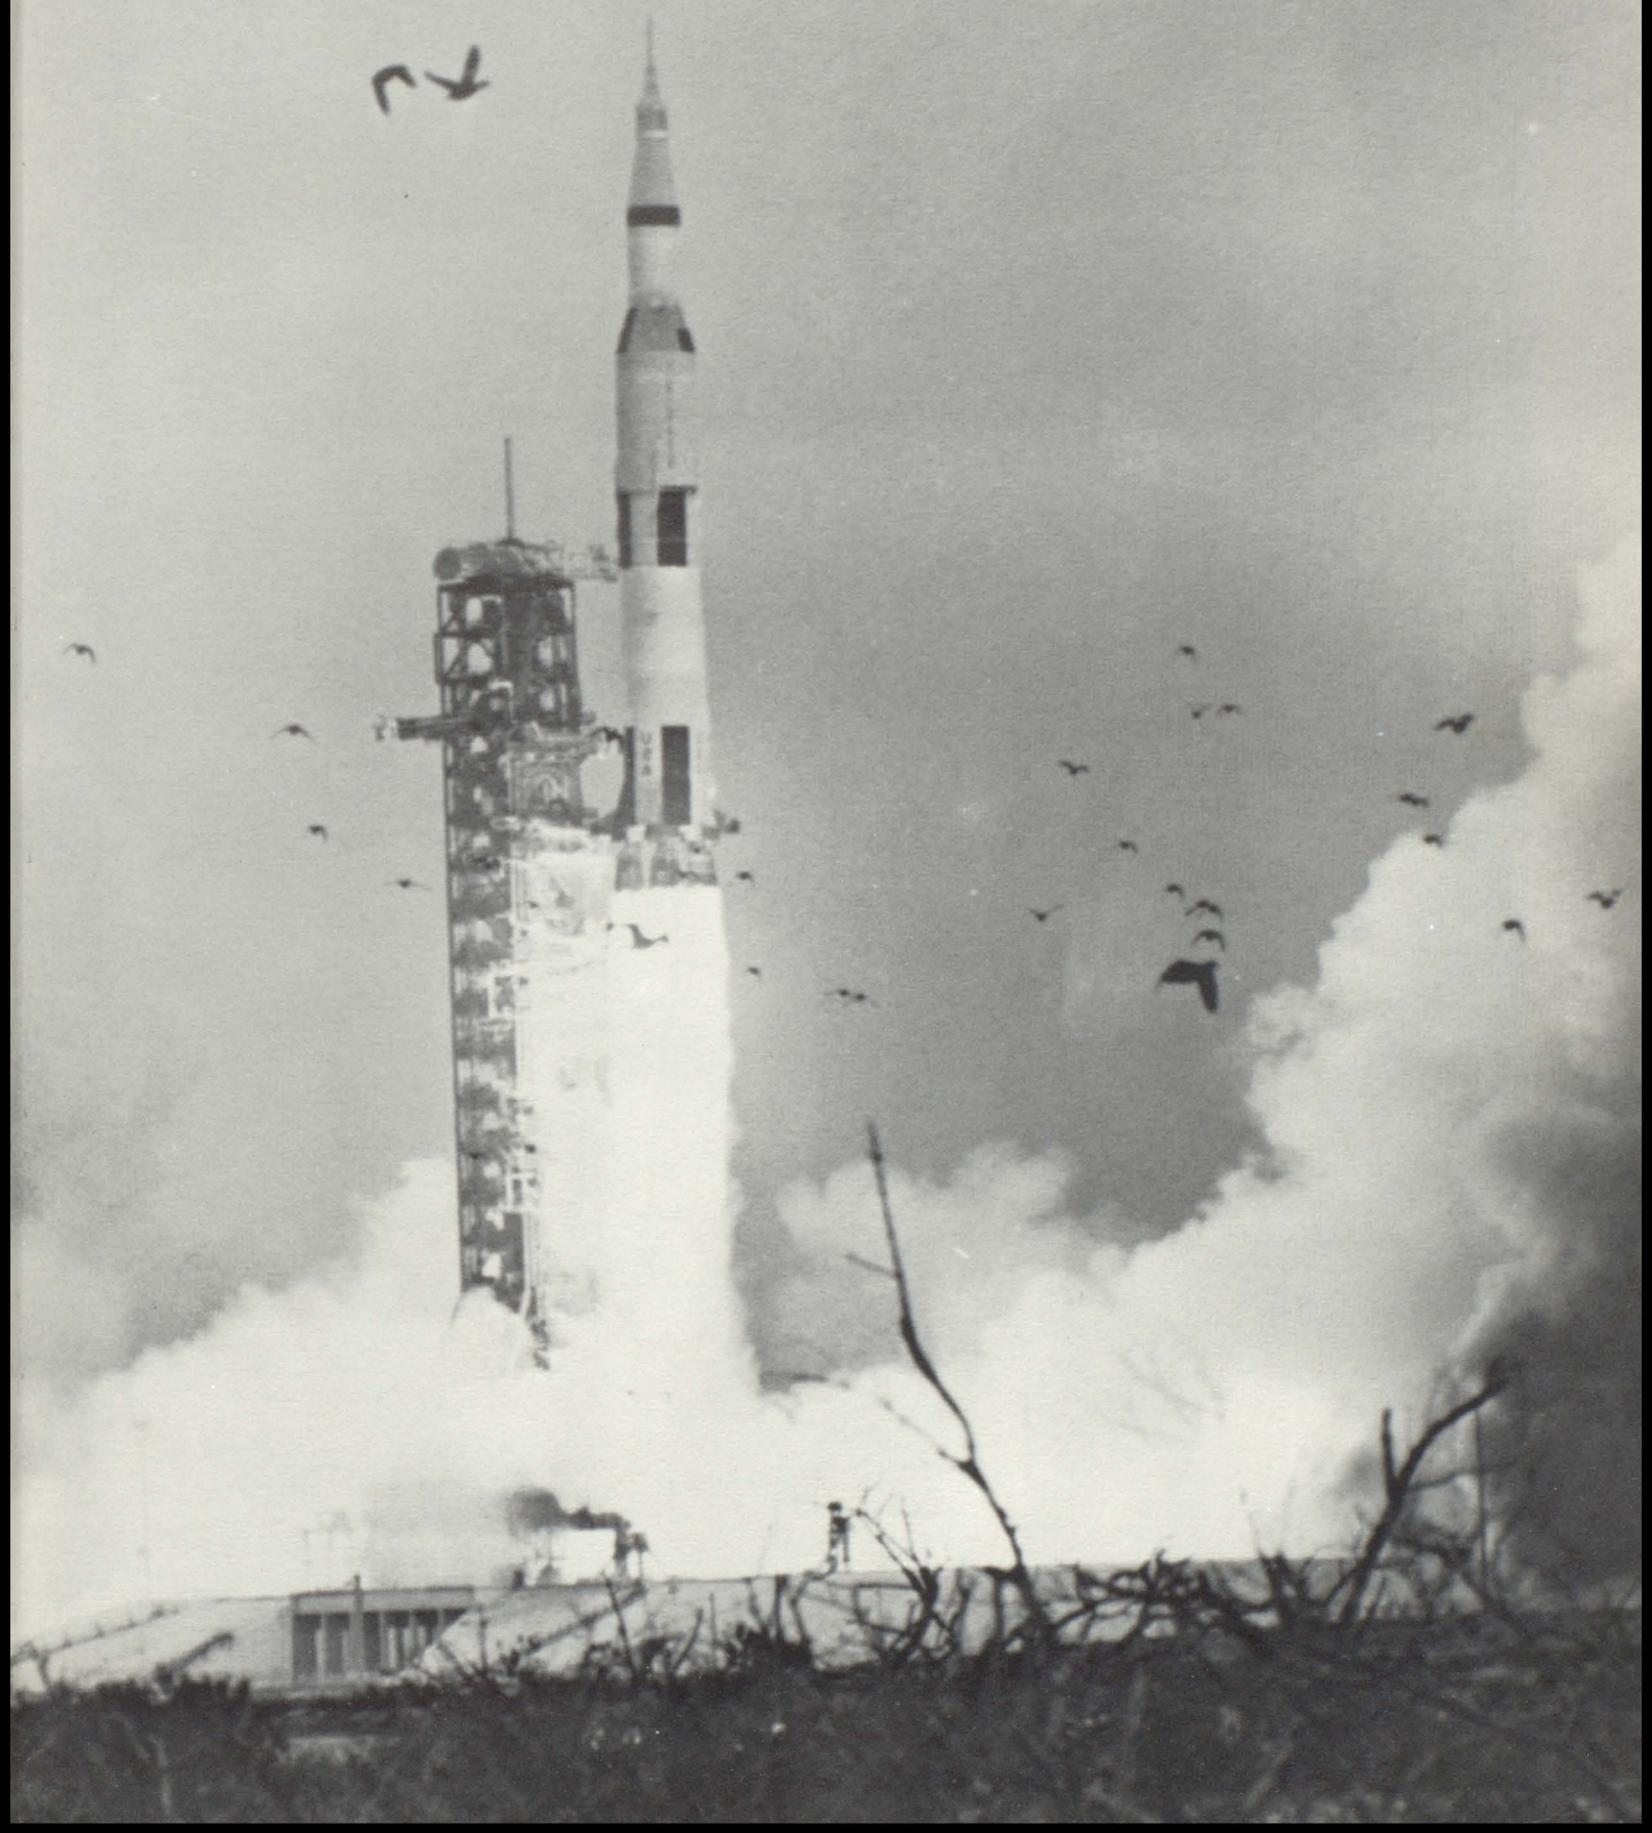

You will discover, as I did, that each person must make his own exploration of the world, make his own discoveries, shape his own triumphs, endure his own tragedies. Each of us is an explorer of himself, of history, of knowledge, of the intricate and beautiful and wonderful varieties of experience.

Each of you will make a different kind of exploration, some in continued formal education, some in industry or business or agriculture. Whatever your choice, learn. Learn all you can about yourself and the world.

Your final year in high school was the beginning of an age of adventure, an age you will help to shape. You have my highest hopes and best wishes.

Richard Nixon

AN END – AND A BEGINNING

All of us involved have the responsibility to strive to make the flight to the Moon not an end in itself, but the spearhead for a whole set of undertakings over the entire front of positive human endeavors, be they in science or the arts, social progress or medicine.

– Dr. Martin Schwarzschild, Astronomer, 1963

No space trip just happens. There are years of careful planning and advance programming; no one realizes this planning more than Mission Control. Mission Control is an intricate organization comprised of a Flight Director and his Assistant, the Capsule Communications Center, the Guidance Center, the Ground Crew, and, most important, the Flight Crew itself.

The Flight Director for Odyssey '69 was Dr. Anatole G. Pendo; his Assistant, Mr. Robert M. Burdett. All programming was placed in their capable hands, and we owe much gratitude to them for their painstaking efforts to insure the success of our voyage.

Our Capsule Communications Center, the behind-the-scenes, integral part of the successful flight of Odyssey '69, was staffed by the dedicated Faculty of Spaulding High School. It is the responsibility of Cap Com to maintain continuous contact between the ground and the space travelers, and without the invaluable help of CAP COM, we might have been lost in space.

The course of Odyssey '69 was very capably directed by Mr. William Rochon and his fine assistants, Mrs. Ernest Hicks and Mr. Robert Abbiati. Most of the crew members did not know at the time of the launching what course our ship would take; the Guidance Center helped us to discover where we were headed.

Mr. Campbell Donaldson, Mr. Clifford Johnson, Mr. Russell Riddel, and Mrs. Gertrude West jointly assumed the duties of managing the Ground Crew, whose job it was to ready the ship for the impending journey and to maintain it in excellent operating condition.

1150 voyagers boarded Odyssey '69, with crew members divided into four teams – seniors, the Prime Crew, with juniors, sophomores, and freshmen forming three back-up crews. This logbook records the activities of these travelers from the launching of the ship in September until splashdown in June.

To see the earth as it truly is, small and blue and beautiful in that eternal silence where it floats, is to see ourselves as riders on the earth together, brothers on that bright loveliness in the eternal cold – brothers who know now they are truly brothers.

–Archibald MacLeish, December 25, 1968

September 4, 1968. Confusion. Freshmen and upperclassmen alike puzzle over the fuzzy sheets that are supposed to be their puzzle schedules for the coming flight. Launching a giant ship into the earth's atmosphere is a feat requiring much organization — organization which is sometimes faulty. Some students are scheduled for two or more classes during the same period; others, luckier, have no place to go during some periods.

Re-scheduling solves the difficulties, and the routine of the school day assumes its familiar patterns. Extracurricular activities are resumed with the first football game of the season at St. Johnsbury. Although this venture proves unsuccessful, we go on to win six of the eight games scheduled.

Construction on the new wing has progressed since last spring.

One of the highlights of October is the Freshman Reception, launching the social life of the Class of 1972. Here they meet the faculty and upper classmen who are to be so much a part of their high school lives, and they also find out that maybe these teachers and students are human after all! October also marks the first influx of student teachers, those hardworking idealists who come to Spaulding only to have some of their illusions shattered, yet who learn just as much as the students whose lives and minds they touch.

by Richardson and Berney

"Hit's hard to go a-courtin' a gal when you a witch!"

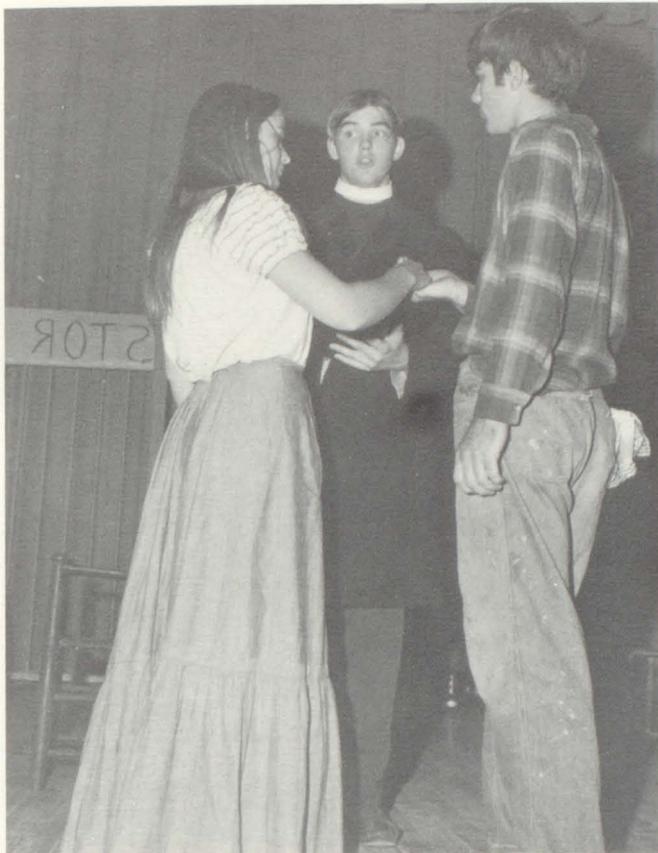

The play's man of the cloth, Bob McWilliam, does costume repair.

"Barbara ain't no gal a yourn!"

"Whom Gawd hath joined together let no man put asunder!"

The Ballad Of Barbara Allen

"A witch-boy from the mountain came
A pinin' to be human,
Fer he had seen the fairest gal . . .
A gal named Barbara Allen.

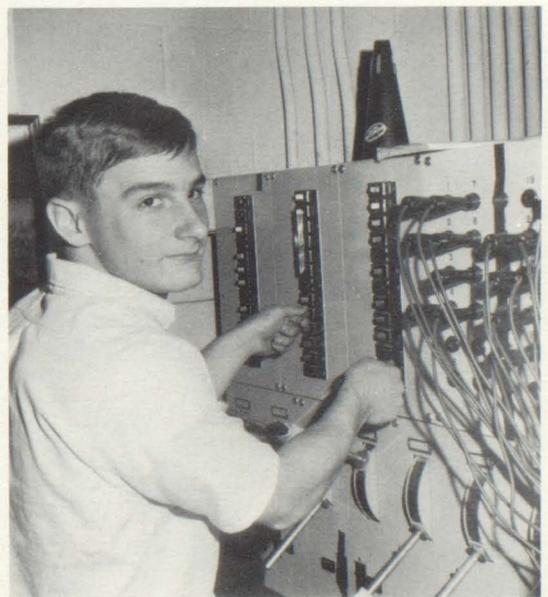

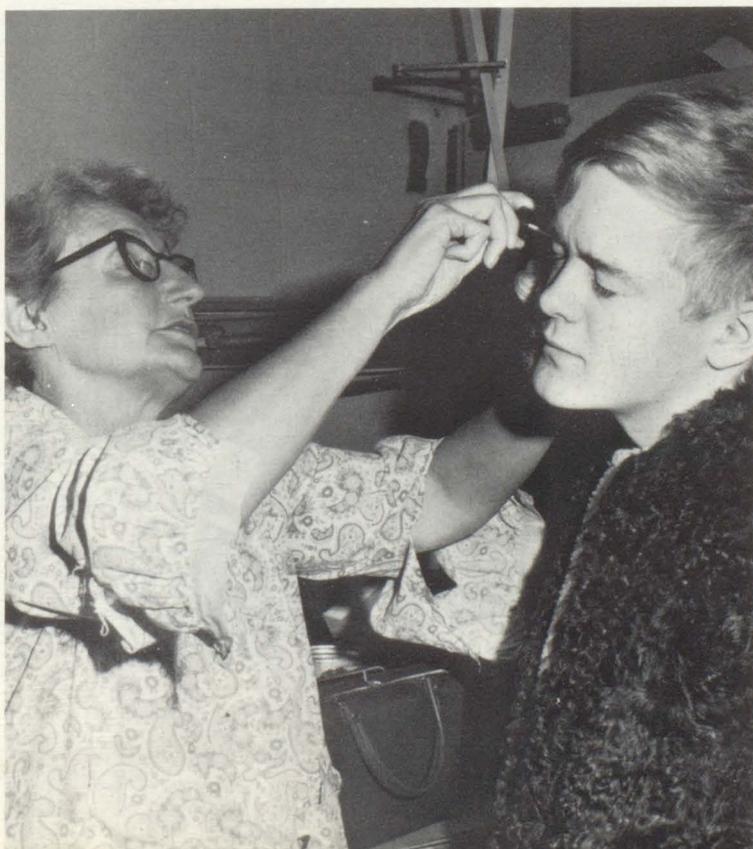

O Conjur Man, O Conjur Man,
Please do this thing I'm wantin'
Please change me to a human man,
Fer Barbara I'd be courtin'.

Now Barbara had a red, red dress
And one she had of blue,
And many men did Barbara love,
But never was she true.

Oh, you can be a man, a man,
If Barbara will not grieve you,
If she be faithful fer a year,
Yer eagle, he will leave you.

O Barbara, will you marry me,
And will you leave me never,
Oh yes, my love, I'll marry you,
And be with you ferever."

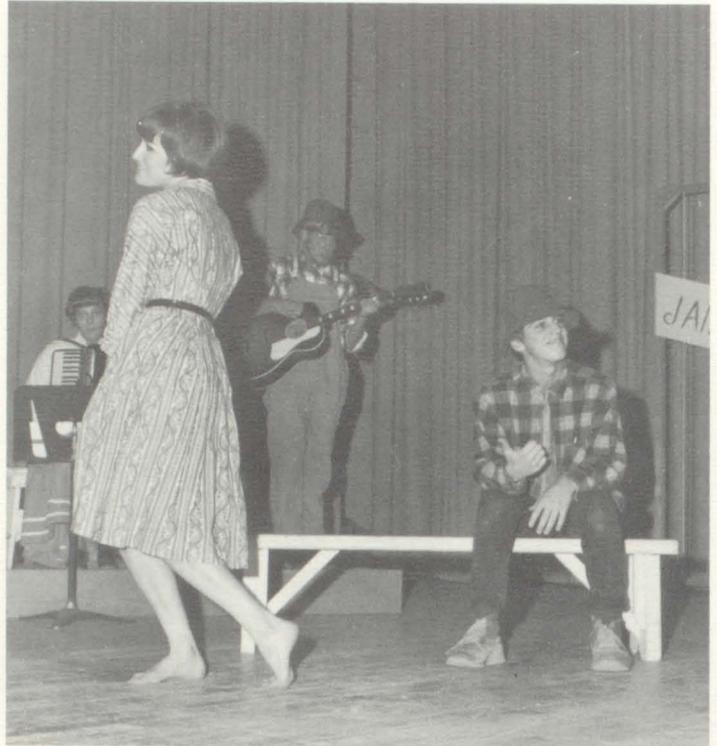

Miss Brown makes up Michael Calhoun for his role as Conjur Man.

Randy Peixotto helps create bewitching scenes with eerie lighting effects.

Debbie Martin and Mary Granai as the Fair and the Dark Witches.

"You ain't got a husband, a man fer to marry you. You ain't got no feller to make you his bride."

Mike Ferrari gets some branches ready for a woodcutting scene.

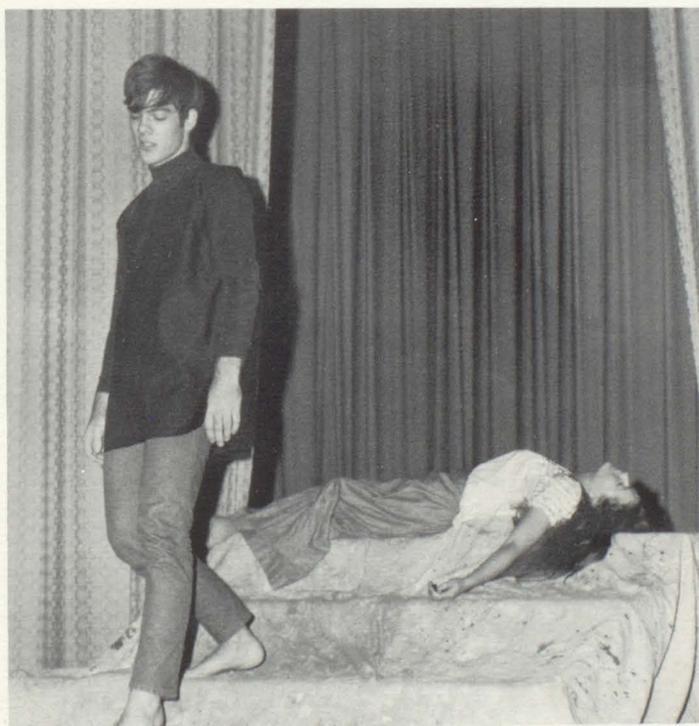

"Oh, my Jesus, take my sin away!"

"We're a stillin', still a stillin' that Smokey Mountain corn!"

The Senior class launches the dramatic season with their presentation of Dark of the Moon, a two-act tragedy based on the legend of Barbara Allen and her witch-boy lover, John, who tries to become human. The witch's love for a mortal causes him to trade immortality for the precarious and brief life of a human man. But the suspicions of the mountain folk infect Barbara and cause her to break her vow of faithfulness, the condition under which her husband remains human. The play culminates with the death of Barbara and the return of John to the eerie world of the supernatural.

"Hit the end a the singin'. Ain't nothin' left."

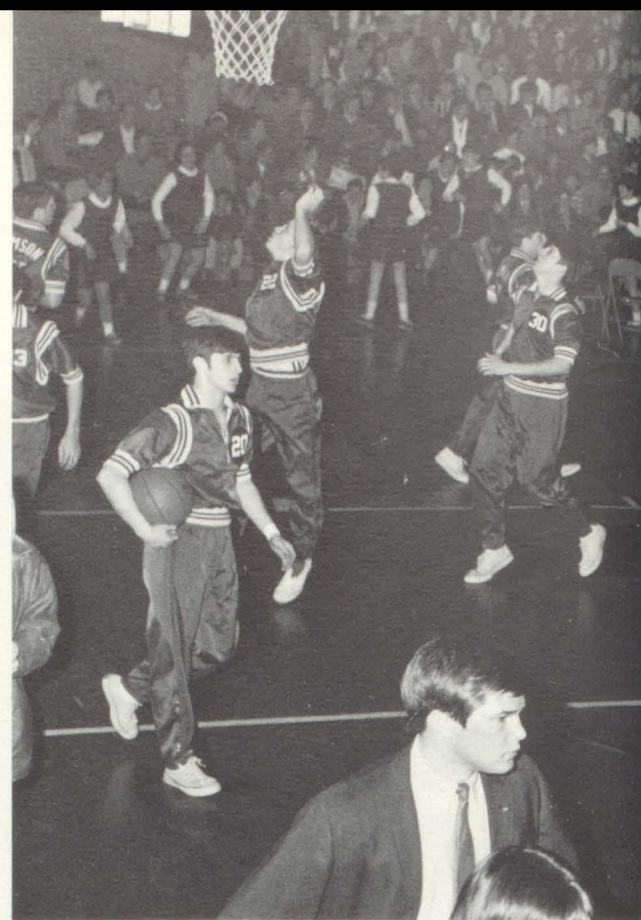

"Why you want to be a human? Don't you know you'll be sorry?"

The 147-hour odyssey during Christmas week of 1968 was the product of centuries of scientific conjecture and experimentation. It was achieved through the creativity and dedication of the greatest task force ever assembled for a peaceful purpose.

Cold February mornings enable us to appreciate the privilege of having breakfast, whether it be a piece of toast or a cup of hot cocoa after arriving at school. We also appreciate the fierce snowstorm which causes us to have the first "Snow Day" away from school in 30 years.

Mon Vrai Destin

(My True Destiny)

In my dreams I hear a voice
Which tells me not to cry
What a pity my eyes are clear springs
In my dreams I hear a voice
Which tells me not to suffer.
What a pity my soul isn't made of stone.

But the voices of my dreams
Don't know the pain of man
But still the bells announce to me
my destiny.

In our house, fragile and gray
We share the dream of life
And the moon smiled in innocence.
In a world full of nothing
Even the promises are like the wind.

And the sun sometimes loses itself
in the clouds.

Don't leave me again;
Don't let me leave.
But still the bells announce to me
my true destiny.

Ray Cerasoli does a fantastic job as goalie. This attempt at a save for his team resulted in a collision with a Northfield plater.

In a year of unusually heavy snows, the Spaulding Hockey Team braved gruelling practice sessions, collapsing arenas, and half-filled stadiums to skate to the top, becoming Vermont's first official High School Hockey Championship Team.

In semifinals, Spaulding topped the Rice team in an action-filled game before a capacity crowd of SHS, Rice, and Northfield fans out to witness either a repeat performance of Rice's close win over Spaulding in basketball earlier in the week, or to applaud the last stand of the Rice Little Indians. As it was, this was the last stand for Norwich's Taylor Arena, where the roof caved in three days later from the weight of heavy snows. Thus, the Gutterson Field House on the UVM campus became the scene of the final bout with Northfield's Maurauders. Having left the ice at the end of the first period trailing 2-1, the Spaulding boys returned to score twice in the second period and then three more times in the final period, allowing only one additional goal for Northfield.

With the inescapable April showers pour down a variety of exciting things to see, to hear, to taste, and to experience. The day after the Spaulding Band plays at the Waterbury State Hospital, an Honors Assembly is held, during which many awards and accolades are conferred upon different students. A return visit is paid by the high school band of Winsted, Connecticut, and both AFS and Interact sponsor booths at the Rotary Home Show. The public announcements of the 1969 delegates to Boys' and Girls' State are made the same day five SHS students leave for the DECA National Leadership Conference in Atlantic City, New Jersey. Sampling French cuisine was the main occupation of the members of Le Cercle Francais as they sang their way, accompanied by Mademoiselle Anderson on her guitar, from table to table during the year. A novelty progressive supper, each course served at the home of different members, was held in December. Later that month a large group of French carollers entertained many residents, ending their merry stroll with a party and a surprise visit from Père Noël. Members of the community also enjoyed tasting the various delicacies, including onion soup, coq-au-vin, crepe-suzettes, vald'isèr potatoes, and French pastries, at the annual French Tasting Supper and the French Café at the Educational Fair. The final French feast was held in May when the already famed SHS French chefs entertained the French Clubs of Marion and Montpelier High Schools.

Elaine Federico and Penny Moran eat lunch with their DECA guests from Newport.

Spaulding's Chapter of DECA was very active this year. The annual candy sale, held in November, was a huge success with a total of 2500 boxes being sold. Another successful fund-raising event was a dance in January. Club exchange visits with the Newport DECA, the State meeting at Montpelier, the annual Employer-Employee Banquet, and the selection of five SHS students to attend the National Convention in Atlantic City, New Jersey were highlights of the year.

"Love Is Blue" — 1968

First runner-up Janice Rossi watches as Brenda Guidici crowns Lynda Darling.

Lynda Darling has little idea that she is to be crowned as she takes her first bow.

Blue hearts, silver hearts, silver stars, love scrolls, and a birch bridge turned the gym into the romantic setting of the Junior Prom 1968. After dancing to the music of the Diplomats, the couples were seated to await the judging. Queen Brenda Giudici, 1967, was escorted to her throne for the last time, followed by the contestants and their escorts. With the final decision, Lynda Darling was crowned Queen of the Prom.

June for us is thrilling, with its National Honor Society ice cream smorgasbord, baseball finals, the state track meet, and, the inevitable fly in the ointment, that which mars perfection, finals. It is also a month of mingled emotions and great expectations as the Inter-Faith service for the seniors, the Alumni Banquet, Senior Weekend (!), the final Awards Assembly, and those harried, frantic rehearsals which ultimately lead to that long-strived-for, bittersweet moment — GRADUATION!

From the nations' airy navies grappling in the central blue;
Far along the world-wide whisper of the south wind rushing warm,
With the standards of the peoples plunging through the thunderstorm
Till the war drum throbbed no longer, and the battle flags were furled
In the parliament of man, the federation of the world.
There the common sense of most shall hold a fretful realm in awe,
And the kindly earth shall slumber, lapped in universal law."

In Memoriam

We will miss the presence of Mrs. Earl (Hazel) Mitchell, who as a language teacher at old Spaulding and a substitute at the new building gave freely of her understanding and knowledge. A 1923 alumna of Spaulding, she was graduated from Radcliffe College with an A.B. degree in 1927. Her death is a loss to the faculty and students of Spaulding High School.

Four Spaulding students were chosen to be among a select group attending various educational summer programs this year. Alan LePage and Donald Smith both took part in programs sponsored by the National Science Foundation, Alan in a program in Economics at Saint Olaf College in Northfield, Minn., and Donald in one in Electrical Science and Electronics engineering at the University of Virginia in Charlottesville, and at Fort Monmouth, N.J. John Snow attended the Telluride Association Institute, a program in contemporary politics at Hampton Institute, Hampton, Va., sponsored by Cornell University. David Richey was fortunate in being selected for the Experiment in International Living, a two-month foreign language study session in France, during which he lived with a French family and studied and travelled in France. All four were juniors at Spaulding this year.

Members of the Spaulding chapter of DECA did well this year. Five members, Donald Bisson, Paul Chartier, Gene Clark, Stephanie Fisher, and Kay Willard, attended the National Convention in Atlantic City, New Jersey. State trophies went to the following: Stephanie Fisher, Girl DE Student of the Year; Kay Willard, DECA Sweetheart; Donald Bisson, first place winner in the demonstration sales contest; Paul Chartier, first place winner in the public speaking contest; Gene Clark, first place winner in the merchandise manual preparation; Elaine Federico, honorable mention for the radio script contest; and Mark McCandless, honorable mention for public speaking.

Parting Is Such Sweet Sorrow . . .

Mrs. Hicks

Dear Mrs. Hicks,

Do you remember the first time we met? It was my first day at Spaulding High School, February 5, 1968. Mr. Rochon, who had been showing me around the school, took me to S-36, and you explained the study program that was then in progress in preparation for taking College Boards. I agreed to give it a try, and from then on, although you weren't my guidance counselor, we worked closely and came to know each other well.

It wasn't long at all before I realized how devoted you are and how much you care about your students. You give of yourself, no matter the cost in time, energy, and hard work. Your only reward is the knowledge that you have helped a student to make an important decision or to overcome another minor crisis. Often this help has changed his entire future.

It is hard to say good-bye to you. We view your departure with mixed emotions: sadness, a sense of loss, disappointment that future Spaulding students will not have the privilege of having you help them through the all-important years of high school, but pleasure, too, in knowing that now you will have more time for your many lively interests. You leave behind a long list of accomplishments and successes, especially those of the Class of 1969: two Merit Scholars and ten students who received letters of Commendation from the Merit Scholarship Corporation!

Mrs. Hicks, we wish you and Mr. Hicks all happiness. We want you to know that we won't forget you; we hope that you will remember us, too. For myself - and for the entire student body - I would like to say, "Thank you."

Sincerely,

Cindy

Mrs. McGill thanks those attending the Retirement Banquet for the mementos given her.

Mrs. McGill responds to the standing ovation given her during the Final Assembly.

To Mrs. McGill

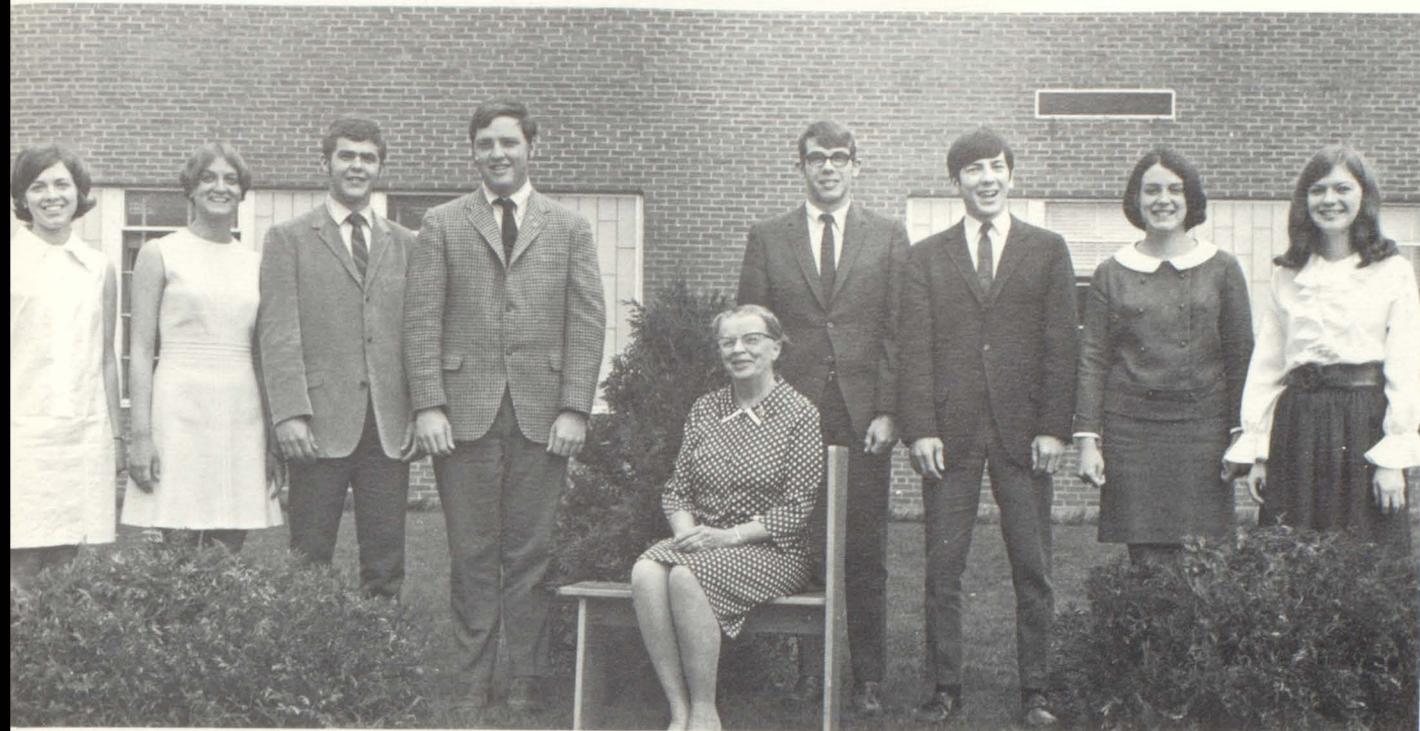

"When you are old and grey and full of sleep
And nodding by the fire, take down this book,
And slowly read, and dream . . ."

. . . of days gone by and memories past, yet new, and all that you have left behind at Spaulding High School. And dream of faces bright and young and questioning, and thoughts as yet unformed, and all that you have done to shape tender minds, to ready them for tomorrow. And when you have dreamed, dream still more . . .

". . . of what is past, or passing, or to come."
