"A kaleidoscope.
A crazy quilt. An ever-shifting pattern. Shapes that come and go, leaving no echo behind." Do you remember these lines from Up the Down Staircase not so long ago? How true these words are when we apply them to our lives!

Life is that never-ending kaleidoscope of which we are all a part. As we grow, the patterns constantly shift and change. Soon we find ourselves in high school, that "crazy quilt" which is a major windmill with which every young person must joust. High school is the beginning – the preparation – the first chance to reach our star.

The only difference in our "crazy quilt," Spaulding High School, is that we do leave an echo behind.

In OUR ECHO 1971 we hope to create lasting memories of one important design in life's ever-changing kaleidoscope as we fondly look back and remember.
For Each Class — A New Year, A New Star To Reach
The pen is the tongue of the mind, and we hope
OUR ECHO 1971 will bring to your memory the windmills we have jousted this year.

In pictures and words we have included a time for some things, a time for all things, a time for great things, and a time for small things.

We want you to adventure through OUR ECHO 1971, following our guide as he encounters many windmills to be jousted, as he helps those in need or distress, and as he sallies forth in search of his star.

And our guide? The famous Don Quixote de la Mancha, otherwise known as The Knight of the Woeful Figure.

- quotations from Cervantes' Don Quixote
DR. ANATOLE G. PENDO

Thirteen is thought to be an unlucky number, and for S.H.S. it is. Dr. A. G. Pendo has been retired this year after thirteen years as Principal of Spaulding High School. He oversaw the building of a library, planned the move to a new school, encouraged the opening of the first Regional Vocational-Technical Center, and helped thirteen classes of seniors receive their diplomas.

This year the class of 1971 was honored to have Dr. Pendo "graduate" with us, and we hope that we have meant as much to him as he has meant to us. He has helped us joust with our bigger windmills, and we appreciate the fine example he has set.

The class of 1971 dedicates Our Echo 1971 with deepest affection and respect to

Dr. Anatole G. Pendo
What is this mystery that men call death?
My friend before me lies; in all save breath
He seems the same as yesterday. His face
So like to life, so calm, bears not a trace
Of that great change which all of us so dread.
I gaze on him and say: He is not dead,
But sleeps; and soon he will arise and take
Me by the hand.

Mrs. Canning lends a helping hand.

When Mrs. Canning opens her gift, she'll find a sterling silver gravy ladle.

Mrs. Canning with Marie Boudreau.

Mrs. Nellie Canning

Mrs. Nellie Canning has forged strong bonds at Spaulding since she came here to teach in the Business Department in 1960. Her son Charles and her daughter Grace were members of the classes of ’63 and ’64.

Mrs. Canning has taken an active interest in both classroom and extra-curricular activities. Although best known for her bookkeeping and office practice classes, her recent courses have reflected changing emphasis in business education. She has taught courses in Key Punch and Data Processing and in Visual Communications. To teach these classes she enrolled in study programs at U.V.M., Husson College, and IBM in Boston.

One of the most active school organizations is Future Business Leaders, which Mrs. Canning founded several years ago, and which she served as adviser until this year. She also assisted as Student Council adviser for three years.

Mrs. Canning looks forward to enjoying the outdoors — "trees and brooks" — during her retirement. She also hopes for more time to enjoy music and books. Our good wishes follow this lady whose quiet dignity and respect for students we shall remember.
Miss Elizabeth S. White

This year one of Spaulding's finest teachers has retired. Miss Elizabeth White, a Spaulding alumna, has been a member of the Spaulding faculty for thirty-nine years, and during this time she has earned the respect of countless students for her scholarship, vitality, kindness, and enthusiasm for learning and living.

Miss White will leave Barre to live on Cape Cod and possibly "keep her hand in" the scholastic world by doing some tutoring. Her special interest in gardening brought an unusual gift from the faculty and staff — a holly tree which now stands in front of her new home.

Miss White is unique. No teacher is more dedicated, interesting, or knowledgeable. The faculty and students of Spaulding wish her a most rewarding retirement.
Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Johnson are guests at the faculty and staff Retirement Dinner.

Mr. Clifford Johnson

Mr. Clifford Johnson has held an important place in the Spaulding "family" as head maintenance man. Whenever anything broke or refused to work, Mr. Johnson always appeared to work his magic. Soon the whistling radiator was quiet, the burned-out light tube had been replaced, and the balky door hinge opened smoothly.

We especially remember Mr. Johnson as the "key man" — always ready to open a locker when we "just forgot." And Mr. Johnson of the "Lost and Found Department" — as he helped us locate our missing books and belongings.

We know that one of the pleasures of retirement will be a chance to enjoy fall hunting. We hope that a buck runs in your direction. And we thank you for all the times you have helped us with such cheerful politeness.

Two members of the Johnson family are leaving Spaulding this spring — Mr. Johnson and his son George, Class of '71.

The Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Bedell, had an active year. A selected group sang Christmas programs for several civic organizations. The entire Glee Club presented a cantata at the Christmas assembly.

After Christmas, the Glee Club prepared for an exchange concert with Methuen, Massachusetts. They travelled to Methuen for a three-day stay, climaxed by a trip to Boston and a concert given May 15. Again, a concert was performed May 22 when Methuen came to visit Barre. The entire program was considered very successful and fun for all.
The After-school Chorus gave an opportunity to a small group of students who just loved to sing or who wanted a bit more musical training to work closely with Miss Bedell.

Special speakers and projects were the main features of the L4 Math Club meetings this year. Mr. Robert Kerr described the use of mathematics in planning Interstate 89 and its access roads. At very informative meetings, Robert McKlennow, a member of the National Life Insurance Co. Actuarial Department, explained the type of mathematics used in life insurance, and Mr. Carlsen, a surveyor, demonstrated the techniques of surveying and mapping. The L4 club members constructed polyhedra as decorations for the school Christmas tree.
Math Club
Challenges
Imagination

In 1959 a small group of students met with Miss White to draw up plans for a mathematics club. L4 became the name of the club and is the mathematical designation for its full title, The Little League of Logic Lovers. The club has been educational rather than social, and through lectures and discussions the members have been well-informed of mathematics and related fields. Among activities of L4 have been field trips to Norwich University and the IBM Plant in Essex Junction. The students were especially interested in computer mathematics and had several speakers on this subject. The successes of members of L4 in mathematics are ample evidence of Miss White's inspired leadership and the club's serious purpose.

Twenty-five freshmen and sophomores enrolled this year in a new course — Humanities. An innovation was a team teaching approach with Miss Bedell, Head of the Fine Arts Department, coordinating the program, Mr. Bohn representing art; Mr. Flink, music; Mr. Skillin, history; Mr. Walz, literature.

In the fall the students took a close look at man and his relation to a higher order, correlating this idea in art, music, history, and literature.

At Christmas the Bread and Puppet Theatre presented a moving multi-media dramatization of The Christmas Story. In the spring the students were treated to a second performance by talented professional actors as they viewed The Grey Lady Cantata a few days before its opening in a successful off-Broadway production.

During a special study of the aged in our society, the students became interested in helping elderly people in nursing homes overcome loneliness. They collected twenty used radios which were repaired and distributed to nursing homes in the area.

One of the most unusual aspects of the year's study was an experiment in discrimination, a week-long experience in being isolated from friends and classmates so that students might understand the social pressures of prejudice.

Jeanne LePage practices another yoga position.

Rifle Team

It has been a winning season for Spaulding's Rifle Team. Our win-lose record is 12-6. The final record in memorable experiences and teamsmanship is recorded only with the riflemen.

Four of the five losses were decided by ten points or less. In rifle competition, ten points equals but one good shot. Each competitor fires forty times in shooting over the four position course; prone, sitting, kneeling and off-hand. The four shooters who comprise the team then fire a total of 160 shots to tally the team score.

In an important match with Northfield, our team actually tied with the opponents. One point either way could have decided the match. In this situation the official rules apply, thus each team's off-hand targets are compared by the range officer and the team with the superior set is awarded the win. Northfield won.

Members of the team demonstrate various shooting positions as Mr. Walker, the coach, looks on.

Mr. Lawrence Walker, who has devoted hundreds of hours to Spaulding rifle teams, has been both coach and friend to the team.

FTA Explores Many Different Teaching Fields

Discovering teaching methods used by different teachers and students and the many fields of teaching highlighted the activities of the Faith Linsley Chapter of FTA. Mr. Robert Abbiati, guidance counselor for the Vocational-Technical Center, spoke to the FTA members concerning his decision to become a counselor and the problems and rewards involved in his work. Mr. Nutter conducted the FTA members on a tour of the VOTEC Center and introduced them to new fields of teaching. Throughout the year, food sales earned money which was donated to the David Ferrari Memorial Scholarship Fund. At the last meeting the FTA members observed the facilities provided for mentally retarded children at the Green Mountain School in Montpelier.

Destination Madrid! All year the Spanish Club quietly plans to make a long-dreamed of trip to Spain a reality for Senora Montague. And it has happened. Paul Simonetta has presented Senora Montague a round-trip ticket to Madrid via Iberia Airlines.

To make the plane ticket possible, the Club worked hard. One of its most successful ventures was a joint tasting supper with the French Club. Mmmm! Everything from paella for the main course to flan for dessert.

The Spanish Club is unique among Spaulding clubs – the very first to make a foreign trip possible for its teacher-adviser.

This year, DECA members were active in community and state projects, starting with participation in the Market Research on the Interstate 89 promotion. During the Christmas Season, they judged home decorations in the Barre area for the Merchants’ Bureau and decorated Christmas trees for the underprivileged. To raise money, DECA sponsored the first informal dance of the school year and later sold Fanny Farmer Candy. Twenty-seven DECA members participated in the Vermont DECA Leadership Conference on March 3rd and received fourteen awards. The week of April 15th to 21st, Martha Lamorey, Coleen MacRitchie, and Laurie Wright represented the Vermont Chapter of DECA at the National Leadership Conference in San Antonio, Texas. On May 5th, DECA took a field trip to Jordan Marsh and other commercial sites in Boston.

The Spaulding Chapter of FHA was runner-up in the Northern District for its community activities for the year. In recognition of their projects, the Sears Foundation presented a Red Rose Certificate for $50.00.

Among the FHA community projects was the delivery of a complete Thanksgiving dinner to a needy family—a project which brought the members real joy.

The girls also visited the White Nursing Home regularly. They read and wrote letters for the patients. They also prepared attractive holiday favors for the trays during the year.

Candy sales, a car wash, and a food sale were the main fund-raising projects for the Future Business Leaders. At Christmas time the members sold boxes of candy, and later in the year they had a successful fudge sale. With the profits from these ventures, the girls enjoyed a visit to the famous Shelburne Museum, and after touring the museum they went out to dinner before returning to Barre.

In the spring the club had a happy, sticky time at a sugar-on-snow party at Mrs. Canning's camp in Bolton. Mrs. Canning founded the chapter of Future Business Leaders at Spaulding, and until Mrs. Hayward took over the leadership this year, she had been its adviser.

This year Diane Fitch has the honor of having her own art show at Spaulding.

Man, as seen through an artist's eyes.

To qualify for an exhibit in the Student Art Fair, students entered Regional Art Shows held at various places in the state for artists in kindergarten through grade 12.

Selections from these shows are exhibited at Spaulding and include paintings in all media, sculpture, jewelry and craft work.

The high quality of the exhibits is a source of delight and pride in the accomplishments of the young artist in Vermont.

Poem 17

If you see me flying with the wind –
Don’t pull me to the ground.
The air is vibrant at such heights –
It’s me.
When I’m climbing to the mountain’s top –
Don’t call me back.
The air is less, will make me dizzy –
I might fall.
If you notice I am gone –
Don’t cry.
At last I’m free.

Mr. Robert Freeman
Miss Watson, Beverly Ripley, Susan Thurston, and Priscilla Pixley at a regular weekly staff meeting. Our Echo 1971 represents hundreds of hours of work by a small, dedicated staff.

The Pen Is The Tongue Of The Mind

— Don Quixote

Frank Murphy assists Mr. Conte, our professional photographer, in capturing an unusual angle.

Miss Watson, Editorial Adviser, creating an imaginative idea.
Mr. Freeman, Adviser for Business, also helped us with the technical details of printing.

Karen Hurley's artistic talents are everywhere in Our Echo. Note the senior pages, the awards pages and the special graduation feature.

Michael Caccavo joined Robin Dessureau in doing pen and ink drawings. Priscilla Pixley isn't so sure of Mike's idea.

Paula Ladd's lively interest in sports gave her a special insight into completing the difficult sports pages. She was capably assisted by co-editor of sports, Frank Murphy.
Time it was,
And what a time it was,
It was . . .
A time of innocence,
A time of confidences.
Long ago . . . it must be . . .
I have a photograph.
Preserve your memories;
They're all that's left you.

A Time For Great Things

— Don Quixote

Senior Class Advisor Mr. Skillin endures the many windmills of graduation week.

The chairs are empty, the diplomas are ready, the seniors are waiting . . .

Anita Pelkey is ready and faces the future with a quiet heart.
And there were other moments of joy and spontaneous applause, since this class is somewhat different in having several who are handicapped in various ways. Their success in reaching this point in their educational effort was warmly applauded.

(The Times-Argus)

Miss Bedell directs the Glee Club in singing "The Impossible Dream" from Man of La Mancha.

James Rising announces the names of the graduates as they receive their diplomas.

Mr. Burdett looks forward to a "time for great things" at Spaulding High School.
As we leave Spaulding tonight, let us all, regardless of past accomplishments or lack of them, remember that "God giveth to a man that is good in his sight wisdom, and knowledge, and joy."

In touching words, Dr. Pendo expressed his thanks for the many kindnesses shown him and his family by the students, faculty, and by the people of Barre and spoke of the many surprises he has had this year, making it even more difficult to leave school work. (The Times-Argus)

"Pleased with education? Not us!" What do we do? The solution to this momentous problem must come from us, the students... The first solution that comes to mind is to abolish education completely, but that's too easy.
MICHAEL LaCROIX in his Farewell Address charges the class to meet challenges and pays tribute to parents, students, and teachers whose lives have enriched ours. Michael points out that we stand on the threshold of adventure.

BETSY REID, Class Treasurer, thanks Dr. Pendo on behalf of the students, saying that he has instilled in the students a pride in achievement. She presents him a purse as "a token of our deep appreciation for all you have given us."

ARLENE CASSORT, third honor in the College Course, asserts that "for one brief moment we are as one.

THOMAS LEAVITT and NANCY FRIBERG quote from Life is You and Me: "Life is dreaming the impossible dream..."
Fortune May Have Yet A Better Success In Reserve For You, And Those Who Lose Today May Win Tomorrow.

Dennis Bilodeau

We are happy that Dennis Bilodeau joined our class this year. As we watched him walk with swift assurance to his classes, it was hard for us to realize that he is blind.

Dennis' participation and involvement in his classes has been a source of pride to all of us. We were challenged by his classroom achievements as we listened to his perceptive answers.

When we discovered that Dennis was an active member of the Spaulding Wrestling Team, we were both thrilled and awed. His presence on the team gave us an additional reason to be interested in the Wrestling Team's season.

Dennis has been accepted at Johnson College, where he hopes to explore his interests in science and ecology.

We were intrigued with Dennis' methods of completing homework: the tape recorder, his typewriter, and a special machine that printed Braille.
kind of victory
- from Don Quixote by Cervantes

Elsie’s red rose is a fitting symbol of her fine courage.

“There is a certain blend of courage, integrity, character, and principle which has no satisfactory dictionary name . . . Our American name for it is guts.” — Louis Adamic

Elsie Davis

We have watched with admiration as Elsie Davis, crippled by cerebral palsy, has walked the long halls and climbed the many stairs to her classes during four years at Spaulding. Her friendly smile and her warm “Hi!” have been a source of pride and pleasure to all of us as her sunny disposition brightened our days.

Elsie’s interest and concern for others is reflected in the fact that she has worked with mentally handicapped children at Silver Towers.

Next fall Elsie will be a student at Johnson College, where she hopes to become proficient in writing so that she can reach her long range goal — journalism.
Diversified Education

Diversified Education is an innovative program within the Regional Vocational-Technical Center. This program is designed to serve students who have special educational needs and is so planned that they may become both productive and participating members of the community. Mr. Brian Lack is coordinator of the program, while Mrs. Constance Reilly and Mr. Richard Tyler are the regular instructors. Boys receive instruction in woodworking and repairs, while girls learn techniques of cooking and sewing. All students have daily practical training in language and math. There is also special emphasis on good grooming and good manners. The Class of 1971 is proud to be the first class to share graduation with these students.

Richard Ennis prepares to distribute tools in Mr. Tyler's woodworking class.

Linda Tweedy and Diane Burnor carefully fit the pieces of a pattern.
