In My Life

*There are places I remember
All my life, though some have changed,
Some forever not for better,
Some have gone and some remain.
All these places have their moments
With lovers and friends
I still can recall.
Some are dead and some are living
In my life I loved them all,
But of all these friends and lovers,
There is no one compares with you.
And these memories lose their meaning
When I think of love as something new.
Though I know I'll never lose Affection for people and things that went before,
I know I'll often stop and think about them.
In my life, I loved you more.*

— Beatle Song

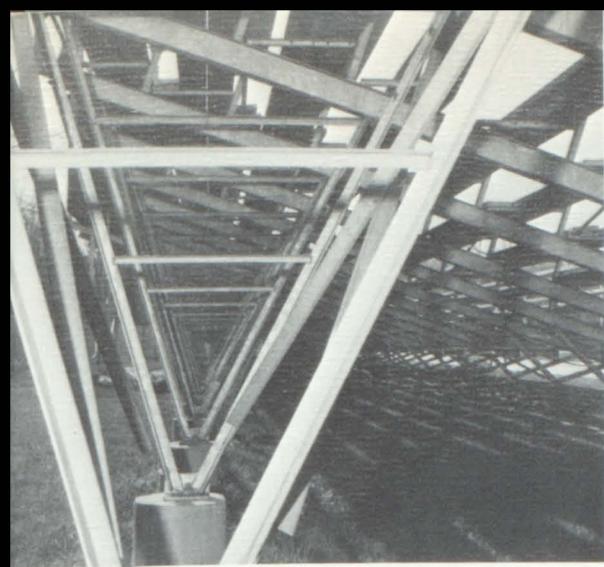

Sung at Commencement
June 14, 1973

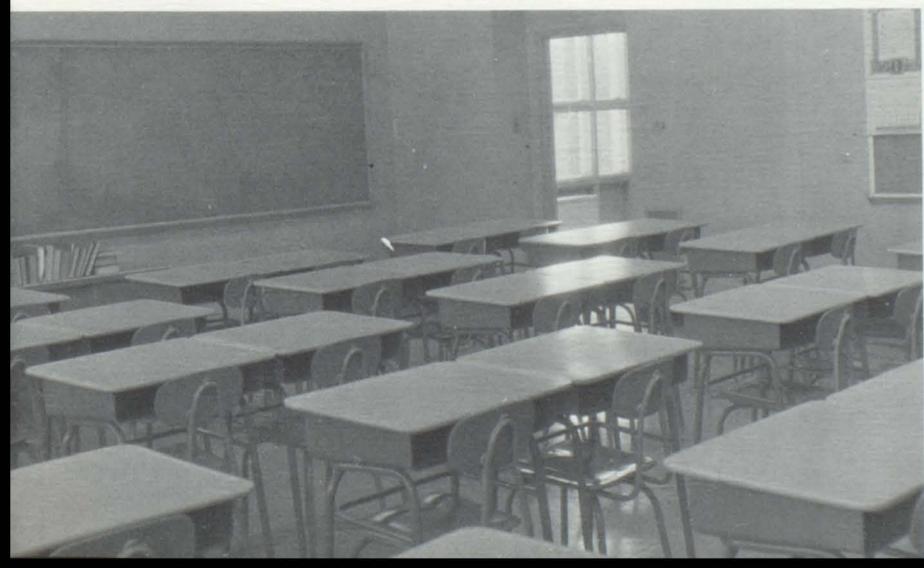

September 1969, and suddenly here we were, surrounded by places we didn't know . . . long halls, big classrooms, a huge auditorium, an empty gymnasium . . . and 1300 unfamiliar faces! Four years have passed, and we have become acquainted; we have grown to like the people and to enjoy our surroundings.

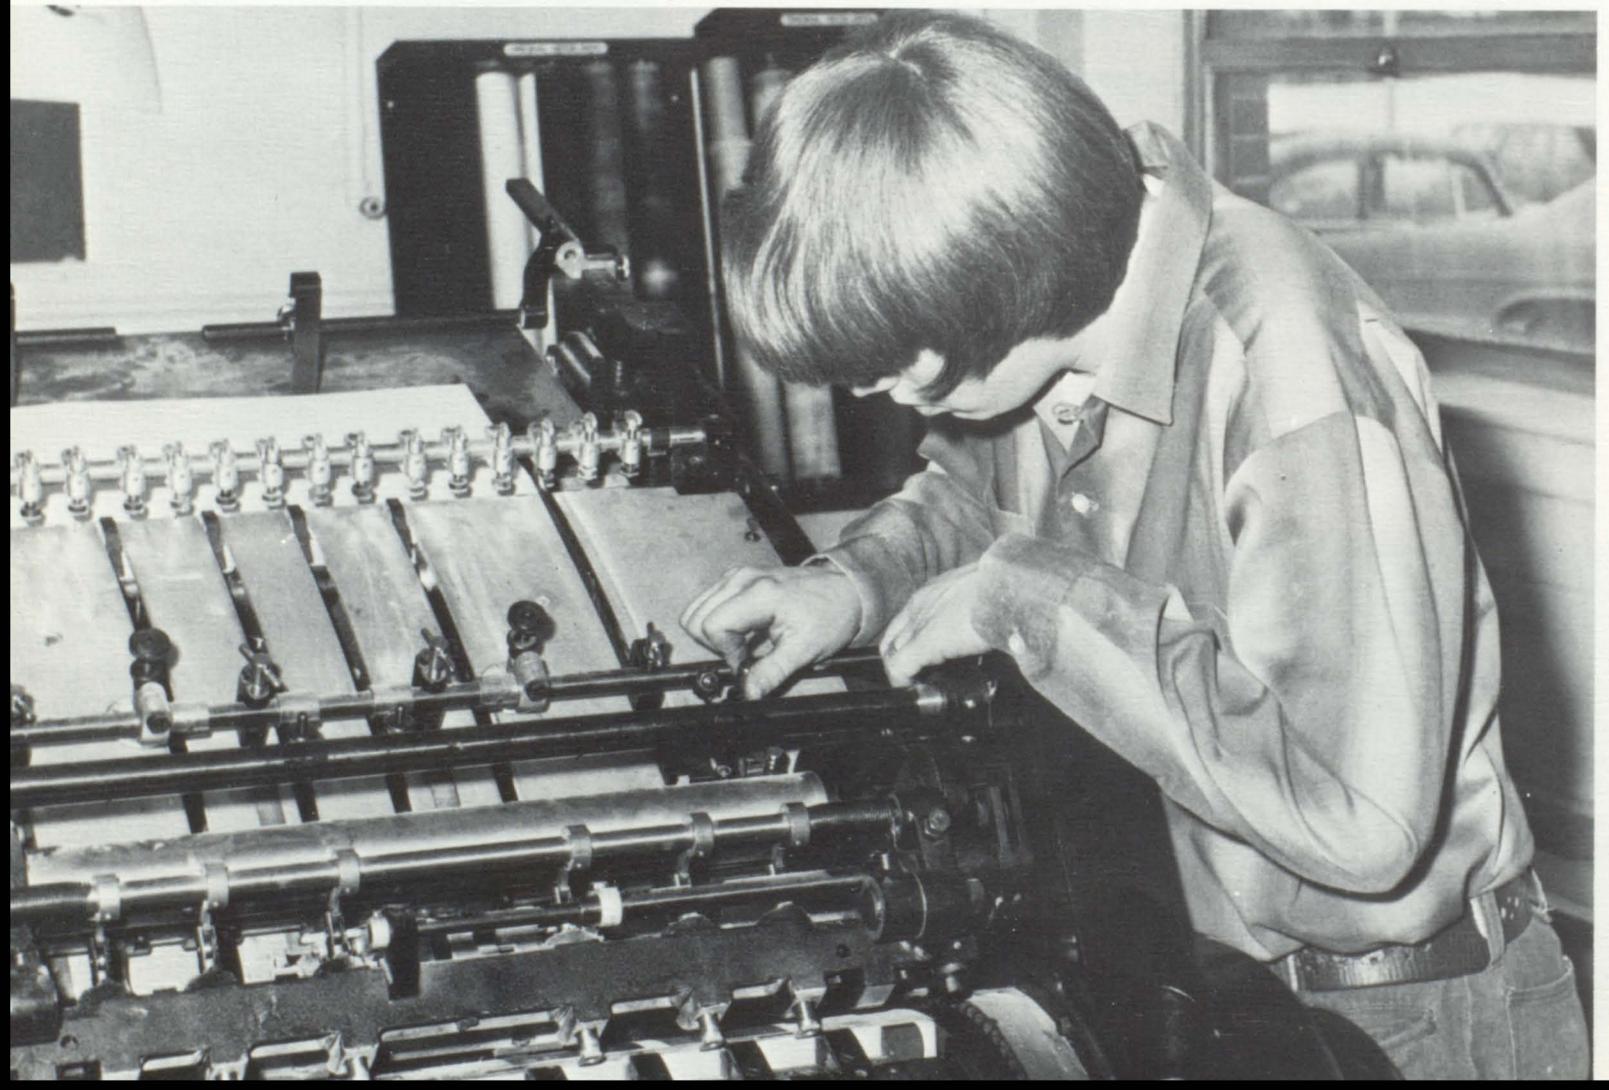

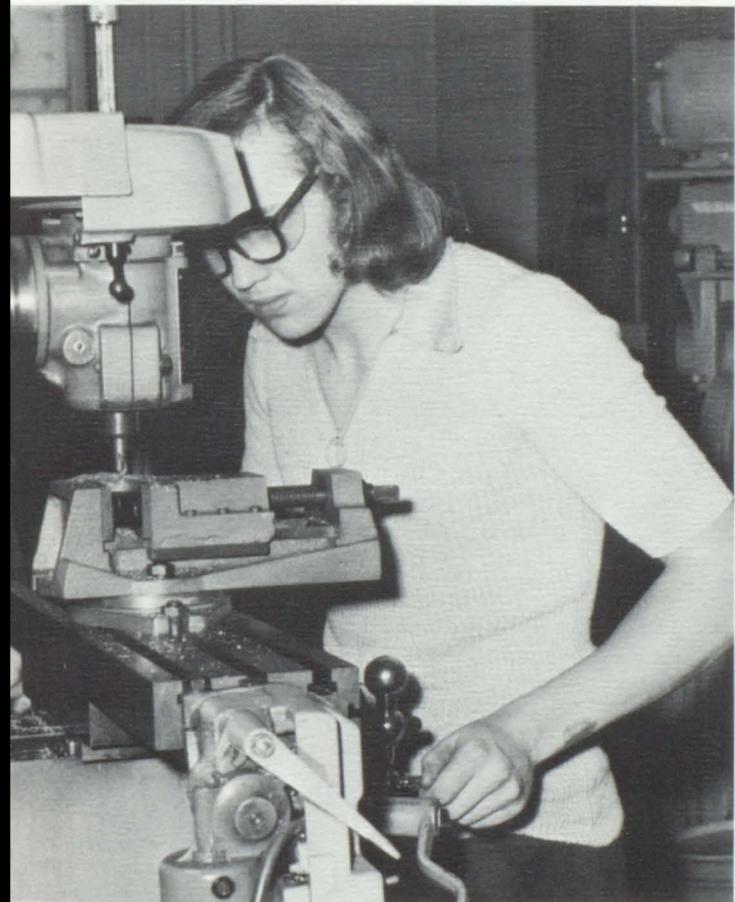

During these four years at Spaulding High School, we have encountered many new people and visited many unusual places. Each one means something different to each of us. Come as we retrace our footsteps through our year 1973. Meet the people and visit the places which are important to us.

Our Classrooms

Here are some of our classrooms, the heart of Spaulding High School. Here we find the rhythm of our year. We see the laboratory where our curiosity is aroused, the art class where we find the joy of creativity in sketching a portrait, the machine shop and the printing graphics class where we acquire precision and skills necessary for modern industry. The challenges of our classrooms are rich and rewarding.

Our Gym

Physical education classes, pep rallies, junior proms, art shows, even donkey basketball games, all these have made our gym one of the busiest spots this year. Hard work and exercise, imagination and fun, these have filled our days. We remember steel wool sculptures, lively music, excitement . . .

Large audiences have entered our auditorium doors to enjoy fine music and dramatic evenings, as well as other memorable events — You Can't Take It with You, our senior play, excellent glee club, band, and orchestra concerts, an up-to-the-minute showing of fashions created in homemaking classes, the ever-witty and entertaining Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, The Pirates of Penzance, the rollicking Faculty Follies, and finally, the quietly moving Recognition Sunday service — an inspirational beginning for our graduation week ...

Our Auditorium

At our suggestion, the School Board has named our athletic field in memory of Dr. A. G. Pendo, who enjoyed with us games and pep rallies, hot dogs and cokes, bonfires and cheers, and most of all, graduation.

We've Been Here Before

All these places,
They've been homes for us;
We've lived here,
Or so, at least, it seems.

They've seen us all,
Happy and sad;
They've seen us laugh and shout
And sometimes cry.

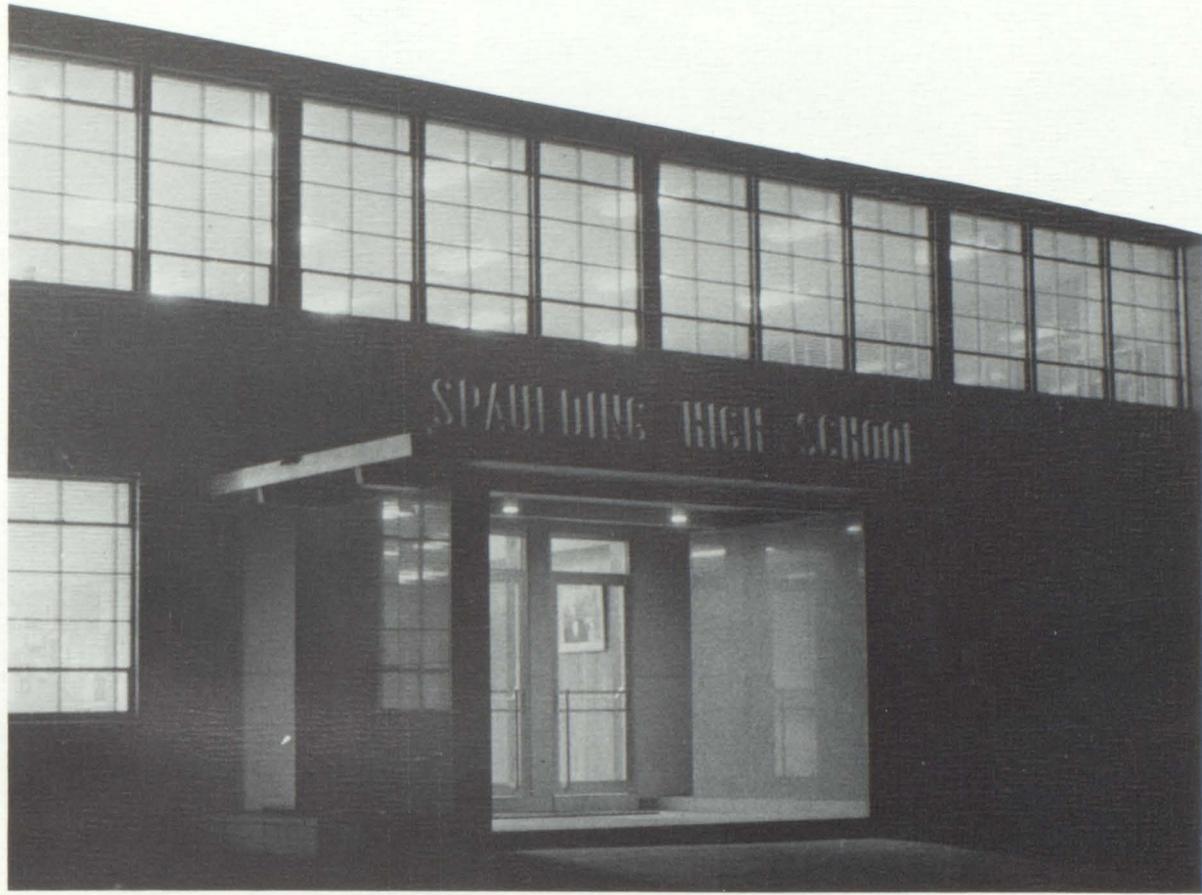

How do we say good-bye
To places we have lived?
How do we say good-bye
To places we have loved?

We won't say good-bye,
We'll just quietly steal away.
We'll visit these places again,
But it won't be the same.

Denise Collins and Maric Perry

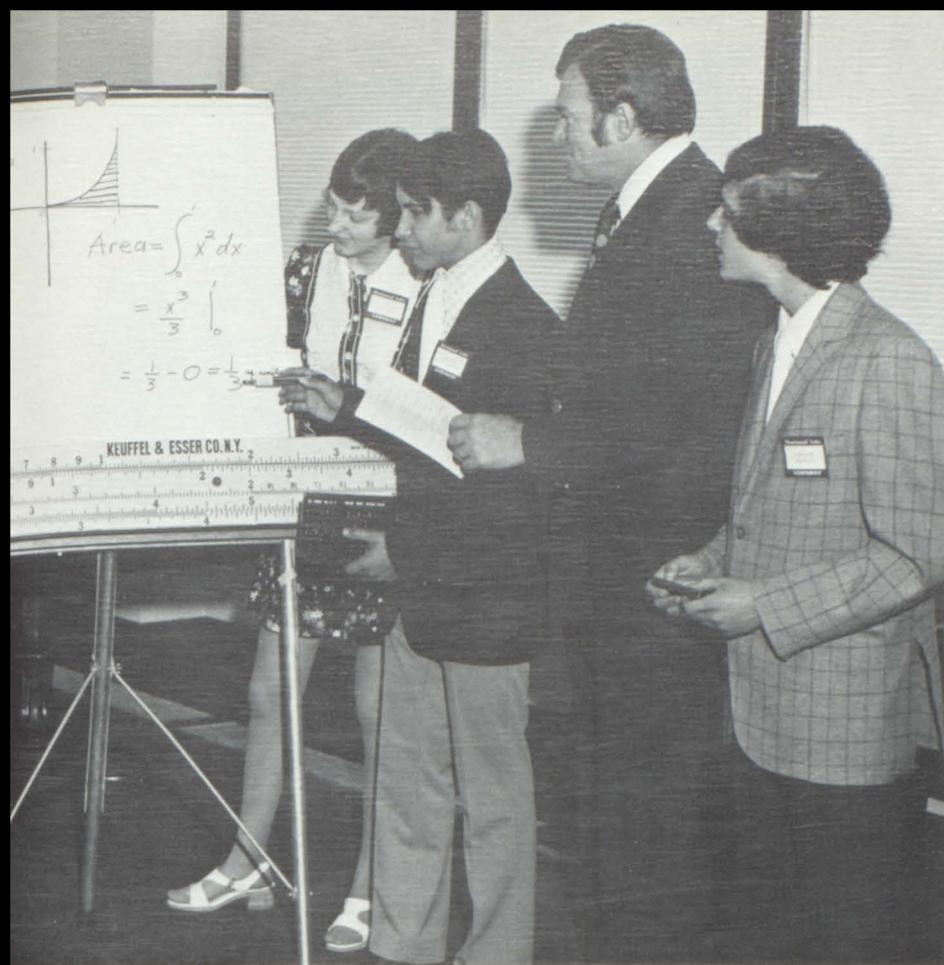

"Quiet everybody! Quiet! (All heads are lowered as Grandpa starts to say Grace.) Well, Sir, here we are again. We want to say thanks once more for everything You've done for us. Things seem to be going along fine. Alice is going to marry Tony, and it looks as if they're going to be very happy. Of course the fireworks blew up, but that was Mr. DePinna's fault, not Yours. We've all got our health and as far as anything else is concerned we'll leave it to You. Thank You." — the final scene in You Can't Take It with You.

WINTER

thoughts of a winter day

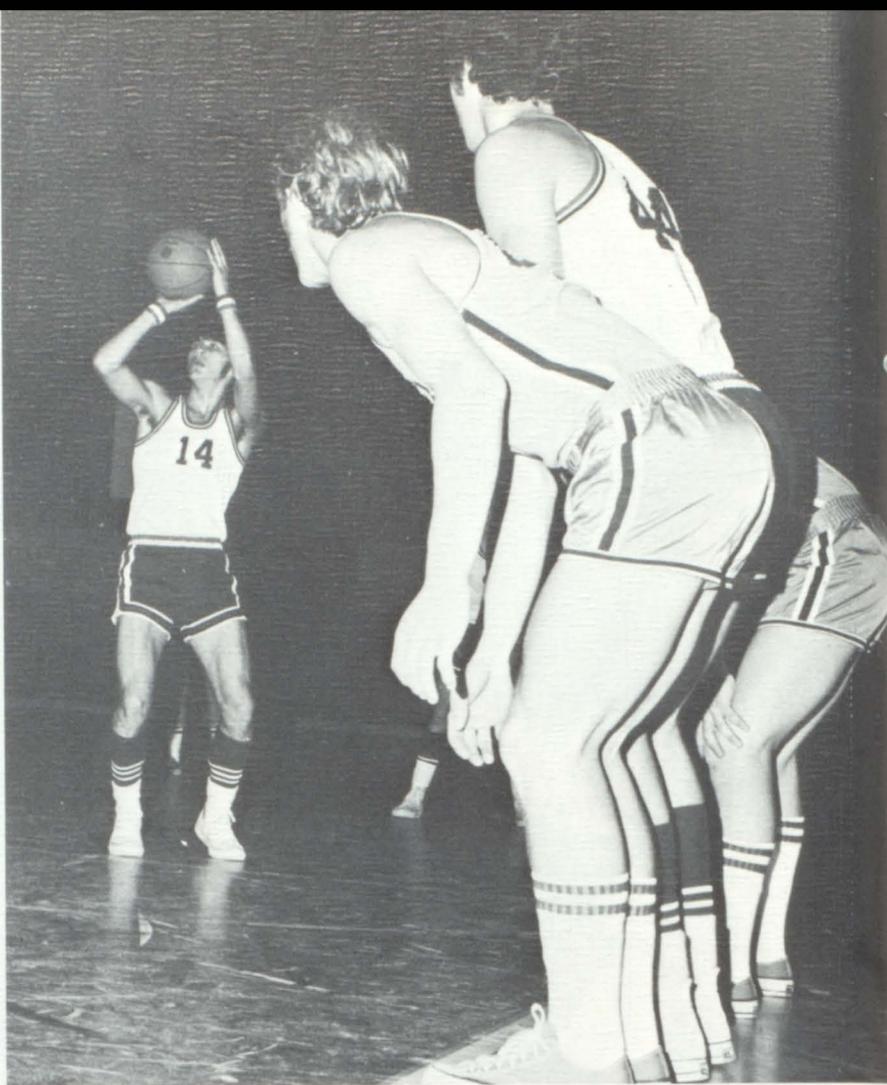

endless snowflakes falling to the ground, cold, brisk, windy air,
salt making white rings around boots, ears and noses white with frostbite, icy roads, cars stuck in ditches . . .
when will it end?

snow settling quietly over the ground,
clean, fresh air,
bright blue sky with sun-reflected sparkles
    darting in the snow,
rosy-cheeked faces,
snow lying quietly on branches, still,
    making no sound . . .
is this beauty the work of God?

Spring is here! With the snow melted, the trees are turning green once again and the dandelions are blooming. Our activities are more and more outdoors; baseball, track, and tennis; sunbathing; watching parades — all these are our pleasures. The Junior Class sponsors the annual Junior Prom with the theme "Sunday in the Park," while the band makes Sunday in the park an occasion for a pleasant concert. The Rifle Team achieves our only State Championship this year. The Boosters Club holds an awards banquet for all our athletes. In the meantime, the faculty and staff stages the "Faculty Follies" and add a substantial sum to the Spaulding Scholarship Fund.

Turn the pages with us to share the memorable moments of June, culminated by that long-awaited day, Graduation.

The Wards of Major General Stanley decked out in England's elegant finery. The singing and dancing added just the right zest for a great show. Below are Lise Messier as Mabel and Brian Amet as Fredric, the pirate apprentice.

The auditorium was full, and what a warm, fun-hearted group it was! The show went even better the second night. You could tell the audience was really into it, when after the lover-leads sang there was no applause, but there was a feeling of emotion which was deep and touching. The curtain calls, the tears, the hugs! Gilbert and Sullivan? Fantastic stuff.

Spaulding's Noyes Wins 440 in State Meet; Girls' Softball And Tennis Growing Spring Sports

We are pleased with the 1973 Track Team's performance at the State Meet in Bellow Falls. The team picked up 13 points, with Dave Noyes winning the 440. Dave ran the event only twice during the season, and on his second try came home with the championship. Mike Dickinson was fourth in the javelin, Tony Bianchi took sixth in the high jump, Tony Sykes' good two-mile effort brought him a fine third place, while he placed sixth in the mile. John Marshall finished fifth in both the 100 and the 220. Spaulding's thinclads rounded out a good season by sending Dave Noyes, Tony Sykes, Mike Dickinson, and John Marshall to the New England Meet.

The fine new courts, constructed on our former parking lot, have greatly increased interest in tennis. Under the tutelage of Coach Paul Poirier, a growing number of students look forward to both intramural and intermural events.

Fine spring weather found an eager group of Spaulding lasses competing against nearby schools in softball. Softball, too, is a sport that is attracting more students to participate in our varied athletic programs.

Deerfield, Mass. is a center for the pickle industry, so we decided to present the Deerfield Band Director with a special pickle, Spaulding High variety.

Clarke Scott welcomes the Deerfield Band to SHS.

With many promising underclassmen and a large number of experienced seniors, the Band had a busy, successful year.

During the fall, we played at home football games, and at Christmas we performed for the holiday assemblies. Later a smaller group known as the Pep Band played for home basketball games.

As the year progressed, we began preparing for our annual exchange concert, and in March we travelled to Deerfield, Mass., stopping on the way to present a concert at Bellows Falls High School. Later in the spring the Band presented assemblies, an evening concert, and an open-air concert.

The high point for the year was the announcement that the Barre Rotary Club had voted to fund the purchase of new uniforms for the entire Band. We are, indeed, grateful to these public-spirited men who are encouraging future students to discover the work, success, and fun that band membership provides.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Rossano went with a group to London, England where, strolling along the Thames River and through London streets, they were able to see Westminster Abbey and the traditional Changing of the Guard at Buckingham Palace among many other well-known and daily English sights.

Mrs. Levadie, Mrs. Betty Phinney and Mrs. Robert Morris went with a group to Madrid, Spain. One of the high-lights of their trip was seeing a Spanish bullfight.

Another group with Mr. Glenn Tosi and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Wheeler visited Paris, France. They enjoyed seeing the Eiffel Tower, the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, Notre Dame and other famous landmarks.

Humanities Classes Enjoy Field Trip to Shelburne Museum.

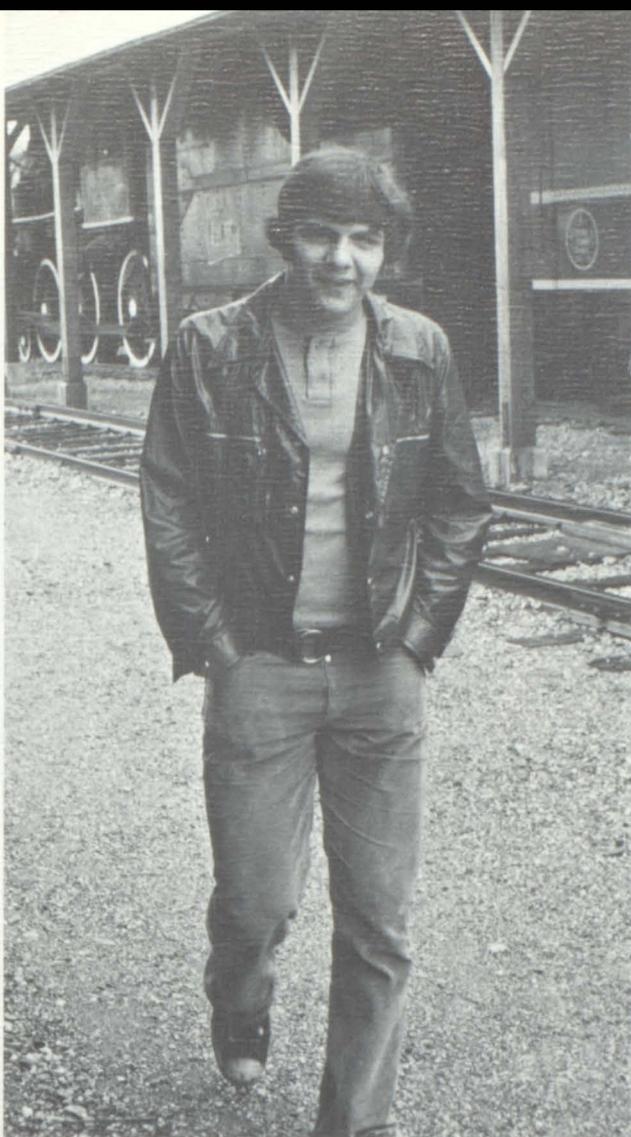

Sharon Abbiati, Dale Lavalley and Bonnie Brown are obviously enjoying Craig Whitcomb's uncomfortable situation.

"C'mon! Somebody let me out."

Sharon Abbiati and Bonnie Brown pose on the porch of the General Store.

Frank Corey

The Ticonderoga in her final resting place.

"You didn't get out of the rain fast enough!" says Mr. Flink to Vicki Booth and Nancy Hunt while Mrs. Flink looks on.

Two all-day field trips to the Shelburne Museum completed the year for the Humanities classes. Although the First group enjoyed fair weather, the second group was not so fortunate. Yet it is easy to see from the smiles amidst the slickers and bedraggled hair that they didn't let the rain dampen their spirits. They especially liked the Circus Parade Building, the Electra Havemeyer Webb Memorial Building and the Castleton Slate Jail.

Nick Bergeron, Athlete of the Year in Sentinel poll.

Mini Courses Bring Year to a Satisfying End.

Thinking of graduation, only a few hours away.

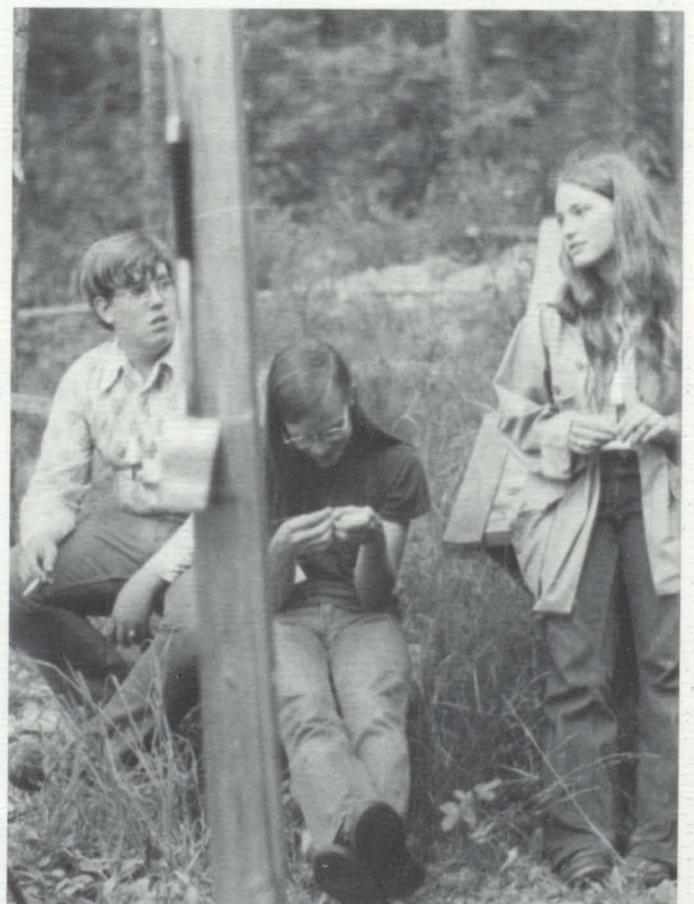

The seniors all agree that the mini courses are a great way to end the year. We shall treasure memories of mountain climbing in the White Mountains, visiting the Maine coast, canoeing on the Connecticut River, seeing Godspell in Boston

The Maine coast and an authentic shore dinner with clams, lobster, and all the fixings.

Mr. Lee shows Dale Wright how to open a clam shell.

Mike Bailey, Dick Hoermann and Beth Thompson reminisce.

Celestials

The music of the sun is speaking to me in rays of warming colour while the spirit of the cloud becomes a surging burst of blending tones.
The air in which I live and sleep takes on a muted feel of rushing depth
as the splendid bird of flaming white takes wing,
not leaving me behind.
The hand of you reaches out to me,
I take it
knowing why.
Like a budding branch of greenery
we reach for the sky
believing what we feel.
Stretching sound molding water
seeing only transparencies, our hands are joined with those of the stars — and you and I begin.

— Brian Amet

And This Is Love

"I only had but one son that lived.
I had four and saw three of 'em buried."
Oh, now my heart aches to see the tears run down this poor old woman's cheeks.
She doesn't understand my sorrow —
just my smile and the squeeze of my hand.

"I once had a girl just your age . . . she's married now
She has three or four children. I don't recall . . .
my mind is so old . . ."

I squeeze her hand again, and this time she squeezes mine, too.

And then it's time to move on again — to the next room with a lonely heart anxious to tell me she had a girl once.

She smiles and asks me,

"Are you Margaret?" "No," I say.

And I betray the hope in her eyes that maybe I'm her Margaret.

"You know," she says, "We all get older every year."
And then, "You look different, Margaret — do you feel different?"

And choked by emotion, I nod my head, yes.

I must go — and for her, it may as well be for forever.

She asks me again —

"Are you Margaret?"

And this time I nod my head and whisper a tear-clogged "yes."

And her eyes brim over with tears as she smiles;

"Good-bye, Margaret,
Good-bye."
