“Rise Above The Ordinary”

Only three short years ago, the Class of 1985 entered the school as freshmen, the dregs of Spaulding society. Humiliated in the school's last slave day, and quickly branded as "the worst freshmen class in Spaulding's history", the class began their slow ascent through the school's ranks, burdened with a reputation they could only hope to live down. This criticism only brought the class closer together, uniting them for a common goal — to prove themselves. Soon, the Class of '85 began to draw respect as a tightly-woven group with incredible school spirit. " '85 came alive" to sweep the annual Spirit Week competition for two consecutive years. In this, their last year at Spaulding, they have shown that they have changed from a group of rowdy freshmen, to respectable, high-spirited seniors — a class with class. It was a long, hard climb from the bottom of the barrel, but now they have risen to new, extraordinary heights.

The Class of 1985 — "Through the Years"

Last night I sat and cried,
 My face was wet with tears
 as I recalled the times we shared within these last four years.
 When I realized why I was crying
 I really couldn't believe,
 from freshman to junior
 I couldn't wait to get out
 now I really don't want to leave.
 The memories came flooding back
 as I sat in my room alone.
 Together, I thought,
 as a class,
 we have surely grown.
 We were students with talent,
 potential,
 we were unique,
 we were alive.
 I don't think anyone will ever forget our class
 The Class of 1985.
 I wiped my tears
 and reassured myself
 that it's no use to cry.
 I'll save that for the day
 we say farewell to Spaulding High.

Life at Spaulding is composed of much more than academics and extra curriculars. There are many situations that students are forced to deal with and as changes in individuals and groups caused by these difficulties.

The seniors have had many problems to face during our years at SHS. First, the loss of a classmate in our freshmen year put a painful scar on our class.

During our sophomore year, we had to work hard to change the image that others held of our class. We succeeded and became a close, spirited group of people.

In our junior year, we won spirit week over the seniors which showed our ability to get along well and work together constructively. Our enthusiasm and spirit for Spaulding was also evident by large masses of 1985 students at sports events and school functions.

Our senior year, our outstanding ability as a class to challenge and to compromise was tested. First, we established an agreement for reasonable senior privileges, which were originally not possible for us; As well as an acting senior review board. Second, our class through petitioning the school board, got Mr. Perkins reinstated as yearbook advisor.

The various situations the class of 1985 had to deal with were not of ordinary caliber and only because our class is comprised of strong and united individuals, we were able to overcome these difficulties.

Seniors Find the Pot of Gold

Spirit week this year marked the second annual winning of the week long competition between classes, by the class of 1985.

Although the competition was heightened this year by the sophomore class, the senior class rose above the underclassmen opposition.

Frantically searching for a hall decorating theme, the senior class officers dug out their old prom decorations. These proved very beneficial and served to generate a new theme; The Senior Pot of Gold, using the class colors, blue and gold.

Spirit week, put on by Varsity "S" and Student Council, is an annual affair to promote school spirit for the homecoming events.

During the week people wear hats, ties or pins and dress in red and blue or as grubs. The class with the most people wearing red and blue, the most people at the homecoming game and the best decorated hall wins Spirit Week and the title of most-spirited class.

It's no wonder that the class of 1985 has taken the title of most spirited class for two consecutive years.

Grub Day Makes It's Mark

Walking down a corridor during spirit week at Spaulding High School brought a surprise to an onlooker; several hundred students dressed in torn T-shirts and ragged jeans. Some wore paint-encrusted outfits while others wore holey, college sweatshirts.

These people weren't imitating their homecoming rivals or protesting a dress code, they were dressing as grubs!

Why would anyone dress in their absolute worst clothing on one specific day? As part of spirit week, of course.

One big thing this year was writing on other's clothing. Instead of having conventional, mild-mannered grubs, we had "grafetti grubs."

These "grafettied grubs" wandered through school, in and out of classes calling each other slobs and adding chemistry equations to their already ink-marked clothing.

Perhaps the teachers felt as if they were like Mr. Kotter teaching a bunch of sweatogs, but after all, aren't we entitled to be an Arnold Horshack one day a year?

Key Club Gets the Last Word

Spaulding High School was buzzing with activity as the Homecoming Weekend approached for 1984.

Friday night was certainly an exciting one. The bonfire was fabulous and the snake parade was like a marathon. Afterwards, everyone gobbled up the donuts and cider provided by the Booster Club. All this occurred before 10:00, the time everyone was supposed to be home in bed resting up for the big games.

The annual float parade ended up with Interact the victors over the infamous shark of Key Club. What will next year bring?

Unfortunately, the sports teams all suffered losses, but nothing could dampen the spirit of the Spaulding fans.

The end of the weekend festivities concluded with a dance. The King and Queen were crowned and everyone enjoyed themselves until 11:30. Homecoming ended with the same enthusiasm it began with Friday night.

Fourth Crystal Ball is a Hit

Above — Ken Savoie inspects "Supermusic" to make sure it's "OK."

Due to the hard work of the Student Council, the dances are now thought of as a positive, social event.

The Council has sponsored more dances this year than it has in many years.

The most important dance that it sponsors, is the Crystal Ball . . .

The fourth annual Crystal Ball was held Saturday, December 15th, at the Barre Auditorium.

Everyone entered through a parachute decorated with snowflakes, into what everyone knew as a big blah looking gym, which was turned into a lovely Christmas formal. It was decorated with lighted Christmas trees, wrapped packages, holly, and even a sleigh.

The theme this year was, "When You Close Your Eyes". Between the hours of 8:00-12:00, people danced to the music of "Little Wing".

This Crystal Ball will be remembered as a complete success.

The students have proven that Spaulding has a good reputation when it comes to acting mature and appropriately at social events.

New Innovations at Spaulding

"Air raid! Head for the fallout shelter!", screams a student, awoken from a deep sleep in study hall. Yes, he had been awoken by Spaulding's insipid new bell tones. Upon arriving in his English class, the student realizes that the class has gone to the library. But where did the library go? Some one moved it while he wasn't looking. Completely disoriented by this time, our pathetic friend decides to go to his locker to get his lunch. But wait! Someone had put new combination locks on his locker!

Yes, technology has finally reached Spaulding High School, much to the chagrin of old fashioned students. Spaulding is fast becoming a school of the eighties as the nineties approach.

People Continue to Eat in the Cafeteria

Without adventure, life is incredibly dull. Aren't we lucky here at Spaulding, being provided with twenty-three minutes of adventure every day!

Though it starts on bleak notes (namely, the new bell tones), nothing can hinder adventurous air that hangs about the SHS cafeteria. The fun starts with a voyage down Freshmen hall. An early start can allow one to make it down without suffering major injuries! If one is early, one may get in line before some big seniors cut in front! Then, one may attempt to buy a soda from the soda machine — and it may even work! Now, with delectable well-balanced meal in hand, the real fun can begin. Take one of those soggy french fries and send it soaring. This may start one of many fun "Animal House" activities!

Money Need Wins Over Soaps

Above — Debby Clark, Renee Gosselin and Ann Foley still find time to get in the current gossip with Becky Perry.

In the summer before my junior year, my desperate need for money outweighed my love for sleeping late and watching soap operas. I, along with many of my classmates entered the blue collar work force. Money, we had discovered, not only made the world go around but it actually could buy the best things in life.

Jobs, we thought, would be the answer to all our problems. No longer would we have to mug our own parents for a measly five dollars to take in a movie. However, we never counted on having to actually work on a Friday or Saturday night. But we soon discovered the gruesome truth. Our mild-mannered employer enjoyed scheduling his teenage employees to work every weekend (Gasp!). This made the whole situation quite ironic; we went to work to make money to spend but because of our jobs we didn't have time to spend it.

In the year that has passed, some of us still have our jobs, while others have gone onto better things. Those of us who have stuck with our jobs have become accustomed to the weekend hours and sacrifices that have to be made in order to be rich. Well — maybe not rich — just moderately well-to-do.

The annual International Supper was, once again, a great success. The delicious and colorful foods and dishes representing many nationalities were provided by students, parents, and teachers. Following the buffet dinner, several groups and individuals who attend S.H.S. presented some fine entertainment; the music, singing, and dancing was typical of various countries. The Foreign Language Department gives great thanks to all who participated in this festive occasion and looks forward to its Supper '85 with enthusiasm.

We knew it, we knew it all the time! We knew we could win. Even though the junior team got lucky and showed a little skill. Although few in numbers, we were high in spirit and athletic ability. The game of '84-'85 will be remembered for a long time. For it's close score, but, mostly to show it's willingness to show it's ability to come from behind to come out victorious. Good Luck to the juniors next year.

The 1984 Powder Puff game began on a cold November day. Both teams had been practicing for a week and were ready to play.

The seniors started the scoring quickly with a touchdown run by Cherylene Martin on their first possession. The juniors got on the scoreboard by recovering a senior fumble in the endzone for a safety. Michelle Moran scored for the seniors to put them ahead 12-2. The juniors scored twice on touchdown passes from Liz Wells to Marcia Dion. The juniors were leading by two. If they could hold on to the lead, they would be one of the only teams ever to beat the seniors. But the juniors' hopes were dashed late in the second half when Joan Longchamp ran for thirty yards and a touchdown. A two-point conversion secured the seniors' 20-14 victory.

A junior commented, "The game was a lot of fun. I can't wait until next year. Watch out Class of '87!"

A senior's feeling was, "The juniors were great competition and were difficult to beat."

After the game there were no hard feelings. Everyone went home dirty and sore.

Next year the juniors hope to carry on the tradition and beat the Class of '87.

— Jackie Nolan

Broom Hockey — A Successful Endeavor

Once again, this year's Broom Hockey game turned out to be a very successful endeavor. There were twelve teams made up of five girls and five guys each carrying their own doctored-up brooms. Some die-hard athletes even had professional broom hockey sticks even though mom's old stand-by worked just as well.

Although the day started out dreary and dark the sun soon broke through the clouds forcing everyone to shed their many layers of coats, sweaters and scarves.

This year's game was a little different from those before due to the fact that there was no ice, only hard-packed snow. After the first couple of games though, it was slippery enough that no one could tell the difference.

Congratulations to the winning team, the "Maybe-maybe nots" and also to Varsity S for a job well done.

Tide Pride is an Inborn Trait

Whether you are dying of frostbite at the BOR or sweating buckets in the auditorium, it won't matter a bit if you are a true Tide Fan. The requirements to become a Tide Fan are simple: hatred of anything with the name Solon associated with it, a voice that carries across a crowd and the ability to spell S-P-A-U-L-D-I-N-G correctly.

Even if you aren't involved in a sport you can still get the same feeling of being part of a team from showing up to cheer. Nothing is more group oriented than joining the good old "Give me an S!!."

There is no doubt the Tide Pride is an inborn trait of all Spaulding students. As Jay Bartlett puts it, "Showing your spirit for your school lets the other team know how you feel — "Fan-tastic!!"

Student Governments Work Hard

This year the Student Council changed its ways and met with unprecedented success. A new rule allowed anyone to join until the first of January, when members were reviewed. This gave more people than usual the opportunity to take part in planning school activities. This year's officers were: Shannon Roy, President; Jenny Hill, Secretary; and Darlene Lowe, treasurer, kept the council running smoothly throughout the year. Among the events sponsored by the Student Council this year were: the Crystal Ball, which was very successful; a student government day, which sent various SHS students to spend the day acting out the roles of top city officers; and a Red Cross blood drawing. The new policy towards membership has been very successful, and in all probability will be continued in the coming year.

Appointed both judge and jury for seniors who break rules concerning senior privileges is the Senior Review Board.

The students on the Board should be admired for the way they've handled the difficult job of passing unbiased judgment and punishments on to their friends and enemies alike. It's not a fun job, and no one gets excited when they hear on the morning announcements, "Senior Review Board Meeting ..."

This year's Senior Review Board has been kept quite active all year because the class of 1985 was awarded their free study hall privileges in October instead of the usual April.

Outstanding Students Rise Above the Ordinary

Project Excel is a program at Vermont College for area high school students. The first semester there is a different guest speaker each week with group discussions following the speaker. The second semester there are mini-courses offered. Spaulding students are taking courses entitled: "The End of the World", "Speed Reading", and "Watercolor". Spaulding faculty involved in the program are: Miss Watson, Mrs. Dean, Mr. Robinson and Mr. Baker.

As is the tradition, Spaulding students were tapped for membership in the National Honor Society. These students, although few in number, were honored by receiving life-memberships in the club.

Students were chosen because of their outstanding qualities of scholarship, leadership, service, and character. They were inducted at a dinner which featured distinguished speakers.

Scholars Bowl is a nation wide trivia game. The SHS team competed state wide for a chance at the state title. Two teams compete at a time and the winning team goes on for further competition while the losing team stays in a stalemate for a few months and then vies for a state position later on.

The SHS team practices every Wednesday or Thursday by going through quiz books and answering questions.

This competition provides a fun time for the competitors and a chance to have fun while finding new facts.

The Band Opens the Year With Rising Tunes

In the year 1984-1985 the Spaulding High School Band showed that it was indeed a band to be recognized. One member, Greg Perez said, "Band members are the kind of people who want to improve and on the most part want to work."

This was proved true by the groups many performances. The band opened the year with the rising tunes of, Maniac and Stray Cat Strut which shook the crowds.

The spirit of the fall continued into the winter months and was kept up by the pep band which played at boys and girls basketball games. It also played for the city of Barre many times during parades and other civic events.

During the spring the band enjoyed a fantastic exchange with a High School in Gardner, Massachusetts.

The group grew through these experiences not only in skill but also in a sense of togetherness. The band was, "THE BAND." Chris Pirie puts the feeling of being a part of the band well, "when you spend an entire weekend together, marching on the snow and sleeping on a hard gym floor you get really close. It's not just a class or extra curricular activity, it's a family."

Chorus is One of the School's Most Successful Electives

The 1984-85 SHS Chorus, under the direction of Arthur Zorn, is one of the most successful electives at Spaulding and has become a great asset to the school. The chorus has more than tripled in size this year having about seventy members. Chorus members have participated in many music festivals. In the fall Spaulding was represented at the Winooski Valley Music Festival by seventeen chorus members. The chorus also sent people to All-State and All-New England in the Spring. Also in the Spring was an exchange concert with Gardner, Massachusetts in which everyone made new friends and had a lot of fun.

The chorale, a select group of chorus members, also enjoyed a good year. The chorale performed for many area organizations and school functions. The chorale also sang the National Anthem at the finals of the boys' and girls' basketball games, a position that was held by Montpelier High School. "It's been a good year for us," said Wendy Chaloux, "everyone in chorus has a lot of fun and nobody could ever replace Mr. Zorn."

Despite cold weather and overheated tempers, the SHS Flag Team pulled together and made a memorable impression on the citizens of Central Vermont.

"The girls have improved a lot. I just wish that people knew what the girls really go through," said one interested mother. "It's true, even without an advisor, we really work hard," says Sherry Spaulding, a senior on the squad.

During the summer, four girls were able to attend the Marching Auxillaries of America Camp in New Hampshire. After their return they used many of the moves in some new routines.

The flag team has performed with the band at many parades throughout the summer. Hopefully the flag team will continue to grow in years to come.

Hard Workers Involved With the Sentinel

Hot off the press, the Sentinel is distributed about every two months. Under the direction of editor, Chris Pirie, the Sentinel staff, and the reporters from Mr. Comley's class.

Animations and "The Aisle Seat" written by Chris Greenwood, "Classic Cars of SHS" and the editorials are all reasons for the popularity of this paper.

The Sentinel makes for a very interesting and informative paper because of the many hard working people involved with it.

Many thanks to Mr. Comley and Chris Pirie for making it such a great success.

Varsity "S" Runs With Enthusiasm

The Varsity "S" Club got off to a really great start this year with a lot of enthusiastic people! There were a bunch of good ideas for fund-raisers and school activities. Our main objective was to give two scholarships to a deserving senior girl, or senior boy.

We began the year off by organizing the bonfire and the "snake" parade for homecoming; both of which were great successes! We had our annual Christmas Tree Sale and began our fundraisers to help support the two scholarships. We planned exciting events, such as, the Winter Carnival, and the yummy pancake breakfast.

This past year Varsity "S" has gotten off it's feet and done more things. Eventually, with a lot of hard work, the Varsity "S" Club will be able to support many more of the school's activities.

Not only do the members organize fundraisers, assist in training and volunteering for Special Olympics and sponsor fun activities for mentally retarded individuals, but they also give the athletes from Spaulding a sense of belonging and a feeling of accomplishment within their own school.

And the members rewards . . . are precious. They make many new friends, have fond memories to hold onto, and also are given opportunities to brighten the world of those who sincerely appreciate it.

Seniors Win the One-Act Play Competition

The Drama Club had some fun and successful shows this year. The Fall Production was a competition of one-act plays, on which different classes competed with different plays.

The Freshman and Sophomore classes combined for "The Magic Well", which was directed by Drama Adviser, Ilene Sinclair, the Junior Play was "The Potman Spoke Sooth", a wild Mystery-comedy, directed by Senior, Sylvia Plumb. "Roomers", the Senior class entry, directed by Chris Swan, won the competition. The audience voted on the winning play.

The Spring was livened up by the musical "Fiddler on the Roof," which tells the story of a small Jewish town around 1900. The show was accepted enthusiastically.

The shows had a good balance of student classes, and the energy they had, showed that they were enjoying themselves. I'd like to say, don't get involved too late! Getting involved is an experience you'll enjoy!

The French Club Heads For Quebec

All through the year the French Club has been hard at work raising money for the annual trip to Quebec City in the spring.

In October, we had a car wash where we raised $200 and later we conducted a bottle drive. At Christmas time, we sold tree ornaments and recipe books which we put together and printed ourselves. Later on, we had a candy sale which is always a great success. C'est bon!

The club isn't all work and no play though. In the fall, we went to the Alpine Slide in Stowe and at Christmas time, we went caroling at the nursing homes and ended the evening with a party. The highlight is always the fun trip to Quebec City in the Spring.

The French Club will always be a continuity here at Spaulding, so don't miss it next year!

The Spanish Club Goes to Boston

Below — Sue Porter patiently awaits the beginning of the meeting.

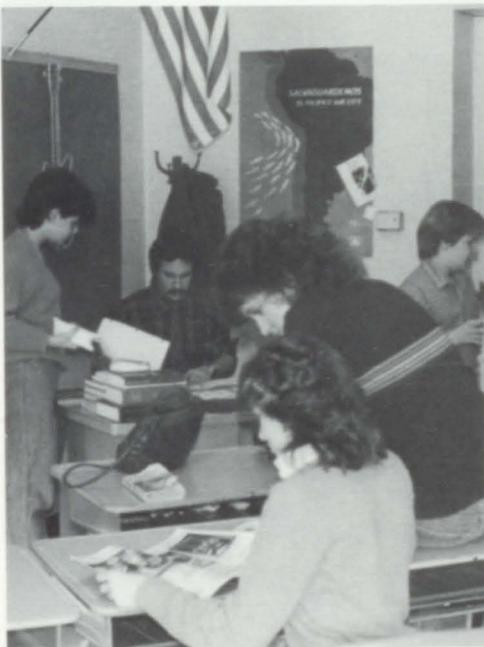

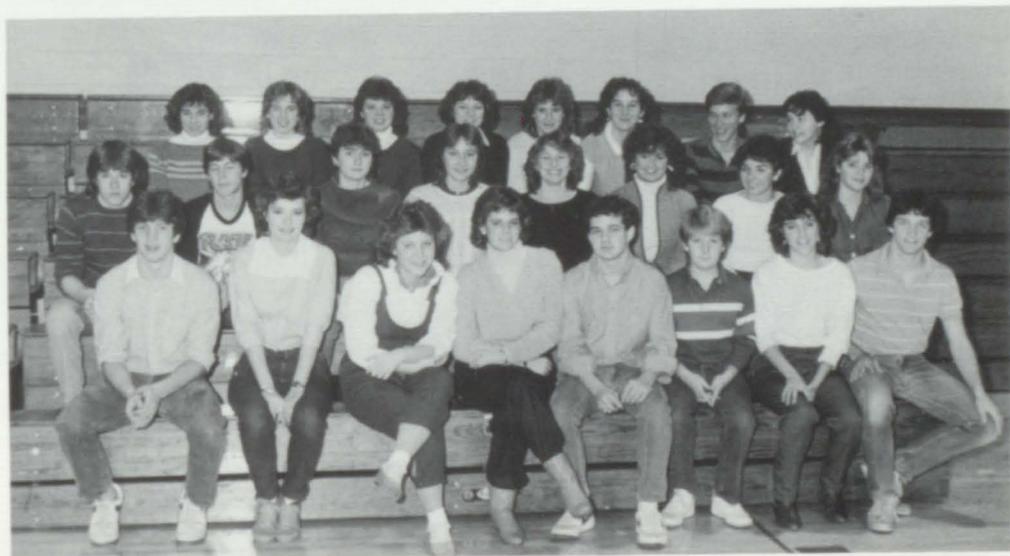

The Spanish Club has always been active throughout the years at Spaulding High School, and this year is no different from the past. In September we began by electing officers: President/Secretary Shelley Johnson and vice President/Treasurer Mia Lastra.

The club has functioned well under the guidance of our advisor, Senor Buzzi. The enthusiasm of the club members has allowed us to raise a sufficient amount of money for our annual field trips. This year the money has been raised by a turkey raffle, two bottle drives, the International Supper, candy sales, several food sales, and a special concession stand at Barre Town School for Central V.T. Square-Dancers. All the events were successful through the efforts and participation of the members.

This year the Spanish Club visited Boston to see a special Spanish Music and Dance performance at the Boston Performing Arts Center, a sumptuous meal at La Madrid Restaurant. We also took in many of the wonderful cultural and educational sites and sounds of Boston.

This year Interact has carried on the tradition of being a club for girls only, with junior officers. We were sponsored by the Barre Rotary Club and, once again, our advisor was Jerome Bulcomb. We have had a lot of fun this year by helping the community and raising money. Some of the services we provided, include: helping the Barre Jaycee's, walking in the annual Crop Walk for Hunger, and continued to sponsor a child from India. For the second year, Interact entered a float in the annual homecoming parade, and we are proud to say that our float won first prize.

We feel that we have shown our dedication and willingness to help our community by our accomplishments this year. We hope in the future, Interact will continue to grow and more people will recognize and appreciate the efforts of this great club.

Spaulding Key Club's 30th year will be remembered as "AWESOME." Presided over by fearless, James Craig, our club exploded with pride! A prize winning Key Shark swam in the Homecoming parade and our dress code was amended to afford our elitism.

The key presence was felt in other ways; that half-time junk food at the basketball games, and those smiling faces of the typically confident and academic-minded key-clubbers.

To all key-clubbers present, and future, we leave our traditions of organization and community service, our example of excellence in guest speakers, like Mayor Bergeron, and Mr. Shaneburger and most of all our heart-felt spirit of pride in Key Club and Spaulding High.

— Richard Nelson

VICA Uses Parliamentary Procedure

Below — John Thompson and his neighbor practice their skills for VICA.

The Vocational Industrial Club of America (VICA) challenges us to learn new skills as well as responsibility.

The club meetings can run by the students using parliamentary procedure. Most work is done by committees that report to the executive council. The Professional Development Committee has many guest speakers come into our classroom. They provide us with needed information about jobs and colleges.

VICA — also teaches us how to develop skills to help in the work force. Through a series of competitions on a state and national level, the Skill Olympics challenges us to do our best. Also included in the competitions are leadership events, which give us an edge over others in responsible leadership.

VICA was not only enjoyable, it helped us move one step closer to adulthood.

FBLA started out with 25 members this year, a rather large turnout. Twenty of the members were juniors, therefore indicating that the club will be a strong one in future years at Spaulding.

'84-'85, was a year of changes for FBLA. The club welcomed a new advisor, Mrs. Stratton, to take the place of Mrs. P. Gray. Mrs. Stratton took on the responsibility of advising Future Business Leaders of America, and ending the year with a job well done.

FBLA brought home a ribbon for the club's help in raising funds for March of Dimes at the Fall Leadership Conference held in Montpelier. After this, the club busied themselves with fundraising activities: Bake sales, pens, candysticks, and key chains floated around Spaulding throughout the year. Also, FBLA busied themselves with non-fundraising ideas such as; a Thanksgiving basket for a needy family, and guides for SHS's parents night.

With the club's new advisor, the obvious interest in FBLA, and the support they received, the future looks bright.

FBLA would like to thank all those members who took the time to make the club successful, and sincere thanks to all those people who supported them.

The officers for this year's DECA Club were as follows: Julie Harrison, President, Penny Svarfvar, Vice-President, Regan Lamson, Assistant Vice-President, Celine Routhier, Secretary, Becky Carbonneau, Treasurer.

During this past year our club came up with many ideas and different fundraisers. We all worked towards a trip to Montreal and the State Conference, which was held in March. The fundraisers that helped us reach our goals were; A bottle drive (remember that Betty's and Phil!), a computer raffle, worth $800.00, a jewelry sale, and a bake sale. All these events provided many great memories for this year's DECA Club members.

Who do you see running the halls and interrupting classes all the time? You guessed it, the office aides!! Everyone loves to see an office aide walk into their class to stop the teachers from boring them to death and in some cases, saving them from the most ridiculous jokes you have ever heard. The administration depends on the aides quite a bit which makes the aides feel good having the respect of the administration. There are days when there isn't much to do in the office, but no fear, the aides seem to find something to do whether it's shooting the breeze with the administration or just fooling around. Everyone in the office is great. You could never work with a nicer bunch of people!

— Lucie Parent

Aides Are Indispensable

The work done by this devoted group of senior girls is indispensable. It is all volunteer work.

Without them, the office could not run smoothly and efficiently.

Their responsibilities are many and varied, and they carry out these responsibilities with maturity and pride.

To you the office aides of 1985 the administration, staff, and student body extend their thanks and appreciation.

New Clubs Have a Successful Year

This has been the year of something new at Spaulding. This year, thanks to the guidance of Mr. Burt, Spaulding's first Computer Club was organized. Dedicated to bringing Spaulding into the twentieth century, the Computer Club has been working on introducing people to their future with the computer.

Though new, the Computer Club has gotten off to an excellent start. Plans were made for raffles, sales, and even tours of major computer oriented companies such as: IBM, GE, and Digital.

Every Wednesday after school, students could be found having fun with the computers; whether writing a program, working on a problem, or just hacking around.

Members were encouraged to expand their knowledge of computers in whatever direction they wished, whether working in BASIC, or even Pascal.

The Dungeons and Dragons Club was organized this year by a group of students so that they could set aside time once a week to play D&D.

During this time you can find them rolling up characters, creating new magic items, or playing an adventure. Adventures range from dungeons to cities and on to other planes of existence.

The students find this is a good way to unwind at the end of a school day, while learning how to be creative and use their imaginations.

Below — Glenn Gagne plays chess with a style made famous by the Russians.

After years in the shadows, the Chess Club is alive and flourishing under Mr. Liff, our new advisor, and Mr. Robert Nichols of Barre, who lent a hand in getting us off, and was always there to offer good advice on better game play.

We began the year with elections, Glenn Gagne was elected President; Drew Ritchie, Vice-President; Jim Carbonneau, Secretary; and Steve Smith, Treasurer. At first, members were hard to find, but over the winter we carried on an inter-school tournament which decided the club team. The team, consisting of Glenn Gagne, George Donovan, Steve Smith, Chris Pecor, and Drew Ritchie, are anticipating the state-wide tournaments at Northfield in the spring.

We have also been able to buy new chess sets, an expense which temporarily put us in debt, however, the new sets were a much needed improvement over the old, broken sets and are greatly enjoyed.

If we can maintain this year's enthusiasm and spirit, the Spaulding Chess Club should be around for years to come.

Lacrosse Veterans Make the Third Year a Success

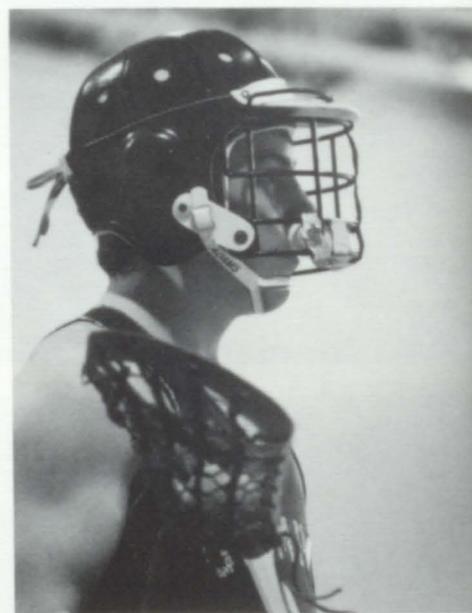

The 1985 Lacrosse Team is following in the shadow of last year's '84 team. The '84 team had a smashing record for it's second year in existence, (5 wins, 1 loss), but this year's team still has hopes for as fine a record as the last year's had. It has still retained many of last year's players and has some good looking new additions. However, this team would not be a team, but the excellent coaching of Scott Cameron makes them one.

Retained on the team from last year are: in goal, Brent Carpenter, Jim Craige; defense, Brian Avery, Brian Wheeler, Tom Vickery; midfield, or attack, Ben Talmadge, Ethan Talmadge, Bill Marcellus, Glenn Isham, David Barry, and David Molind.

The Class of 1985 has risen above the ordinary in academics. Our class never hesitates to go beyond the classroom to learn. We love challenges which is evident in the large numbers of students who choose to take honors classes.

Also our class is famous for excellence in writing. Talented writers of our class were recognized in various state and area writing competitions during our years at Spaulding High.

And our class does more than necessary, academically. Many members of the class of 1985 take more courses than necessary to graduate. Our class likes to be exposed to various subjects like music, drama, home economics, and industrial arts in addition to required courses.

Due to the commitment made by the students to academics, there's no doubt that the Class of 1985 will be a positive addition to the world in many ways.

Diversified Education Prepares Students For Independent Living

Above — "Don't look at me like that."

The purpose of Diversified Occupations is to prepare students to enter the world of work and independent living after the completion of high school. This is accomplished through participation in academic classes in math and language arts with a major focus on daily survival skills.

Lab classes in homemaking develop self care skills; industrial arts classes develop basic career/vocational skills; and work experience classes develop actual work traits needed for entry into the community job market.

Many students also receive training in the community setting where skills are more realistically useful. These skills include banking, shopping, and the use of community services.

Health Occupations — Where Medical Careers Begin

Health Occupations is a two-year program for young men and women who are interested in pursuing a career in medicine after high school.

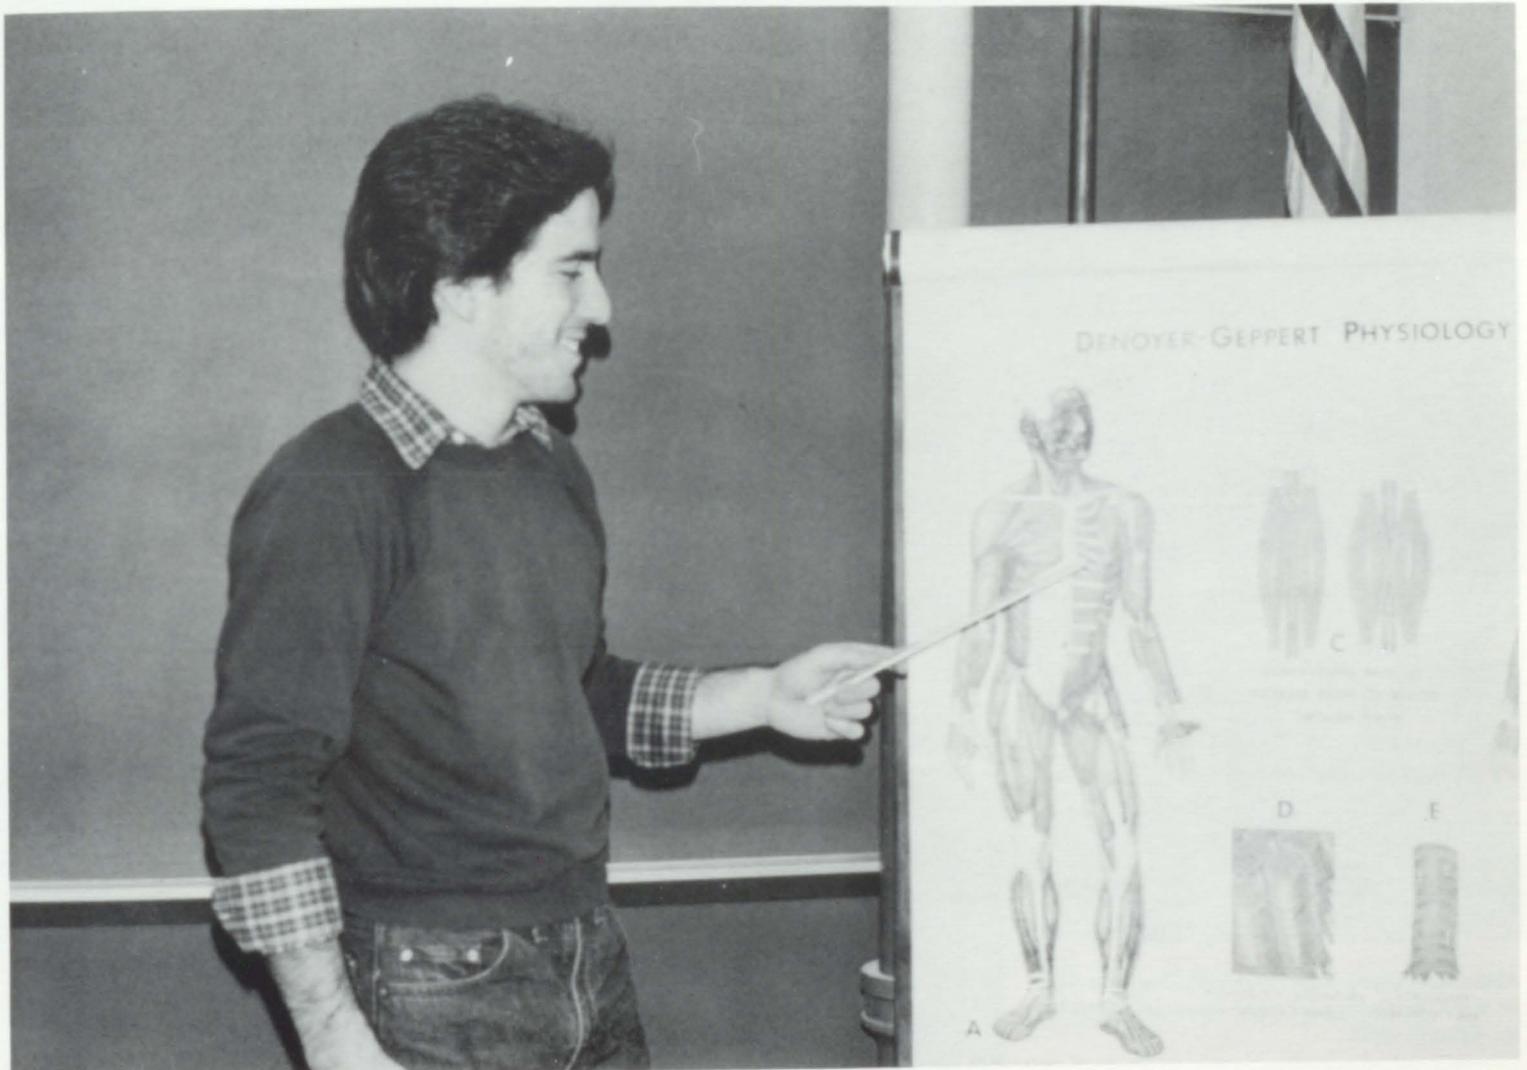

The course is divided into four parts: class time, lab time, community volunteer time, and a work for pay time.

This program prepares a student for immediate employment after graduation or for a higher education in the various careers of the health field.

Staff Prepares Students For Business World

The Business Department offers something for everyone, the employment bound as well as the college bound student. With more businesses requiring data-entry skills, data processing and typing are a necessity. For those going onto college where note-taking is needed or for those working in offices, shorthand would be of tremendous benefit. Typing, bookkeeping, business law, economics, and business management are important to everyone, whether for personal or professional use; computers are being used in data processing, bookkeeping, typing and office practice classes. An introduction to word processing is offered in typing II, Data processing and office practice. The Business Department's programs will be of benefit to both males and females alike. The staff seeks to help all students prepare themselves for the world of the future.

— Mr. Mike Gilbert

Graphic Occupations is an Introduction

Graphic Occupations introduces students to the modern printing industry. It is a six-mod course, worth 3 credits.

First-year students learn how to use the 35 mm camera, graphic design, typesetting/word processing, and printing press operations.

Second-year students form a productive print shop and take on school and community service print work. They also have the opportunity to co-op, which means they can work for a business on their Graphic Occupation time. The course gives the student a good background for future employment in the field of graphic occupations.

Automotive Class Made Memorable

Our '85 automotive class was a memorable one to each and every senior. Mr. Stone did a fine job as an instructor and we wouldn't have changed him for the world.

Auto mechanics is a two-year course in which we learned how to change and computer-balance tires, give a car a tune-up and other various techniques.

During the past two years, we have become very familiar with most vehicles to prepare ourselves for the future.

For those of us who are planning on staying in the Automotive field, high school was the best time and place to start learning the trade.

This class gave each individual the opportunity and knowledge to have a successful future.

The Building Trades Class this year is working very hard to continue and finish the construction of a house started by last year's class. Though this has been a difficult year for the Building Trades Class after the terrible losses of the other houses that were completed just a few years ago, there is a good chance that the students will complete the house by spring and begin on another one. Special thanks should go to Mr. Guilmette, the new instructor of Building Trades who does a fine job and who gets the most out of his students.

Preparation For the Industrial World

Machine trades is a hands-on class that gives students the experience of machine tool processes.

They spend time on a number of metal cutting machines such as metal lathes, milling machines and surface grinders.

In this class, students also work with blueprints and technical math. These are very important because the plans and finished product must match, and some measurements are less than the width of a human hair.

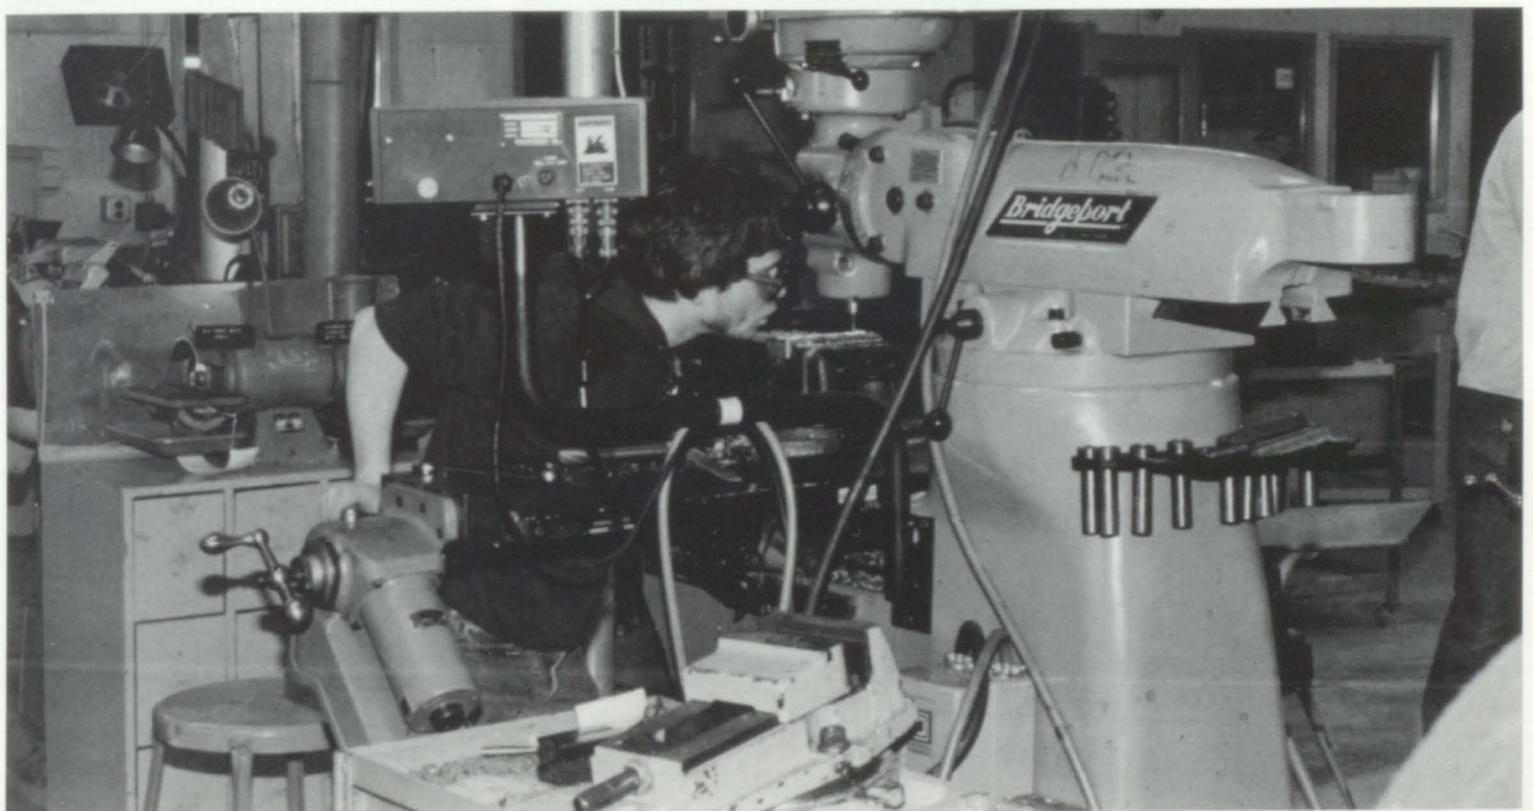

Machine trades is a must for students going into the industrial world.

One Of A Kind In The United States

Spaulding has a unique class at the Barre Vocational Center. This class, which is known by few, is Stone Trades. Stone Trades is conducted by Donald Giroux and Ray Lesslie.

It is a very special class. Not only does it provide work for the granite industry but it is the only class of its kind in this country.

The class is made up of students from Montpelier, Union 32, Cabot and Spaulding. There are also adults who come to learn this trade. They come from all over the United States.

Mr. Giroux teaches in the shop. Stone Trades is run like a business and not just another class. The students do all the work in this class. It gives them an opportunity to learn from their mistakes. Mr. Giroux teaches self-discipline and good habits, along with safety in the shop and the art of stone cutting and sand blasting.

The students take orders for bookends, name plaques and desk name plates. The profit from the orders is put into the class funds. With the money the students buy things needed for the class or just go out for breakfast. In the spring the class is planning a trip to Boston.

The Pre-Engineering Graphics class is a 2 year program for students who are interested in pursuing careers that involve some form of drafting. In the first year of this program the students learn different methods of drawing and about the equipment involved in drafting. The second year is divided into two sections. There is a drafting class and there is an architectural class. These involve working with others and learning from their work.

When students were asked how they felt about P.E.G. they replied, "This is a course of study that is interesting and excellent preparation to enter the work force or continue education," and "This class is definitely a challenge but meeting the challenge face on prepares you for a successful career."

— Jerry Bisson

Gym Class Gets the Cobwebs Out

There is nothing like gym, otherwise known as P.E., to get the cobwebs out of minds that have been strained by everything from important events of history to memorizing basic geometrical theorems.

For the freshmen it's a year of going to P.E. three times a week and learning first aid. According to Robert Aiken, a freshman, "P.E. is fun. It's something to do besides schoolwork." Added Daryl White, another freshman, "I've tried different sports that I've never played before."

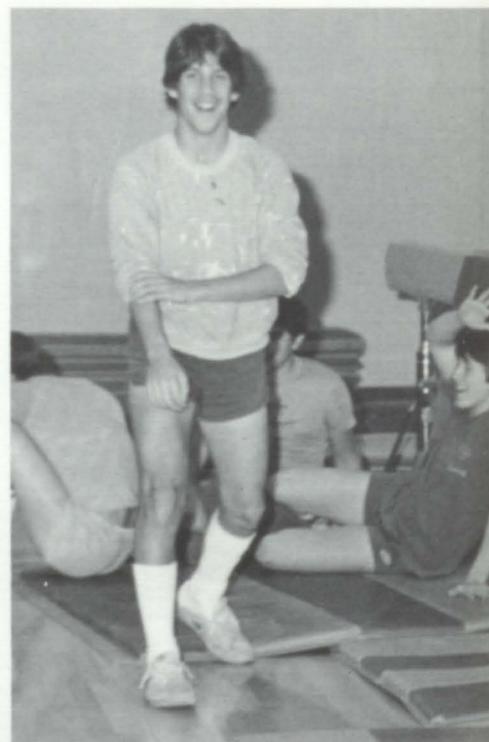

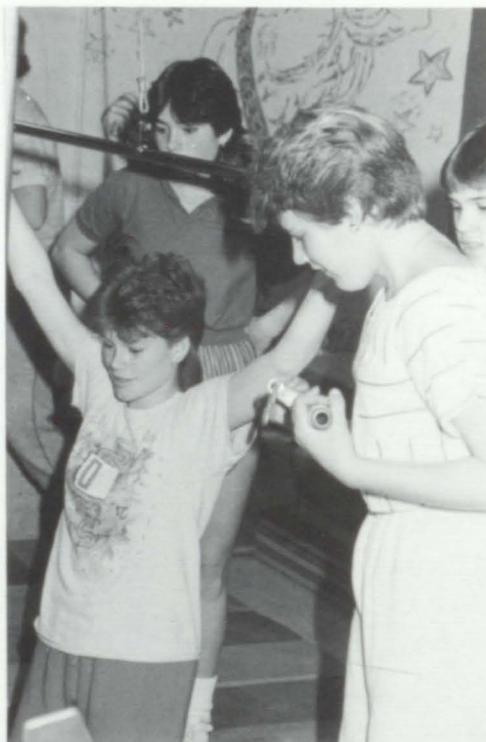

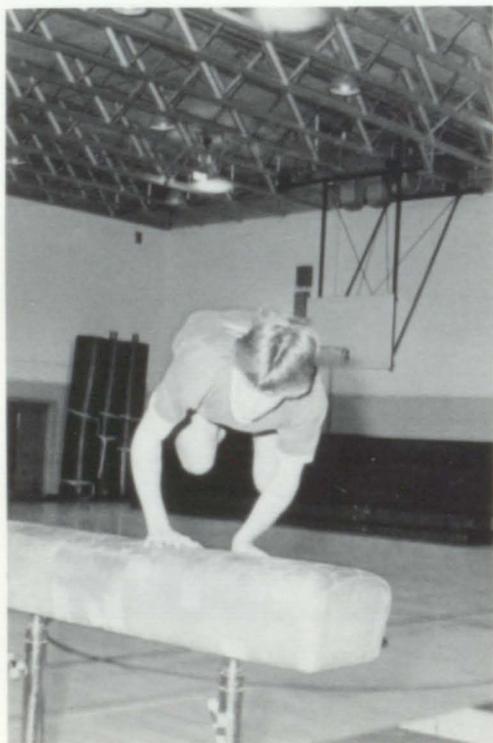

Even sophomores, who only go to gym twice a week, realize its advantages. One sophomore, Jason Spafford, stated "It's a way to learn new skills." For Jody Jordon, "It's a means of getting out agressions."

P.E. gives students the opportunity to become better spectators as well as players. They receive a better knowledge of the rules of sports and sportsmanship as well.

Students Earn Many State and Local Awards.

In order to graduate, students must have four English credits. Therefore the English Department must have many diverse courses to suit the needs of many individuals.

The course list includes, besides the basic English courses, a drama and communications program, a writing course and a journalism class to name a few. The drama class builds confidence and prepares students for parts in school plays. The journalism class is responsible for the school newspaper The Sentinel.

This department's teaching excellence can be measured in the phenomenal number of state and local winners in writing and speaking contests.

When one thinks of Social Studies, visions of dusty textbooks and sleeping students come to mind. Thanks to the fabulous staff, however, this is hardly true here at Spaulding.

Teachers like Mr. Gingras, new this year, and Mr. Maiola keep their classes entertained with their classroom antics and stories. Others, like Mr. Perkins, have personalities which keep their students interested and laughing much of the time. Some are so skilled as to be able to entertain students by their clothing alone.

But all of them, no matter what their teaching methods are, know their stuff, and how to teach it. As a whole, the department runs smoothly and professionally.

— Mike Monte

Above Mr. Gingras all "psyched" up to teach.

Adventure Found In Foreign Languages

Studying a foreign language is a wonderful human adventure. In addition to the fundamentals acquired from books, a foreign language offers opportunities to learn about other cultures, and opens doors to new ideas.

For extra-curricular activities, the French students view films and plays, and are planning an exchange to Quebec. Latin students enjoy Latin Day at UVM and Spanish Club members hope for a trip to New York in the spring.

All foreign language students celebrate National Foreign Language Week and put on the International Tasting Supper and Program.

The following students reflect their views on the study of foreign languages;

"L'etude du francais a ete mon passeport en France l'ete dernier," says Lynn Mulhern. (Studying French was my ticket to France last summer.)

"Rident stolidi verba Latina," comments Molly Noelk. (Fools laugh at the Latin language.)

"Estudiando Espanol, aprendi muchas cosas nuevas," states Vicki Fontana. (By studying Spanish, I learn many new things.)

Science Department Expanding

Mary Kay Gilligan "a future chemist?"

The Science Department of Spaulding High School has expanded over the past few years and will continue to grow in the future. Many people do not need a science credit, but take a class anyway. As Mr. Burt says, "Over  $\frac{2}{3}$  of the kids are taking it because they want to, not because they have to."

Due to the changing of the required science credits, more freshmen and sophomores will be taking science courses. Since there will be so many more people to teach, new classes will be created resulting in the need for more classrooms and teachers.

As for the immediate future, "One new science teacher will be hired and some think a woman would be nice. Also, since science can't just meet anywhere, a room will be installed with sinks and gas outlets to adapt it to a more sophisticated science room." Mr. Burt explained.

Another change that is being talked about is the initiation of one semester science courses. These would make it a lot easier for students to schedule science although these courses would only be equivalent to  $\frac{1}{2}$  of one science credit.

All in all, the science department is happy, growing at a fast pace and producing many fine scientists.

— Jenny Hill

State Standards Require New Growth.

The Spaulding Math Department continues to live up to its reputation of excellence. The school traditionally earns recognition when students score well in competitions such as the UVM math test.

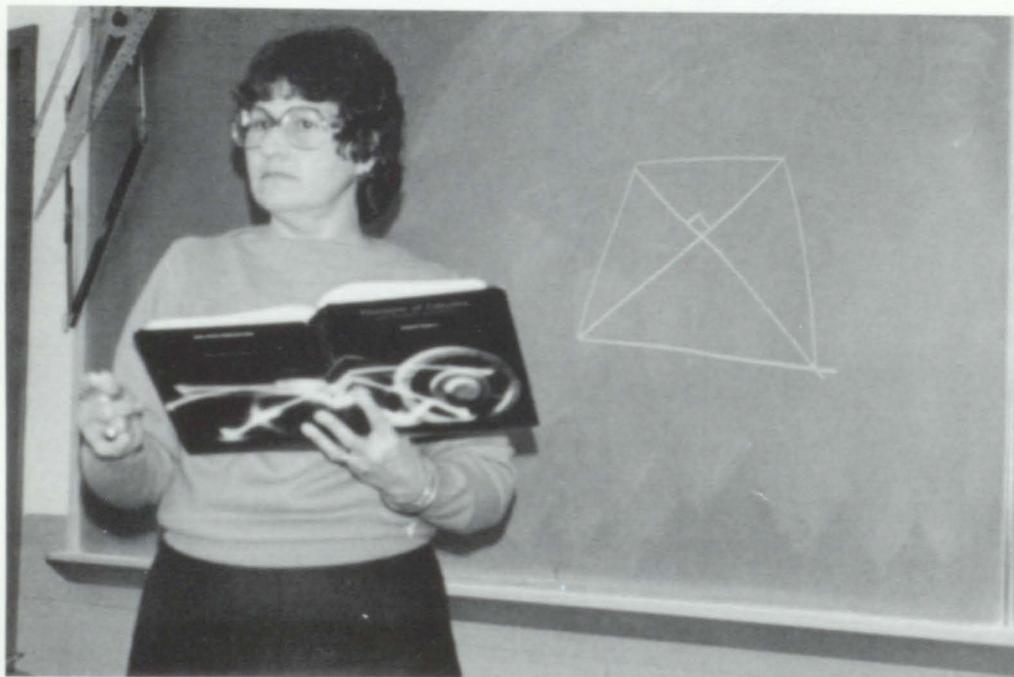

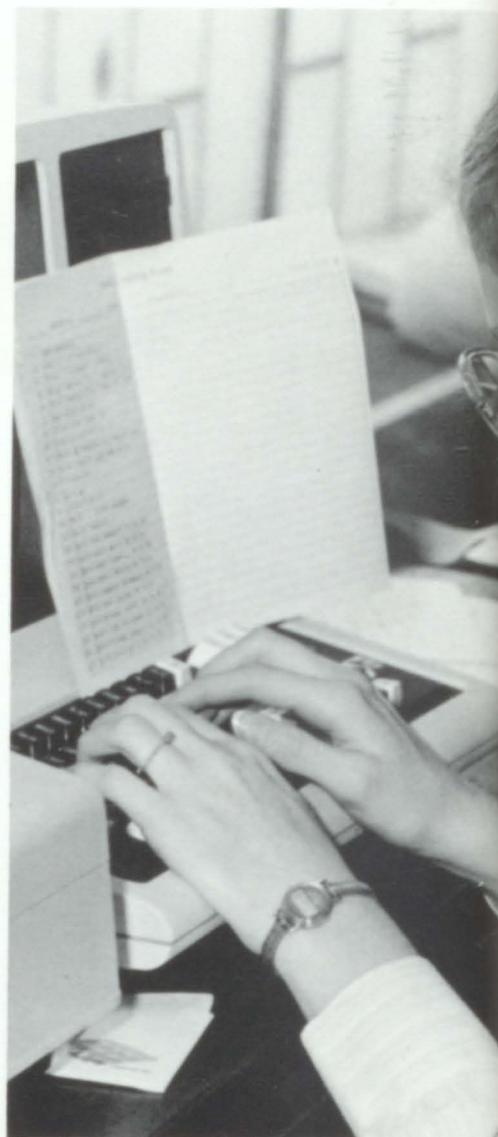

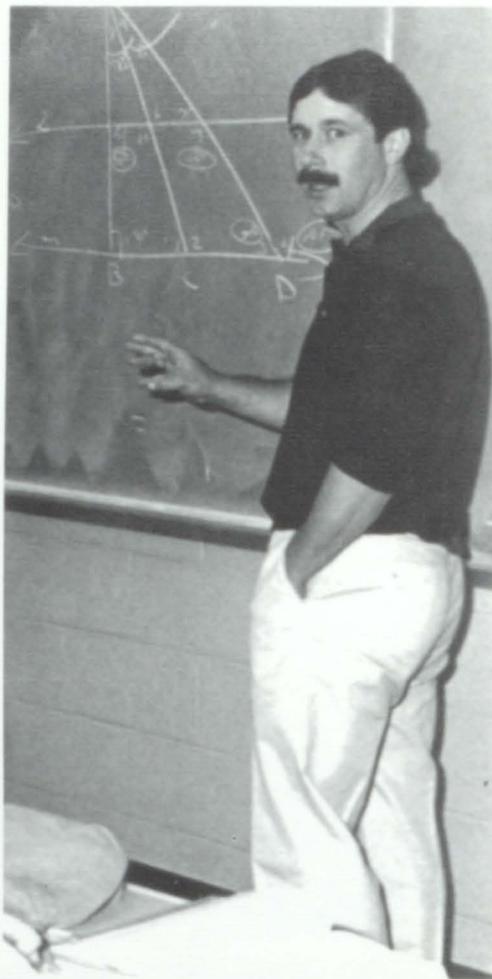

The department has been faced with several problems this year. Computers were stolen over the summer. Increased state requirements have made it necessary to offer more courses. Classes are full and additional math teachers are hard to find.

The students are not suffering. They seem to love it. Math teachers frequently spend time after school helping students who are having difficulties.

The math hall is a busy and happy place. Laughter can often be heard coming from the computer rooms where students get lost in their programs. A smile can also be seen in other rooms where theorems, definitions, and postulates begin to make sense. Teachers and students both agree with this: math is fun!

Right Mr. Pinard can instruct and pose at the same time.

Break-in Only Slows Computer Program

This is the age of the computer, and Spaulding has been working to keep up with the growing computer age. With the addition of two new classes, Computer Problem Solving and Pascal, the computer department continues to expand to meet our growing needs.

Although the loss of the Apple computers at the start of the year hampered the progress of some classes, it wasn't long before students were back into the swing of things.

Computer class is always a lot of fun whether students are writing a challenging program for class or just learning for the fun of it. Though the computer can at times be frustrating, the feeling of accomplishment when it finally stops telling you that you have another error makes all the work worthwhile.

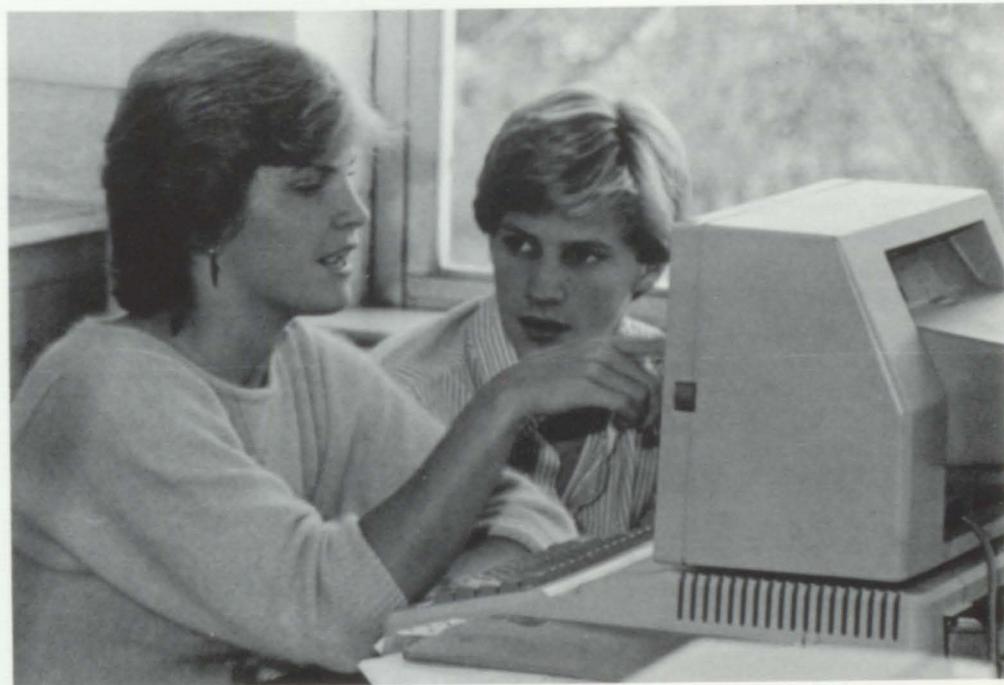

On entering the electronic domain of the computer, students will meet the quick thinking computer programmers. They rack their brains working on seemingly impossible problems, providing solutions which boggle their teachers' minds.

With three great teachers like Mr. Morgan, Mr. Liff, and Spaulding's newest computer teacher, Mrs. Stratton, the computer department will surely get bigger and better in the coming years.

Industrial Arts Builds Self-Confidence

Above — "... one more step and I will sand your face!"

The Industrial classes at S.H.S. are helpful and informational for a person who wants to go into an industrial trade. These classes help students build self confidence in themselves and in their work, as well as giving them a brief introduction into a variety of skills and trades that can be used in the home or in industrial fields. Students have the advantage and opportunity to learn about tools and machines prior to entering the working world.

Home Economics has traditionally been thought of as a "girls" class. Well not anymore. With the change of times and the amount of guys living on their own, Home Economics is becoming more and more of a "girls and guys" class.

We have a wide variety of classes to choose from, so whether you feel creative in the kitchen and also have a bottomless stomach, or you like the idea of being able to rely somewhat on yourself instead of totally on the stores for your clothing, Home Economics is definitely an area you should look into.

The Art Room Finds a New Home

After being rudely evicted due to the relocation of the library, the artroom set up shop in room 24, off in a remote corner of the school. Although off the beaten track, the new room has its advantages. It is much larger and has better lighting. Though the surroundings changed, the quality of classes have remained high throughout the school year. Said Barbie Taylor, a senior art student, "I like the new artroom, but it's a bit cold in the winter. I think the class is fun and exciting and time goes by fast." A sophomore, Abby Swan, agrees. She said, "Art class is interesting, and I'm learning a lot about creativity." Of course, there are always those whose opinions differ. Said senior Shelley Morton, "I respect the teacher, but I think we are restricted from our creative freedom." Then again, that's what art class is about — being able to express your opinions and showing your individuality.

We've grown together on the playing fields and on the courts. Encouraging each other, congratulating in one another's personal victories and confronting in times of defeat.

We've been part of championship teams and rebuilding teams. We've participated in the honor of being the best and we've been on teams that worked to be better. We've enjoyed the winning feeling and we've learned to accept defeat. We've had the special feeling of achievement but have at times had to settle for second best.

We, as athletes, have shown leadership, dedication and school spirit. We've shown maturity and sensitivity by accepting responsibility and dedicating our efforts to others. We've brought school support and pride to our teams, if not by always winning but by always trying.

We aren't like the ordinary athletes of the past. We are teams; individuals blended into one. For us, sports haven't been just a pastime, they have been a chance for us to put out our best, to learn, to be with friends and to strive for success.

We've put our "alive in 1985" energy into hard work and meaning so we could definitely rise above the ordinary, so the Class of 1985 could be proud of its athletes.

Regrouping and Rebuilding Year

The 1984 Field Hockey team had a tough act to follow, because last year the Tide's Field Hockey team won the 1983 State Championship.

After losing all but three players to graduation, the team had to regroup and rebuild, despite the fine coaching of Mrs. Gray.

Though they missed making playoffs by one game, the team worked hard and improved throughout the season. The team's record was 4-7-3, but they put up many tough fights, and none of the field hockey powers took the Tide lightly.

The seniors on the team will remember their day in the sun in 1983 while the many returning players and underclassmen look to a successful season next year.

J.V. Overcome All But One

I think there is a lot to be said about this year's JV field hockey. This team had a lot of school spirit and really showed Spaulding what they could do.

The team worked together and worked hard and it all paid off. The team ended up with a record of 10-3-1.

Barbra Cochran, the coach of JV field hockey showed her winning spirit and style throughout the season; she always had a smile on her face!

There was a lot of talent on this team which consisted of two juniors, eleven sophomores and five freshmen.

I think this team is going to be very good in future years as Varsity and maybe bring the State Championship back to Spaulding.

Soccer Team Has Experimental Season!

The 1984 soccer team had an experimental season. This was the first year the S.H.S. Soccer team played in the Metro Division 1. Using aggressiveness and good skills, they produced a 6-8-1 record. They made it to playdowns; only losing to CVU in a game in which everyone played their best.

Also, this year Rob Kramer and Gordon Dunn were named to the Metro Division 1 All-Stars with John Thompson and Jeff Amsden as alternates. This year's seniors were: Gordon Dunn, Robbie Kramer, Chuck Galfetti, Jay Perantoni, Tom Couture, Mike Binaghi, Pete Harvey, Jeff Perkins. # New Coach For J.V.

The J.V. Soccer Team had a very interesting season, with their new coach John Triano. The team's record started out badly but they worked hard to improve it. Overall the record was 7-5-2. The captains this year were Gary Pletzer, Mark Garand, and Andrew Paterson.

The J.V.s were a hustling team with their game-saving defense and quick transitions to an explosive offense. Their enthusiasm, spirit, and record assures S.H.S. of another successful season for the kickers.

Spaulding Beats Montpelier Again

In some peoples' minds, this years varsity football season was a complete wash-out. To others it was more of an incentive builder for next year. With a record of 2-7-1, the scores of each game did not truly reflect the power and talent the squad possessed.

Continual second guessing by people made these young men even more determined to win. They wanted not just personal satisfaction, but also to be able to say "I told you so".

In spite of all the setbacks that were suffered, the season was not a total loss. The players matured and a good base for next years team was created. With close to twenty juniors and a host of sophomores returning for their final season, things look bright for next year. When they hit the gridiron be ready for a hardhitting and intense squad to emerge.

J.V. Football

The second year of J.V. football after a long time absence led the Spaulding football program with a 4 and 5 record. The hardhitting team comprised of mostly sophomores aided with some juniors won their first two games and lost the third game by a field goal with thirty seconds left in the game against St. Johnsbury. The team came right back up and won the fourth game they played and then tangled with four powerful division foes and were defeated by each. The season ended with the team crushing Montpelier by a score of 28-6. Strong protection was given from the line on both offense and defense which made the J.V.'s big plays possible.

The J.V.'s will send many good players to the Varsity team next year. The junior varsity coaches Steve Mears and Chip Keinath have a lot to be proud of and they truly deserve the best of luck next year.

Freshmen Win!

Below — Robert Larivee, pleased about the game.

Coming to Spaulding and joining the Freshmen Football team sounded like fun, but we had no idea what was in store for us. The practices were hard. There was a lot of running and the plays were difficult. At first, it was doubtful that there was going to be a freshmen football team, but then more players were recruited and a team was formed.

Though we didn't have a winning record, we love the sport and we did our best. We all owe our thanks to Coach Gibson and Coach Wilmott for their support and fine coaching. We look forward to wearing crimson and blue again next year.

Best Years Spent Cheering For S.H.S.

The Varsity cheerleaders had an exciting and fun-filled season this fall from "going crazy" on road trips to just getting together at Sheri's or Sandy's. They worked hard in practices in order to prepare for the games ahead, and most importantly, to prepare for "Homecoming."

Even though they didn't win every game, they were always ready and willing to cheer the soccer and football teams on rain or shine. They were proud to be cheering, and they always tried to give 100% even when a storm of "bad moods" hit.

The departing seniors, Sandy Brassard, Sandy Gillis, Vicki Fontana, Sheri Rouleau, Lynn Rouleau, and Barb Taylor, are really going to miss cheering next year but they will never forget the good times they had on the field, on the van, and at our all-time favorite pit-stop McDONALD'S. As co-captains Vicki Fontana and Sandy Gillis both agreed, "Some of our best memories of high school were spent cheering for Spaulding."

— Vicki Fontana

Cheering for J.V. soccer and J.V. & Freshmen football was a memorable experience. Although there were some very chilly days and not many spectators, we stuck out the games and cheered our teams on! Even when our teams were losing, we kept a positive attitude and gave the boys encouraging cheers.

"Cheering was lots of fun and the people seemed to appreciate what we did.", said Valerie Angelico.

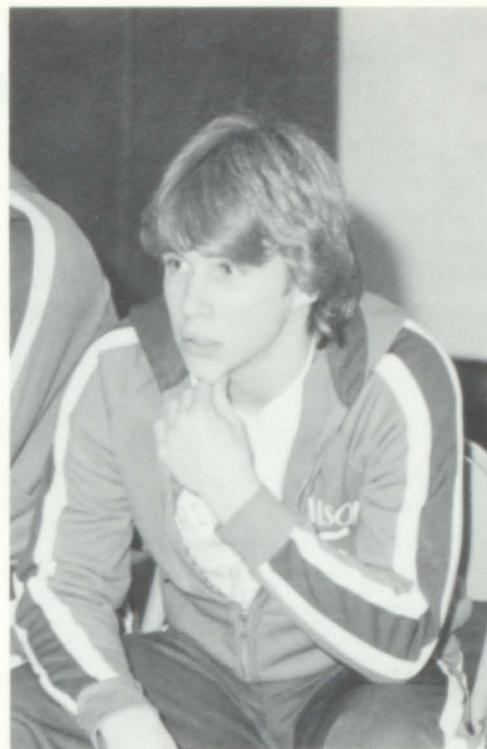

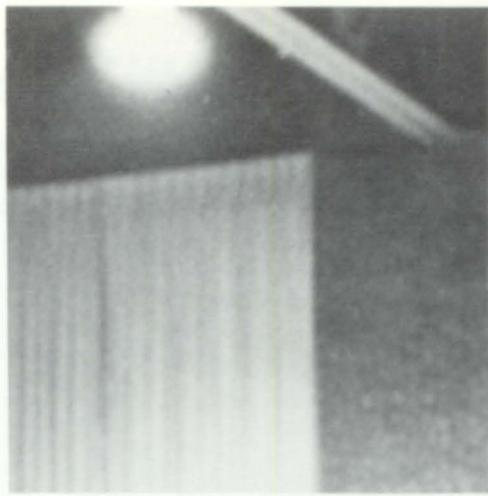

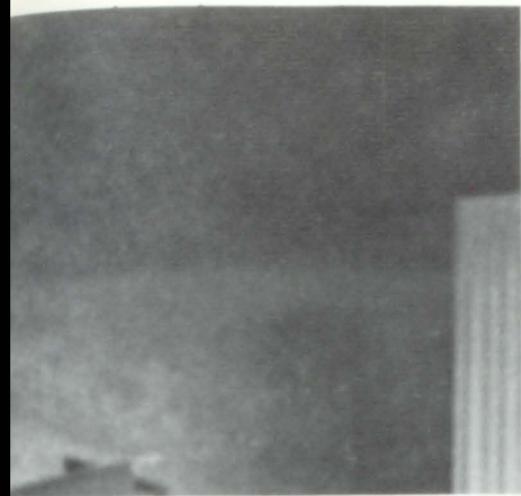

We, the J.V. Cheerleaders, received many rewards throughout the season, including flowers at the banquet, but the biggest reward was watching our players come off the field smiling about their victory.

Team Overcomes an Injury-plagued Season

The Spaulding Hockey Team, fighting through an injury-plagued season, is making the best of the unfortunate situation. Spaulding opened the season with a 3-1 loss to long time archrival BFA. The Tide bounced back by winning two Christmas Tournaments, one in Hanover, NH, and one in Waterville, ME.

The Tide is working hard hoping for a play-off berth-en-route to a state title. This is a championship the Tide hasn't won since 1980.

Spaulding's defense this year is young, but superb play of senior, Eric Fortin, has made up for their mistakes. With every game the defense is improving and gaining experience.

Future for hockey at Spaulding is looking bright. Ten players will return, some at every position. The graduating seniors wish them the best of luck!

Varsity Girls — Better Than Their Record Shows

The 1984-85 basketball season was a disappointing one for the three seniors; Kris Collins, Joan Longchamp and Lynn Mulhern. Closing their high school basketball careers without their longtime teammate, Patty Gagnon, was difficult.

Accepting a 4-11 record with four remaining games wasn't easy for any of the team members, especially since they knew, as the saying goes, "they're better than their record show."

The team was a young one, with seven strong juniors and two solid-playing sophomores; the future of girls' basketball looks bright.

The team shared many good times this year, like the "team get-together" at Jenny's, the "cheering-the-team-on" ability of a couple teammates and their "suggestions" that they even set foot on the court, for some the "Pizza Hut Incident" and the familiar and at times too-familiar sayings of "B g" and "P y!" The team will look back on the season with some fond memories.

Sophomore Veterans Lead Jayvees

Even though playoff hopes dimmed in the Varsity Girls' 84-85 season, there is light at the end of the tunnel. With the returning varsity experience and incoming J.V. talent, the team can't help but improve.

Led by a group of sophomore veterans, the J.V.'s had a very successful year. Under the guiding hand of coach Judy Abbiatti, the Tide went out high in a season of ups and downs. The team held their own against strong division I foes and easily defeated the smaller schools.

With the return of this year's freshmen and new talent coming in, the J.V.'s are assured a bright future.

Wrestlers Play the Psych Game

Glance quickly across the gym; don't let him see you look. We play our psych game, trying hard to act confident. I've practiced and conditioned; I pray for the discipline to justify everything in only minutes.

When this match is over, wrestling will either be the greatest sport or the worst. If I win, I earn team points and take a place in the tournament. If I lose, I earn a shower and take a place in the stands.

Now the P.A. calls the match. I take off the warm-ups and shake out nervous limbs. My eyes skip around; I see coaches, the official, and my opponent who is snapping on his head gear. He gets his encouragement; I get in the center of a mat, shake hands and start a six-minute war.

A Good Year For JV Wrestlers

The 1984-85 season for the Spaulding Tide JV Wrestling Team was a year of good fortunes.

The coach for this year, as always, was Mike Malconie. But unlike any other coach in Vermont State, he had the experience of two female wrestlers, (Leslie Ennis, Jessica Falkenberg). This unique blend of male and female wrestlers proved to be in the teams' favor as the team was placed third in all of its three tournaments.

Outstanding performances by all team members was shown.

At the end of this year, all team members will appreciate the long and difficult practices that the two outstanding coaches gave, for this year the team is one of the best in the state.

It's been an excellent year for this team and there is a great deal of Varsity potential.

At the beginning of the 1984-85 season, the Varsity basketball team agreed to dedicate their season to seven very special athletes. Those seven athletes are the seven seniors on last year's team who, after four years of hard work, finally made the playoffs but were involuntarily withdrawn from the tournament because of the meningitis outbreak.

After seeing the faces of those seniors when they were told they had played their last game of their career without realizing it, was enough to motivate anyone.

After just four games this year, senior Todd Gilwee underwent surgery to have a tumor removed from his right knee and was lost for the rest of the season. Losing Todd damaged our team emotionally, but built up our motivation for a state title even more.

If there was ever a team that could win it all for these eight people it was this year's club, which consisted of five seniors and seven juniors.

Despite some tough early-season losses to Burlington, Rice, and Essex, we came back strong and on the 12th game of the year we beat U-32 to qualify for the playoffs (8 wins). And this year we're going!

Basketball, like most sports, is played from heart and our team consists of 12 athletes who are willing to give all they've got every minute they're on the court. We may get out-scored in some games, but we never get out-hustled! With this we intend to fill some space on the Spaulding gymnasium walls with a state championship banner.

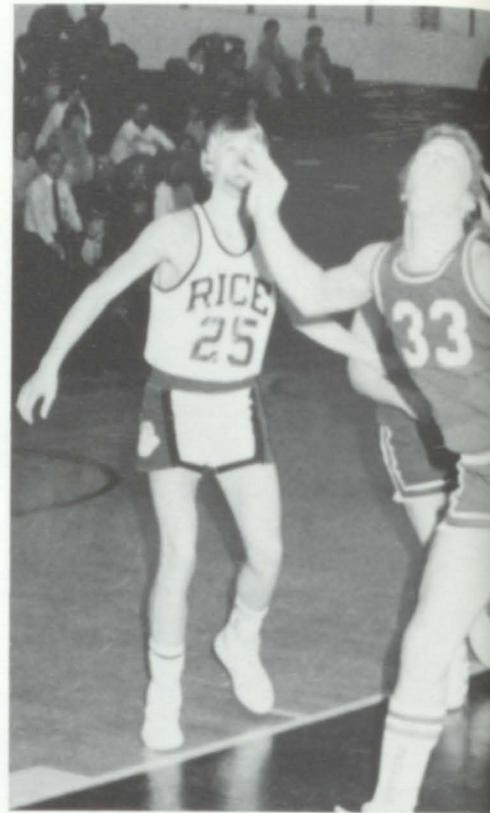

We, the 1984-85 Varsity Basketball Team dedicate our successful season to: Jim Scalabrini, John Gilwee, Jeff Tanguay, Kendall Turner, Mark Des-sureau, Wendell Barney, Chris Pecor, and our very own, Todd Gilwee.

After four victories in their first five games of the season, the Crimson Ripple suffered attitude problems as well as a series of poorly played games. But, under the leadership of Coach David Batchelder, the Junior Tide bounced back, proving that Coach Batchelder could do more than coach basketball and that the team could achieve the winning season that had been expected of them. The J.V. Tide thanks Coach Batch and looks forward to a fine Varsity season next year working with Coach Pinard, and his dominating future seniors.

A Season of Change

The 1984-85 Basketball Cheerleading season was a season of change. This was one of the few times in Spaulding's history when a male joined the usually all-female squad. Rob Donovan was that cheerleader. Basketball fans were both surprised and enthused by this change of pace.

Sandy Gillis and Vicki Fontana co-captained the team of ten girls and one guy. The team worked very hard together under the direction of Beth Thompson and Mary Jane Wobby. They competed in the Southern VT. District Cheerleading Competition. There, they placed second, received a trophy, and earned the right to compete in the VT State competition.

The J.V. Cheerleaders were very enthusiastic this year. The squad was composed of nine cheerleaders including an alternate.

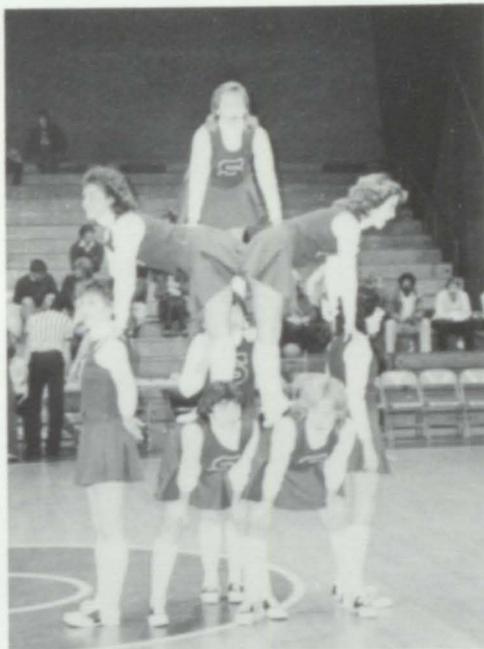

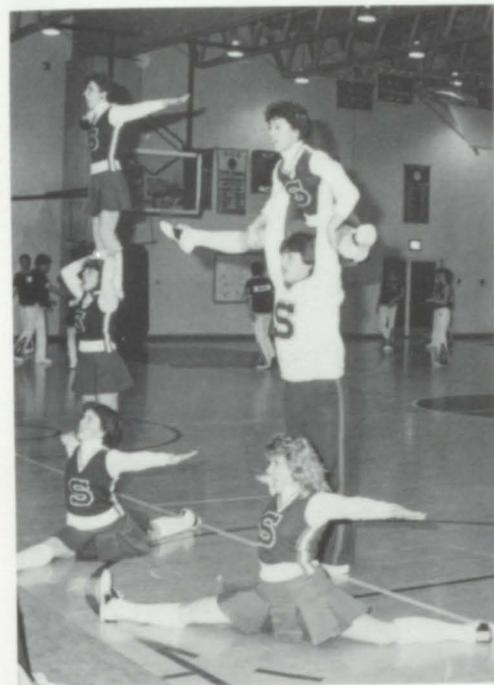

This year, cheerleading became more recognized as a sport with some set rules. Because of this, the squad was organized and performed well as a team.

We generated a lot of school spirit and got the crowd psyched up.

There were aches and pains at the beginning of the season, but we got past that point. Now we're all looking forward to cheering again next year.

Freshmen Cheerleading was a season of ups and downs. For many of us, this was our first time cheering. It was a good way to get to know others. We all had a lot of fun, but it was hard work.

Learning all the cheers and jumps was difficult. Once we got to know them, things progressed well and became more fun.

The winter season is long, but it seemed to fly right by. One winter down, but we still have three more to cheer!

Shooting Well as a Team is Most Important

Arriving at the range, the team unpacks the van. Each shooter carries his own equipment inside, and picks a point where he feels comfortable. I unpack my scope and rifle as the knots build up inside me. And my targets are hung downrange, and my things are all set, I slip on a couple of sweatshirts and a heavy leather jacket. Three minutes to shooting time.

Once in position, my body finally starts to relax. I breathe more slowly now, and my heartbeat has slowed to a minimum. Shooting time begins. Two hours later, we remove our equipment from the line, and proceed to the waiting room to check our scores. This is the time that separates the good shooters from the great. More important than shooting high scores, though, is the fact that we perform well as a team.

We Take The Step

Another chapter in our lives has been completed. We've finally reached our year: 1985, the year of Graduation. It's something that we've anticipated and reached for since we entered SHS. It seemed as if it'd never come . . . now that it's here we have second thoughts, we're not so confident about moving on. Our feelings are a mixture of fearful anticipation and a sadness which we can't quite explain. But we've reached that time as we walk through the gates of Pendo Field and to our last assembly we sway on the border of a comfortable past and uncertain future. We take the step.

"Gosh! Those Freshmen are shrimps!
Were we that small?!?"

All the Seniors have asked this question at one time or another. Yes, we were that small . . . in more ways than one. We all came to SHS as individuals; we were alone. We were acknowledged as being "the worst Freshmen class ever!"

We began to grow together. We became one. We are the SHS class of 1985. We thank those special teachers who took the time to know us, to help us, and to believe in us. SHS will always be a big part of our memories. We grew up here.

We appreciate our teachers and our classmates for making these last four years some of the best years of our lives.

1985 — the year we've all been looking forward to has arrived, too quickly for many of us. Soon we'll all be moving on to new lives complete with new hopes, dreams, and friends.

Looking back we find memories of good times, accomplishments, and friends that will last a life time. We've all enjoyed our time together and we can leave Spaulding knowing that we've succeeded in doing our best for ourselves and our school.

The senior class is extremely close. A common observation about it is that it is not out of the ordinary to see students, who had no previous association, become the closest of friends.

Our class is unique in that most everyone is equal and no one is hostile to one another.

The class of 1985 must be the closest class to pass through Spaulding High School.

In '81 our class appeared in the halls of SHS.
 The Senior class, of course, we feared
 But we seemed to pass the test.
 Our Sophomore year rolled around
 And things grew more familiar.
 We attended games and cheered the Tide
 To go and "Cream Montpelier!"
 Along the road came Junior year,
 Our class was growing strong
 Through all the good times we have had
 And "Against all Odds" at the Jr. Prom
 At long last came our Senior year
 And we were finally on top.
 The years we thought would never pass
 Were now about to stop.
 Even though the time has come for Eighty-Five to go
 We won't forget the fun we've had
 As we've watched each other grow.
 Our memories of Spaulding
 And the Mighty Crimson Tide
 Will always live inside our hearts
 And we'll always have "Tide Pride"!

OUR YEARS

We were two different classes,
Joining as one.
Thinking we're going to school,
To just have some fun.
It started out rough,
People said we were the worst class yet.
We had good kids and bad ones,
On that you can bet.
We were growing up,
And together too.
We were coming of age,
And we knew just what to do.
Times did change though,
From the good to the bad.
We had lost a classmate,
Which made us all sad.
We should remember the good things he did,
And the love he gave out.

Remember what he did with his life,
The good things we should talk about.
Even though we lost a friend,
Life goes on.
Remember his happiness,
And never forget that he's gone.
We made it through our sophomore year,
People said we had become more wise.
We asked Doc. What he thought about it?
He said 'It was no surprise'.
In our junior year,
People said the seniors had more pride,
But we won spirit week,
And we were on top of the tide.
We went on to our senior year,
It went by so fast.
I'll tell younger kids about high school,
To make the best of it while it lasts.
We'll graduate in the year of '85,
And we'll go our separate ways.
But we'll get together again,
One of these days.

Spirit . . . Pride . . . Determination Lead In '86

Our Junior Class is one of great spirit, great pride, and great determination. It is determination that has brought us from a loosely-knit freshman class to a closely-knit junior class.

We've done a lot of growing up since our freshman year and have assumed many responsibilities. We have driver's licenses, jobs, career goals, and college plans. One of the greatest responsibilities our class has taken on is representing this school whether it is in academics, athletics, drama, band, or other activities.

We are now upper classmen providing an example of unity and love for Spaulding High School. When asked what being a Junior represents, I would reply, "Being a Junior is . . . The Junior Prom, Powder-Puff, The Magazine Drive . . . holding the title of an Upper Classman."

The Class of 1986 is now ready to take over the leadership of being Seniors.

The theme of this year's Junior Prom was chosen to be "In the Air Tonight", by Phil Collins. A couple of changes have been planned also. The junior proms of the past all seem to look the same with basically the same type of decorating. Our class is really enthusiastic about making our Junior Prom special by using more elaborate decorations to help make it a dance to be remembered by everyone.

We have also come up with an idea to have not only a theme, but a class song too, which is "Tender Years". This is a song that is danced to by only the members of the class of 1986 and their dates. It is also a song that will stay with us throughout our Senior year. I feel that our class has worked hard to become close and I know we can work hard to make this a success.

— Mia Calevro

When we came to Spaulding we were the "itty bitty freshmen", low of low. It wasn't easy, but we made it through that first, tough year. We reached the sophomore year and were now being considered the "silly silly sophomores", the upper lower classmen. Things started to happen as our second year progressed. First came the rings. Everyone was excited about getting his ring. People started to talk about vocational courses and the future. College was now a topic to be pondered. The class of 1986 is now the "jolly jolly juniors" and we are proud of it. Glimpses of being an upper classman come to mind: the prom, being on varsity teams, holding important offices and getting geared for life after high school. The class of 1986 can't wait to become the "mighty mighty seniors"!

Enthusiastic And Involved Class Moves Forward

The sophomore class really came alive this year. We showed how much spirit we have when we tied for first place with the seniors in the hall decorating contest. A large number of people from our class showed up at the football games to cheer our team on.

We seem to have bridged the gap between St. Monica's, Barre Town, and Spaulding Graded, and have become one very spirited class.

As Jay Bartlett puts it, "Our class has come a long way from the first days of our freshmen year to become one united group. I am looking forward to what the future will bring us."

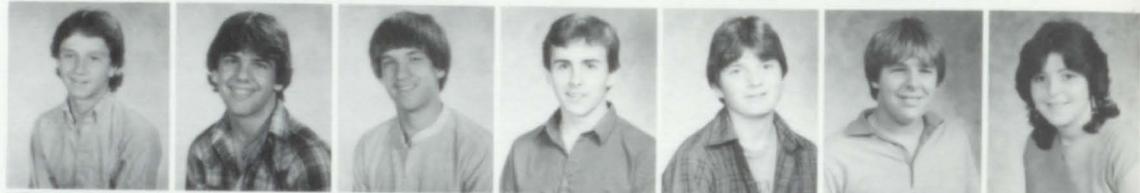

Abby Swan said, "I think our class is really enthusiastic and is involved in many sports. I'm sure these last three years at Spaulding will be fun and exciting."

Sophomore year is a very significant one. Not only have we elevated ourselves a notch from being nothing but a group of plebian Freshmen and therefore stopped being a blemish on the face of Spaulding High School society, but this is the year in which we are endowed with a very special treasure, our class rings. Although some Sophomores consider the rings a frivolous waste of hard-earned cash, many sophomores spare no expense to buy one. No matter how much you spend, the class rings will provide memories of high school for many years to come. Years from now, one may perhaps stumble across their old class ring when going through a box of junk in the attic, and laugh when recalling the carefree days of their sophomore, junior and senior years. To many, this is well worth the cost of the rings, because everybody knows that you can't put a price on memories.

Part of the Greatest Thing to Ever Hit Spaulding

We were a pretty responsible group. We knew what we had to do, and we did it. It didn't seem too hard, maybe a little scary, but after all it only lasted a year — one long year. Our assignment . . . to be the low-life freshmen. We handled the chore with the same dignity all classes before us have, but, we were part of something no other freshmen have had the privilege of; we were part of the greatest thing to ever hit Spaulding High School . . . The Class of 1988!!!

Colophon

The 1984 Our Echo is a publication of the Spaulding High School yearbook staff. Six-hundred-twenty-five 8½X11 copies were printed by Hunter Publishing Company, P.O. Box 5867, Winston-Salem, NC 27103.

The cover material is lexotone and was lithographed on a 120 point binder board. The cover design was done by Liz Martin. The copy is set in metrolite on 80 pound paper in black ink. Body copy is set in 8 and 10 point leaded, captions in 8 point leaded, and Index-Senior directory in 6 point. All headlines are 24 point.

All black and white photography was processed by Maclean-Stevens Studio, 3 North Spring Street, Concord, NH 03301.

Acknowledgements

The staff of 1985 would like to extend their appreciation to the following people that offered their assistance and guidance: Mr. William Morgan, Mr. Richard Walton, Miss Watson and her writing classes, Mr. Charles Welch and to Dr. Richard Wilgoren. Thanks are also extended to the faculty for their tolerance of interruptions of classes.

Special thanks to Mr. William Wade Perkins and Mr. Michael Gilbert, our advisor and business manager. Without their time and effort the 1985 Our Echo would not be what it is.

Our acknowledgements would not be complete without mentioning two sources of inspiration and support — Spence, our Hunter Representative and Squidhead, our fearless mascot.
